FIFTH REPORT.

ALL the actions of intelligent agents, under the moral government of God, are connected with RESPONSIBILITY. Besides our obligations to Him who will ultimately bring every work into judgment, there is a subordinate and reciprocal responsibility of intelligent agents to each other. The enlightened conscience of the Christian recognizes this principle, and when associated with others in enterprises of a public nature, he feels that there is a propriety in his being required publicly to account for his doings.

Such are the impressions under which the EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE of the AMERICAN HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY come to its FIFTH ANNIVERSARY. Here, too, as at the close of each of the preceding years, their duty, through the blessing of God, becomes a delightful privilege. Their satisfaction, indeed, surpasses that which they have felt on presenting their former reports, in proportion as the labours of the year have been more arduous, difficult, and embarrassed, and their results, in several most interesting particulars, MORE SUCCESSFUL. The Head of the Church has continued to bless the Society by signal manifestations of his favour. The lives of its Committee, its Agents, and its Missionaries, (with two exceptions,*) have all been preserved.† And our fellow labourers,

* Rev. John L. Howard, of the Theological Seminary, Auburn, N. Y., died on the day appointed for his ordination, and previous to setting out for his field of labour in Upper Canada; and Rev. John Alexander, of Peruville, Tompkins Co., N. Y., who fulfilled nine months of his commission.

† Thus our report was written, and adopted by the committee. But in the midst of life, we are in death. But yesterday the intelligence arrived, and this day the particulars have been put into my hands, of the decease of one of our own number, Mr. ARCHIBALD FALCONER, Recording Secretary of the Society, and from the beginning, a faithful, efficient and highly valued member of the Executive Committee. Having left this city for England in October last, for the improvement of his health, we have throughout the wide field of their dispersion, not only live to praise God, but the results of their ministry have been such as to indicate a degree of spiritual prosperity on the whole field of the Society's operations, highly encouraging to the friends of the cause for which we labor. The propriety and force of these remarks will be fully illustrated by the details embraced in the following

From the preceding details, it appears that the number of Missionaries and Agents employed by the Society, during the last year, is 463, and the number of congregations and missionary districts which have been aided in their support is 577. Of the missionaries and agents above enumerated, 299 were in commission at the commencement of the year. The remaining 164 have been new appointments during the year, making in all 463.

PROPORTION OF MISSIONARIES, &c. IN EACH STATE.

It is apparent, also, from the foregoing table, that the influence of the Society has been felt in 22 states and territories, and has been extended to the adjoining province of Upper Canada. The proportion of missionaries employed, and of congregations aided, in each state, has been graduated, as it ever must be, by the interest manifested by the people, to secure the blessings of a preached gospel, the character of their wants and prospects, as made known to the committee, and the choice of the missionaries themselves. Those states and territories, therefore, have been best served by the Society, whose correspondence has most clearly developed their necessities, and their disposition efficiently to co-operate with this Committee in supplying their own destitute. This will account for the comparatively large number of missionaries employed, and of congregations aided, in the states of New-York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan Territory. It is because the Auxiliary Societies in those states have furnished increased facilities to the operations of the parent Society, and greater inducements to ministers to enter upon their destitute fields ; as may be seen from the following

Showing the amount of income derived from each state, the number of congregations and missionary districts aided, the number of missionaries employed in each state within the last year, and the amount pledged in each for the year to come.

In addition to the considerations already named as determining the location of missionaries, and as securing to some states a larger proportion of appointments than to others, the following is worthy of notice. It has ever appeared to this committee an object of the first importance, as early as practicable, to occupy with an efficient ministry the new and rapidly increasing settlements on our western and southern frontiers. To this object, therefore, they have directed their special attention. But they have found this department of their great enterprise no less difficult than important. In such settlements generally, religious societies are unformed, and the people are not prepared to adopt any systematic measures, even to assist in the support of religious institutions. Often there are not so much as two or three who are sufficiently agreed to unite in soliciting a missionary to be sent. In all such cases, it is manifest that to wait for an application from the people, would be to withhold from them the blessings of the gospel. They feel not their need of these blessings, and of course will not ask for them. Yet their need is the greater, because of their insensibility, and the Committee have felt that to withhold appropriations from such settlements, would be to neglect one of the most interesting as well as important objects of the Society. They have accordingly used every endeavour to procure and direct to our frontier states and territories, men of suitable qualifications for the work to be done. Here again there are peculiar difficulties to be encountered. It is easy, indeed, to induce young men and others to take missionary tours to these remote settlements, and spend a few months, if they may then return to fields more white unto the harvest. The experience, however, of Missionary Societies and Boards of Missions before existing in this country, has evinced that such kind of service is comparatively of little use. This Committee, therefore, early established it as a rule, to send no missionaries to the frontier states and territories, who were not willing to express it as their sincere intention and settled purpose, (Providence favouring,) to remain and spend their lives on those fields. But we have thought it unreasonable to exact such a pledge from those who have the courage thus to take their lives in their hands, and meet the perils and privations, and identify themselves with the interests of new and remote settlements, without pledging, on the part of the Society, at least a competent support for the first year of the missionary's service. This indeed is the only method by which the preaching of the gospel can be permanently secured in those sections of the country which are the most destitute. It must be sent to them, or they will remain destitute; and in sending the gospel to such fields, the committee have found it necessary to commission their missionaries without regular applications from the people, and to assume their entire support, including such sums as they may derive from the fields on which they labour. No less than 34 of the missionaries named in this report, have been thus appointed. These in general have been the most expensive missions of the Society, while in some instances, the Missionary who was sent, unsolicited by any organized congregation, has not only been received with cordiality, but his support has been principally sustained by the people, and the Society relieved from the whole or a large portion of its pledge.

Excepting the above named 34 missionaries, and 5 others who have been employed as agents, the remaining 424 have been appointed on application from the churches or congregations where they labour, and the amount pledged in each case has been the least sum which the Committee have regarded sufficient to enable the applicant congregation to support and retain the minister of their choice.

EXTENT OF FIELDS AND AMOUNT OF LABOUR PERFORMED.

Of the whole number employed by the Society, 319 are settled as Pastors, or are statedly engaged in single congregations, 105 divide their labours, either as Pastors or stated supplies, between two or three congregations, and 39, including Agents, are employed on larger fields. Thus engaged, the 463 missionaries of the Society, within those portions of the year embraced in their commissions, have performed the full amount of ministerial labour, which would employ a succession of individuals 294 years.

ECONOMY IN EXPENDITURES, AND STATE OF THE TREASURY.

The above amount of service has been performed at an expense of $47,247.60—which has actually been paid out from the treasury within the year, including office rent, Secretary's salary, and all the incidental expenses of the Society. But whence have been derived the means of so large an expenditure? At the commencement of the year, the treasury was overdrawn $84.11, and during the first half of the year, the income of the Society was far less than its disbursements, so that, for several months in succession, the payments from the treasury were in advance of its receipts from $7,000 to $10,000, for which the Treasurer and other individuals of the Committee became personally responsible. Under the pressure of this exigency, it was seriously deliberated, whether we ought not to withhold further appropriations until we should be possessed of the means of more extended operations, without the necessity of increasing the personal responsibility of the Committee. The result was a unanimous decision that the uninterrupted advancement of this enterprise, is an object of too great importance to be hindered by the fear of ultimate pecuniary embarrassment, especially when the evidences of the favour of God, and the confidence of the christian public, were accumulating with the experience of every month. The work was, accordingly, in no degree arrested, but the operations of the Society were steadily increased, with an unshaken confidence, that the friends of the cause would not fail to meet its reasonable demands.

In the mean time, every effort was used to procure agents to engage permanently in the business of collecting funds for this object. In this, however, we failed to such a degree, that some large and able portions of the field, to whose liberality the Committee look with confidence, have not yet been visited by any Agent. The efforts of the Secretary, however, and other Agents who have been employed, have been successful, and have furnished increasing evidence that the appeals of this Society have lost none of their interest with the christian public. The treasury has accordingly been replenished. The receipts of the last year, as appears from the Treasurer's accounts, have exceeded those of the preceding year, $5,779.34, while the expenditures of the Society have increased $4,818.10, leaving in the Treasury, at the present time, $877.13. The committee are, however, under engagements to Missionaries and Agents now in the field, $36,785.00, which must be discharged within the coming twelve months.

In entering into these engagements, the Committee have been aware that, in the work of Missions, as in other departments of charitable effort, a Society known to have been formed for the purpose of aiding the destitute and the needy, is exposed to unworthy applications for its bounty. This fact presents a point of the greatest difficulty and delicacy in the bestowment of public charities. The Committee have accordingly endeavoured to guard, on the one hand, against an indiscriminate or a lavish expenditure of the Society's funds, and on the other, to avoid that degree of retrenchment in appropriations, which might disappoint the reasonable expectations of congregations asking assistance, and thus discourage, rather than aid them in their efforts to support the ordinances of the gospel. To attain these ends as perfectly as possible, each application has been carefully examined, and appointments have been delayed, until, by correspondence or otherwise, the Committee have become assured both of the wishes of the congregations, and of the regular standing, good reputation, and prospects of usefulness of the minister employed. Aid has then been granted, on application from the people, accompanied with suitable evidence that it was needed. It has accordingly been received with many expressions of gratitude from the churches and congregations assisted, and, in most cases, has been attended with the happiest effects, not only in sustaining the needy under present embarrassments, but in concentrating their own resources, and encouraging them to make more vigorous efforts to secure the blessings of a permanent ministry. This system has been pursued with a confidence, strengthened by the experience of every year, that it is happily adapted to accomplish the great end for which the Society was formed, and that it will permanently retain, as it has hitherto received, the approbation and patronage of the religious public. It is a system of encouragement, as well as of economy, and does not enervate, as is the case with charities indiscriminately bestowed, but strengthens and stimulates to renewed exertions the congregations aided, and has enabled them, in many instances, to return to the Society, within the year, some portion of the amounts appropriated. This has been the case with all those congregations named in the preceding table, as having "raised by Auxiliary Associations" a portion of the aid granted. Deducting, however, all that may thus be derived from the fields to which appropriations have been made, a large proportion of the amount pledged by the committee, will still remain to be raised from the more favoured of the religious public, who are able to spare, from their abundance, portions for the poor. On these the Society has principally depended hitherto for the means of prosecuting, with effect, its noble enterprise :

and that this is not a vain dependence, for the future, may be inferred from a brief survey of the following

SOURCES OF INCOME.

Donations from individuals have been received from almost every part of the country, and have been transmitted, both anonymously and otherwise, accompanied with such expressions of interest in the object of the Society, as evince that it is remembered in the closets of the pious, as well as in the assemblies of the saints. These encouraging indications of a widely extended interest and confidence in the operations of the Society, have been multiplied during the last year, and have been furnished in almost every amount, from the little child's contribution to the box of charity, to the donation of $2,000. Many Pastors and Churches, also, have testified their estimation of the privilege of bearing a part in this work of love, by collections taken up particularly at the Monthly Concert for Prayer, and on the day of annual Thanksgiving. In addition to the above, the Society has derived very seasonable aid, within the year, from the payment of several small bequests, and especially from the

LEGACY OF THE LATE WARREN RICHARDSON.

This gentleman died in the summer of 1829, in Andover, Massachusetts, where he had resided a number of years, and by active industry had accumulated an estate of more than $20,000. He was not a professor of religion, and it was not until a short time previous to his death, that his attention was providentially directed to the benevolent enterprises of the church, and in the near prospect of eternity, he bequeathed more than half of his estate to several Institutions of religious charity. The bequest to the A. H. M. Society, was a residuum of uncertain amount; and his widow, Mrs. LUCRETIA RICHARDSON, with a sacred regard to the intention of the deceased, and with a cordiality in the object which entitles her to the gratitude of its friends, has furnished the Society with every facility to become possessed of the amount. She has accordingly already paid into the treasury the sum of $5,100, and a small sum, we understand, remains yet to be collected. The reception of this legacy, as a relief from the embarrassment which must otherwise have been experienced, has been regarded by the Committee as a peculiarly timely interposition of Divine Providence. It will, doubtless, be recognized in Heaven, as among the means which have caused thousands to rejoice evermore; and it seems but right that we should distinctly recognize it in this report. While, however, the Committee acknowledge, with gratitude, the foregoing items, it still remains to be stated, that the largest amount received from any one of the general sources of the Society's income, has been derived from

AUXILIARY SOCIETIES AND ASSOCIATIONS.

These have increased, during the year, from 273 to 385. The following have contributed the largest amounts to the Parent Society, viz. :

The Western Agency in the state of New-York,	. . .	$5,721 40
The Central Agency,	do. do. . . .	2,998 91

The Bleecker-st. Church Male Association,	583 00

Several of the above Auxiliaries, on account of their efficiency, and the extent of their operations, deserve an additional notice in this place, viz. :—

The WESTERN AGENCY, in the State of New-York, remains yet unrivalled in efficiency among the Agencies and Auxiliaries of the Society. It embraces, as its field, the 17 western counties in this state, with a population of more than half a million, on which more than 120 congregations have, in succession, been sustained by this Society, 72 of which have received aid, within the last year, in the support of 58 ministers. These, together with the Secretary of the Agency, constitute an aggregate of 59 labourers, on that field, in the employment of the Society. And their labours have not been in vain. "Ours," says the Secretary, in his annual report, "have been the consolations of the man, who, having gone forth weeping, bearing precious seed, comes again rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him." Seven of the congregations aided are named as having shared richly in the revivals which have prevailed in the western part of this state, in each of which there have been reported from 75 to 100 hopeful conversions, while others have been gladdened with gentle showers of grace. Much advancement has been given to the cause of truth within the bounds of the Agency, while the surplus of its collections above the amount expended on that field, has aided the Society in thrusting forth other labourers into other portions of the harvest. [See Appendix.]

The CENTRAL AGENCY in the State of New-York. The present may be considered as the First Annual Report of this Agency, which was appointed in October, 1829, on the same plan of the "Western Agency" above named, but was not fully organized and in operation, until a few months previous to May, 1830. Since that time, besides discharging a considerable amount of the debts and pledges of the "Western Domestic Missionary Society," whose responsibilities it assumed, it has aided in the support of 38 missionaries in those counties of this State, which lie within or contiguous to the Synod of Utica, which is the centre of its operations. Ten of the congregations aided on this field, are reported as having enjoyed special revivals of religion, and in general the labours of the missionaries have been crowned with more than ordinary success.

Notwithstanding the embarrassment occasioned to this Agency, by the removal of its Secretary, the Rev. R. Cushman, in October last, to another field of labour, and the necessary delay in procuring a successor, its payments to the treasury of the Society, within the year, have amounted to $2,998.91, while its present organization and activity, are such as afford the most encouraging promise of extended and permanent efficiency. [See Appendix.]

The MAINE MISSIONARY SOCIETY has continued its operations with increased energy and success, and though the receipts into its treasury have been less than the amount reported the previous year, this is to be attributed rather to the want of agents for the collection of funds, than to any diminution of interest or zeal among the friends of the cause in that state. The number of its Missionaries appointed under commissions from the Parent Society has increased during the year from 38 to 47, in addition to which this Committee, by the appropriation of funds pledged by the Massachusetts Missionary Society, have aided in the support of 8 Missionaries on the same field, making, in all, 55. The Corresponding Secretary, Rev. Dr. Gillett, under date of April 25, 1831, remarks, in general, that there are various charitable and religious societies, in every township where we have Missionaries, and several converts in many of the societies, as well as revivals in others." On the whole, the advancement of this Society, as an auxiliary, has been as rapid and encouraging, as its best friends had any reason to expect, and we trust the time is not far distant, when, its zeal having provoked very many, it will itself become an efficient helper to the Parent Society, in aiding the needy and supplying the destitute on the opposite and far distant frontiers of the west and south.

The VERMONT DOMESTIC MISSIONARY SOCIETY, including the Windsor County Association, has aided, during the last year, in the support of 28 Missionaries in that state, whose labours appear to have been attended with usual success, while several of the congregations aided, have been blessed with revivals of religion. The expenditures of this Society have exceeded its receipts during the last year, which is accounted for by the fact, that no Agents have been employed in that state for the collection of funds for the last two years. Its Directors, however, manifest a zeal and an enterprise which furnish the strongest ground of confidence, that, in the language of their last report, they will do as they have done, and CONTINUE to do so; while the occasion lasts; and that by increasing their exertions, they will be able hereafter, through the Parent Society, to extend their influence much beyond the bounds of their own state.

The NEW-HAMPSHIRE MISSIONARY SOCIETY has continued its co-operation with this Committee, and has granted aid to 31 missionaries in that state, under commissions from the Parent Society. But as we have not received the regular annual returns from the Secretary, we are unable to add any further particulars in this place. [See extract from the last Report of that Society, in the Appendix.]

THE DOMESTIC MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF CONNECTICUT.

This Society has come into active co-operation with the A. H. M. S. since our last anniversary, and has conformed to the stipulations recommended to the adoption of Auxiliary Societies. It has not been practicable, however, for it to become formally auxiliary, on account of a condition in its constitution, which renders it necessary to delay such a measure until its next anniversary, when it is proposed to consummate its connexion under the name of the "CONNECTICUT MISSIONARY SOCIETY, AUXILIARY TO THE A. H. M. S." In the mean time, it conducts its operations as an auxiliary, and has already pledged aid in the support of 22 Missionaries and Agents, under commissions furnished by the A. H. M. S. The receipts into its treasury, from June 18, 1830, to April 1, 1831, have been $2,276. 77, and its payments to the Parent Society, under the above stipulations, have been $308 98. Its operations under the present arrangement, have been highly successful, and furnish the most animating encouragement, that, hereafter, in addition to furnishing all needed aid to the feeble congregations in that state, it will be an efficient auxiliary of the A. H. M. S. in sustaining its great enterprise in behalf of the west and south. As it proposes, in this way, to enter, in some measure, into the labours of the old "Connecticut Missionary Society," and to be conducted by the same Board of Directors, it is confidently believed that it will more than equal the usefulness, and sustain the reputation of that venerable institution, whose praise is in all the churches.

The SABBATH SCHOLARS' MISSIONARY ASSOCIATION of the Sabbath Schools connected with the Cedar-street Presbyterian church, New-York, both on account of its peculiarity and its efficiency, continues to be one of the most interesting of the Auxiliaries of the Parent Society. It has paid into the Treasury of the Society, during the last year, the sum of $600, and stands pledged for the entire amount of aid granted by this committee, to five Missionaries in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, and Michigan Territory. Its Fourth Annual Report, recently published, indicates a comprehensiveness of design, a maturity of plan, and a system in execution, which would do honour to any association for benevolent purposes, while it evinces, in a most pleasing manner, that the great national object of the Parent Society has already made a lodgement in the hearts of the children of that congregation, both male and female, from which it will not be easily displaced. But the benefits of this youthful association have not been confined to the direct results of the aid which it has furnished to the Parent Society. The Sabbath Scholars in other congregations in this city have been stimulated by their example to form similar associations, and thus an influence has been commenced, which, we trust, will extend until many youthful hearts and hands will be warmly and actively engaged in this and other enterprises of benevolence.

The WESTERN RESERVE DOMESTIC MISSIONARY SOCIETY, embraces, as its field, the northern part of Ohio, and the whole of Michigan Territory, and is co-extensive with the Western Reserve Synod. This auxiliary has come into full and systematic co-operation with the Parent Society within the last year. Since October last, it has assumed the support of six Missionaries under commissions furnished by this Committee. Our Agent on that field, who is also Secretary of the Society, has been actively engaged during the year, in visiting the congregations, encouraging the feeble to make more vigorous efforts to sustain the institutions of the gospel among themselves, and soliciting contributions. The actual receipts of the Society have been small, but the Agent reports that the present prospect from subscriptions made and pledges given, may be considered equivalent to a security for $2,000 within the present year, and that though the cause is yet in its infancy, there are indications of its soon becoming one of prominent interest among the churches on the Reserve.

THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF AGENCY FOR HOME MISSIONS IN THE WESTERN STATES, ESTABLISHED IN CINCINNATI, OHIO.

This Agency was named in our last Annual Report, as having been appointed, but its operations suspended, for the purpose of securing the concurrence of the Board of Missions of the General Assembly in the same or some other appointments, to conduct unitedly the operations of that Board and of this Society, in the Western States. We then expressed the hope that, in course of the coming three months, the above organization would be perfected and in full operation, affording a facility for prosecuting the work of Home Missions beyond the mountains never before enjoyed. The Committee, however, have not been able to effect the proposed arrangement, and, owing to the delay occasioned by the correspondence in relation to it, the Central Committee of Agency was not fully organized until late in the autumn, when our Agent, the Rev. R. Cushman, who is also Secretary of the above Committee, entered upon his labours on that field, and has since pursued them with great industry and encouraging success. That Committee has not yet assumed the responsibility of supporting any particular Missionaries, having hitherto made all its appropriations through the Executive Committee of the Society, while the attention and labours of the Agent have been chiefly directed to the formation of Auxiliary Societies and raising funds. The amount of subscriptions and cash received, as reported up to the 1st of April, 1831, was $1,658 12, and other arrangements have been made with Committees of Correspondence and Auxiliary Societies on that field, which indicate a state of preparation for future and extended operations, highly creditable to the enterprise and enlarged views of the Central Committee.

“The experience of every day,” says the Secretary, in his Report, “convinces us more deeply of the amazing responsibility under which we now act. Never have we felt so sensibly the necessity of high attainments in knowledge, in wisdom, and in holiness, as since engaged in giving some direction and efficiency to the A. H. M. S. in the great valley of the west. We would not take a step in this enterprise without leaning on the kind arm of our Divine Redeemer." And again, "we have been much gratified and encouraged by the zealous co-operation of many churches and individuals on this field. So far as we can judge, there is an increasing attachment to the principles of the A. H. M. S. The more it is known, the more it is approved. The operations of the Society evince that it is just what it professes to be, the SERVANT OF THE CHURCHES. The divine favour has hitherto attended its movements, and we are well persuaded that it is one branch of the great system of benevolence, which is to fill the world with the riches of redeeming grace." [See Appendix.]

Such are the subsidiary organizations which have hitherto afforded the most efficient aid to the Society in its extended operations. To these we might add, if our limits would admit, a special notice, equally interesting, of each of those auxiliaries of a less imposing character, but whose contributions, in many instances, have been more bountiful in proportion to their means, and equally indispensable to the success of the great enterprise to be accomplished. Such are many of the Church and Sessional Associations, whose payments to the Society, within the last year, have varied from $10 to nearly $2,000, as God has prospered them. These, and other organizations, which may yet be formed, varied as the different sections of the church may choose, but all moved by one spirit, a spirit that will not rest nor be weary until the world is converted, constitute the sources of income, on which the Society may hereafter depend, with a confidence unwavering as the faith of a martyr, not only for the redemption of its present pledges, but for the means of enlarging its operations, until it shall have filled the land with blessings, and prepared its immortal millions to be the instruments of eternal blessedness to the nations.

But if any portion of the christian public need yet another argument to convince them that the AMERICAN HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY is an instrument chosen of God for the building up of his church, let them review, with us, the following

RESULTS OF ITS OPERATIONS.

Under this head, the Committee are aware that they have to do with subjects in relation to which all the estimates and conclusions of finite intelligences are of necessity inadequate. We have not even the means of determining with accuracy what are the present results, and much less are we competent to decide what will be the future consequences of moral causes now operating on so large a scale. In relation to these results, there are many "secret things," of eternal moment, which "belong unto the Lord our God," and which are reserved to be revealed hereafter. There remain, however, upon the face of his Providence, some visible effects of his blessing upon the instruments of his choosing, which "belong unto us, and to our children," that the friends of the cause may be encouraged in the work which he has given them to do. These it is our privilege to report.

The conversion of souls, as it is the single ultimate object of the Society, deserves the first place in this review. But here it is not possible to speak with perfect accuracy. It appears, from a careful perusal of the reports of the Missionaries, that there have been added to the churches aided, within the last year, 3491 souls, 2532 of whom have been received on profession of their faith, and have been admitted, for the first time, to the communion of the church. It should be borne in mind, however, that the reports of the Missionaries are imperfect. Making a suitable allowance, therefore, for defects in these reports, there cannot be estimated less than 2,800 new additions to the church, under the labours of our Missionaries, while the number of hopeful conversions is, doubtless, larger than the above. These, in many instances, have been the gradual ingathering of those who have been permitted, as yet, to reap only sparingly, while others have been the bountiful results of the ministry of those, whose labours God has blessed with the special influences of his Spirit, and have been gathered in companies of tens, and fifties, and hundreds. Fifty-three of the congregations aided have been reported as blessed with special revivals of religion, from which from 20 to 130 souls have been added to the church, and some of which are still in delightful progress. Thus, while the more wealthy churches in many of our cities and principal towns have been the subjects of blessings surpassing all that the grace of God had bestowed in former years, and while he who sitteth in the heavens has been raining down right-ousness upon most of our colleges, and has thus purified and enlarged the sources of the Society's dependence, the same grace has been richly enjoyed by many of the congregations which have shared in its bounty. Twice blessed have been those charities which have been derived from such sources, and been directed to such results.

SABBATH SCHOOLS, BIBLE CLASSES, AND BENEVOLENT INSTITUTIONS.

In other ages, the few souls that were converted, were accustomed to remain comparatively idle, in respect to external action, because no man had hired them. The wants and claims of the world were but little known, and there existed none of those associations which now make their appeal to all hearts, and invite to benevolent effort every man that cometh to the light. But now the relations of the church to a world lying in wickedness, are better understood, and wherever ministers preach the gospel, we are accustomed to look for other influences besides the conversion of souls. The hearts of parents are turned to their children, and the sympathies of the rich and the intelligent are kindled up on behalf of the poor and the ignorant, and wherever revivals are enjoyed, both the Pastor and his flock feel that they are blessed that they may become blessings to others. Hence have arisen in our day the system of Sabbath School and Bible Class instruction, with which the youth of our congregations are so generally favoured; and hence have been originated those other methods of doing good, through which the benign influences of our churches are extended to the destitute, and scattered to the ends of the earth. And even the poor, when their hearts are touched with the love of God, do not ask to be excused from taking part in these enterprises of benevolence. We do but report, therefore, what the friends of the Society are prepared to hear, when we announce that its 463 Missionaries have reported, as under their instruction, during the year, more than 200 Bible Classes, embracing not less than 5000 members, and that there have been sustained, in the congregations aided, not less than 500 Sabbath Schools, with not less than 20,000 pupils. Yet these are glorious results, and full of the most interesting promise to the churches where they exist. They constitute so many little centres of religious influence, which will be felt upon other generations. They invite the influences of the Spirit of God, and thus, in many of them, revivals of religion have had their commencement, in which not a few, both of the teachers and the taught, have been savingly benefited, and hundreds of the careless reclaimed and saved.

In the promotion of Sabbath Schools, our missionaries generally have been much encouraged by the resolution of the American Sunday School Union, to supply the valley of the Mississippi with Sabbath School instruction, within two years. It is known to the public, that this Committee early pledged its endeavours, through the Missionaries of the Society, to establish at least one thousand of the schools required to accomplish this noble resolution. But as the Missionaries have been instructed to report, on this subject, directly to the A. S. S. Union, it is not in our power, at this time, to report the progress which has been made in this specific work, though we are assured that their efforts generally, so far as they find it consistent with the claims of the people to whom they minister, are zealously directed to its accomplishment.

The Missionaries, also, as advised in their commissions, have, as far as we know, without exception, endeavoured to promote, by every practicable measure, the cause of the Bible, of Religious Tracts, of Education, of Foreign Missions, and of Temperance, among the people and congregations where they labour. In many instances, these efforts have been attended with the happiest results. Enough has been communicated on these subjects, in the reports of the Missionaries, to make it apparent, that, if it were practicable to ascertain the whole amount which has been gleaned, in aid of these objects, from the 577 congregations assisted, the result would both surprise and encourage the christian philanthropist, while the universal observance of the Monthly Concert of Prayer, indicates that there are a few, at least, in all our congregations, whose prayers and alms have gone up together before God.

It remains only that we present the following

TABULAR VIEW

Of the results of the last year, in several particulars, compared with those of the preceding years.

Having thus presented the most important details, and results of the doings of the Society, during another year, the Committee are unwilling to close this Report, without a public expression of their gratitude to Almighty God, for the signal blessings with which he has crowned its efforts. The Society has now been in operation five years. In that time, besides all the other indirect and accompanying influences which it has exerted, it has granted essential aid in support of 997 years of ministerial labour, in congregations which otherwise must have been deprived, in whole or in part, of the blessings of a preached gospel:—has reported, each year, from 10,000 to 20,000 children instructed in Sabbath Schools, and from 2,000 to 5,000 of the young and others instructed in Bible Classes. In the same time, its Missionaries have reported not less than 7,700 souls added to the churches aided, and more than that number of hopeful conversions under their ministry. Who can contemplate these results without feeling deeply convinced that God has been with us of a truth? These are the Lord's doings, and marvellous in our eyes. They surpass all that the most sanguine of the friends of the Society had anticipated. To him be all the glory.

But these definite results are but parts of the blessings which he has bestowed, and are to be viewed rather as indications of what may hereafter be accomplished, than as a fulfilment of the divine purposes in relation to the cause in which we are engaged. There remaineth yet much land to be possessed, and the present preparations of the Society for future and extended efforts, in the number and efficiency of its Auxiliaries, and in the constantly increasing evidences of the confidence and co-operation of a large portion of the christian public, indicate that the Lord of the harvest is about to do greater things than these, to the glory of God by us. The work is now better understood than ever before. The principles of the Society, and their adaptation to the genius of christianity, have been more thoroughly tested. Never did the Committee feel that they stood at the focus of so many rays of light, as at the present moment. Never, at the commencement of any previous year, was there presented so great a work to be done, as invites the efforts of this Society, for the year to come; and never were they surrounded with so many encouragements to do it. Difficulties, it is true, are to be encountered, obstacles are to be overcome. If it were not so, we should have no need of the whole armour of God, in pushing on to its accomplishment this work of love. But since it is so, the friends of the cause have need to keep near to the throne of him in whom is all their strength; and while the wide spreading wants of the needy, on the one hand, are beseeching us, and the manifest tokens of the divine favour, on the other, are urging us to new and increased exertions, no friend of God, no friend of man, should fear to assume his full share of the responsibilities of this high and holy enterprise, in humble dependence on the grace of Him to whom belong the kingdoms of the world.

EXTRACTS FROM THE FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT.

The section of our country, which it is our privilege to occupy in behalf of the H. M. cause, has from its first settlement, been one of unusual interest. Occupied principally by the sons of the pilgrims; lying on the great thoroughfare of intercourse and business between the East and the West; possessing every advantage for the pursuits of agriculture and commerce; increasing rapidly in all the results of that industry and enterprise, for which it is proverbial; and signalized, of late, by the Spirit of God, as a theatre of his redeeming influences; it has claims to the regard of the philanthropist and christian which are of no common character.

Only about forty years have elapsed, since the first christian settlements were made on this ground, now containing a population of more than half a million of souls. Sixteen years ago, but one Presbytery had been formed within these limits, (some congregations belonging to another, lying within their Eastern border,) embracing about forty churches, and thirty ministers of the Gospel. There are now on this ground, nine Presbyteries, and one Consociation, numbering not less than one hundred and fifty ministers of the gospel, and having two hundred and twenty-five congregations, or upwards, under their care. More than one half of these congregations, including those at the largest centres of population and influence, either have pastors installed over them, or are statedly supplied with the word and ordinances of Christ's house,—one half of the remainder have the labours of a clergyman, for half of the time each, while the residue, in our more recently settled, and feebler districts, are less frequently blessed with the feet of him, who publishes the tidings of grace.

There is yet room for the planting of more congregations on this field. As, its borders are becoming more densely peopled every year, and as many from the folds of christian instruction are crowding out upon it, we may safely calculate, that within five years, forty or fifty more churches will be located within the limits assigned to this agency.

Of the congregations already supplied, in whole or in part, more than one hundred and twenty have, in succession, been sustained by the A. H. M. S.; seventy-two of which have this year derived aid from its funds. Our number of missionaries has this year been fifty-eight, making, together with the Secretary of this Board, fifty-nine labourers on this field.

The aggregate of the Missionary expenditures, within our bounds, (so far as from a careful estimate, they should be included in a Report of the year ending May 1st, 1831,) is somewhat rising of $5000; but to assist in balancing the appropriations of the year, $500 have been raised, or pledged, in behalf of our funds by Auxiliary Associations, or otherwise, at the stations occupied by our Missionaries.

The receipts of the year have been $5721 40. This amount, besides providing for the expenses which have accrued on the field, will, we trust, furnish some help for the more destitute in the regions beyond us.

This sum has been derived, as heretofore, from Auxiliary Associations, both Male and Female,—from the annual public collections on the Sabbath, or the state Thanksgiving days, at the monthly concert for prayer, and from individual donations. The last has been a most efficient source of income. The church has friends within this agency, who are resolved, that the cause of Home Missions shall not languish by reason of a deficiency of the silver and the gold, that may be requisite to sustain it; and their number is increasing from year to year, as our work moves on, and its results are progressively unfolded.

The largest individual donation to our treasury, the present year has been $1000. One individual appropriates to this department of benevolent efforts $250. Several others sustain each one missionary. Two individuals in one of our farming congregations, besides associating with eight others in sustaining a missionary, contribute $100, for the support of another labourer in the valley of the Mississippi, who shall devote himself more especially to the cause of Sabbath schools. Several of our auxiliary associations sustain each one missionary. This may be said in commendation of the Ladies' Auxiliaries of Auburn, Rochester and Buffalo—of the young Ladies Auxiliary of Rochester, and of the young people's Auxiliary of Geneva. Some congregations have assumed the expense of supporting one Missionary each, and forwarded the requisite sums, and it is a fact worthy of record, that more funds have accrued to our treasury this year, without the personal application of an Agent, than at any previous period.*

The Missionary work, with us, has this year been clothed with unusual interest. Ours have been the consolations of that man, who, when he has "gone forth weeping, bearing precious seed, cometh again rejoicing, bringing the sheaves with him." The present has become the year of Jubilee to the churches in this region. Christians here, have never seen such a time before. The Heavens have dropped down in mercy upon us, and salvation, like a river, has flowed through our streets. More than fifty congregations within this agency, have been visited with seasons of special refreshing from the presence of God, gathering sinners in great numbers to the fold of Christ. Our most important villages, and centres of strength and influence, have been distinguished in the descent of the Divine Spirit, the cloud of mercy has dispersed its blessings, in grateful measures, on various portions of this vineyard, widely remote from each other.

Enterprise, talent, wealth, and influence, have been sanctified, and truth has gained rapidly on the empire of sin and error. It is safe to conclude that from four to five thousand souls, have been added to the "number of the believers" from within the field under review, since the commencement of the revivals in September last. Nor is the work yet stayed. Every hour's intelligence furnishes proof of the advancing movements of the Spirit of God, and justifies the confident expectation of his people, that the "day-spring from on high" is to be on all our border, and give new life and strength to all the churches.

In this dispensation of the spirit, our beneficiary congregations have extensively shared, and it has been to them like "the former and the latter rain." In several of them, the face of society is altogether changed; the cause of the Redeemer has been delivered from the persecutions of a spirit of prevailing impenitence and irreligion; and Zion has been obliged to enlarge the border of her tent, saying, "the place is too strait for me, give place that I may dwell."

Among the congregations the most distinguished, as the seat of the Spirit's influences, are Castleton, in Ontario Co.; Marion, in Wayne Co.; North-Penfield, in Monroe Co.; Bergen and Leroy, (Congregational Society,) in Genessee Co.; Evans, in Erie Co.; Ripley, in Chautauque Co.; and Richford, in the County of Tioga. The average number of conversions to Christ in each of these congregations, is, in the judgment of our missionaries, from seventy-five to one hundred.

Other congregations have been gladdened with gentle showers of grace. Several others are now, exhibiting the presages of a special work in them, while the great body of those, to whom the bounty of the society has extended, have been confirmed in the faith and fellowship of the gospel.

The work of Home Missions is closely associated with every other department of christian effort. Our Missionaries, as charged in their instructions, had done much to help on the cause of benevolence around them. They have been efficient instruments in circulating the Bible; and the christian Tract in advancing the interests of Sabbath schools, and of Temperance, and the sanctification of the Sabbath day; and in stirring up the infant churches, for whom they have laboured, to a benevolent sympathy in behalf of the nations that sit in darkness, and the shadow of death.

Several houses for public worship have been erected this year at the stations occupied by this Board, and several more are under contract, and will be built the present season.

It is evident from a review of the operations of the year, that much advancement has been given to the cause of truth among us, and that the work of domestic missions has approached nearer to its accomplishment within this Agency. Still there remains even here much land to be possessed, to the occupation of which the friends of Christ should now hasten with redoubled energy, and a quickened step. The Spirit of God is leading our way, and crowning our exertions with unexampled success. This day of revivals, urges the necessity of our work, while it multiplies our facilities for its accomplishment. Christian converts from the enclosures of Zion, are thrusting themselves out upon the waste places, and from thence in their extremity, are calling for help; and we are looking with an intense solicitude to the labours and results of the year now to commence. Darkness is fleeing upon the outposts,—new fields of toil and encouragement are opening in rapid succession before us; many of which of inviting promise we hope soon to see supplied with a preached gospel. Let there be union of counsel, and an efficient and systematic charity in the work, and it need not be long before this entire border shall be brought under the influences of the preached gospel, and become as the garden of the Lord.

The harvest is ready for the reaper's hand. The aspects of providence encourage every friend of the missionary cause to minister help now. Opposition, more than ever, is powerless before the march of truth. "The Spirit says come." Nor can we anticipate permanent results for Christ, without the administration of gospel truth, nor must we, when the power to help is in our hands, let there be "a famine of the hearing of the word of the Lord," in such a day as this.

We are sensible, too, that the time has come for the churches within this Agency to look beyond their own wants. We lie in the vicinity of the great western valley, and in the channel of communication to it. We are associated with it, by every law of relationship and love. We would embrace, then, in the arms of a common fellowship, the aggregate wants of our country, and in the might of Him with whom is the residue of the spirit, would we thrust out labourers upon the yet extended devastations of Zion; that the word of Christ may have free course, and be glorified, and that our whole land may become Emmanuel's—"a mountain of holiness, and a habitation of righteousness."

[FROM THE ANNUAL REPORT.]

The operations of this Board were commenced under auspices, in some respects, embarrassing. The prudent and well timed efforts of Rev. Mr. Cushman, the former Agent, were very successful in removing obstructions to its usefulness. Although we have not to report the achievement of all we could wish, yet, when all the circumstances are reviewed, we have ample occasion to praise God for what has been accomplished. A foundation for future usefulness has been laid. With the benediction of Him who has engraven Zion on the palms of his hands, we look forward confidently to happy and most salutary results.

The period which this Report must cover, stretches back to the establishment of this Agency,—embracing an interval of about 15 months.

[A schedule was here subjoined, embracing the names of 38 missionaries, with the dates of commissions, &c.; all of which are incorporated in the alphabetical list of missionaries in the body of this Report.]

Income of the Agency for the period embraced in this Report, - - -	$2,998 91
Expenditures, - - - - -	2,843 32
	$155 59

The whole amount pledged through this Agency, (including $299, arrearages of the Western Domestic Missionary Society, the payment of which has been assumed by us,) is $4,439 16. To meet these pledges, there is subscribed, and now due to the Agency, something more than is now due to the Missionaries. Besides these subscriptions, there is now in the treasury $155 59. And we feel assured, from the prevailing favour with which the churches regard our object, that they will promptly aid us with the means of meeting all demands upon our treasury.

The whole period of time, covered by the above commissions, is about 47 years. The number of congregations supplied, partially or wholly, is 56; besides the churches visited by Missionaries, who have taken, as their field of labour, all the destitute churches in a whole county.

Of the present wants of the churches within this Agency, we cannot speak so definitely as we could wish. The exact number which are destitute of a preached gospel we cannot tell. This, however, we know,—on every side of us are feeble flocks of Christ's sheep, almost lost in the wilderness, having none to lead them into the green pastures, and beside the still waters of Zion. What we most need, is the men who will go abroad into the lanes and highways, and search out the lost sheep of the house of Israel. We feel confident, that the liberality of the churches will sustain as many such missionaries as is found necessary.

There is one fact worthy to be recorded here. From several feeble and destitute churches, where God is now showering down salvation, the cry for help comes to us with painful importunity. And what can we do? Where are the helpers? We can only say, "If the Lord do not help thee, whence can we help thee?" The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few.

Respecting the future prospects of this Agency, we see at present no occasion of despondency. We trust that we are doing the work of the Lord, and that he will not permit it to languish. The several interruptions in its progress, added to some pre-existing obstructions, have left us on less favourable ground than might otherwise have been anticipated. But trusting in the continued smiles of Divine Providence, we set our faces to go forward, assured that if this work be indeed of God, it cannot be overthrown.

EXTRACT FROM THE REPORT.

This Committee was appointed in February, 1830, but did not commence operations until January, 1831. It is not quite four months since we entered upon the duties assigned us by your Committee. We, therefore, have but little to report concerning what we have done. Our attention has been chiefly directed to the formation of auxiliaries, and raising funds. Several societies have been visited for the purpose of preparing the way for future effort. Ten Auxiliaries have been formed in Kentucky, three in Washington county, two in Clark county, and one in each of the following counties: Jessamine, Madison, Bourbon, Scott, and Montgomery. The amount of subscriptions and cash is, in all, $1658 12. Appropriations have been recommended to missionaries, most of whom are now on the field of their labours. A Committee of Correspondence and Agency for the state of Kentucky, has been appointed, the centre of whose operations is Lexington. Rev. N. H. Hall, Chairman, and also General Agent for the state; Rev. O. S. Hinkley, Secretary, and Mr. William Skillman, Treasurer.

The experience of every day convinces us more deeply of the amazing responsibility under which we now act. Never have we felt so sensibly the necessity of high attainments in knowledge, in wisdom, in holiness, as since engaged in giving some direction and efficiency to the A. H. M. S. in the great valley of the West. Our responsibility can only be equalled by the privilege of being co-workers in a cause which God has owned, and which involves considerations vast as eternity, and solemn as the judgment. We would not take a step in this matter without leaning on the kind arm of our divine Redeemer.

We have been much gratified and encouraged by the zealous co-operation of many churches and individuals on this field. So far as we can judge, there is an increasing attachment to the principles of the A. H. M. S. The more it is known, the more it is approved. The plan and operations of the society show that it is just what it professes to be, the servant of the churches. Its object is, "to assist congregations which are unable to support the Gospel ministry, and to send the Gospel to the destitute within the United States." The divine favour has hitherto attended its movements, and we are well persuaded that it is one branch of the grand system of benevolence which is to fill the world with the riches of redeeming grace. Aware that no important object was ever prosecuted without difficulty, we are not surprised that we should be assailed, our movements censured, and our motives impeached; but nothing has yet occurred to wean our affections from the society, or to shake our determination to hold on. The candid mind must perceive, that the Home Missionary Society, in all its operations, simply aims to do good; it interferes with no ecclesiastical rule, and pretends to no ecclesiastical power. It furnishes means to support such men, and such only, as are approved by the judicatories of the churches within whose bounds they labour.

The prospects before us at present, are in some respects discouraging; the collisions arising from the separate action of the two missionary boards, have already produced evils in the churches which the most fearful did not anticipate. If something is not speedily done the whole enterprise of benevolence in the west will be retarded. O that the friends of the Redeemer would fix their attention on the shortness of time, the worth of souls, the wants of the church, and the glory of Christ!

The real condition of the western country cannot be easily described so as to be clearly conceived of by persons who have never been much acquainted with new countries; on every hand wide-spread desolation meets the eye. The state of Kentucky, one of the oldest states west of the Alleghanies, it being now 56 years since the first settlement commenced, is not half supplied with ministerial labour of any kind; fifty counties are destitute of any Presbyterian preaching, as there is not one preacher in the whole; other denominations are doing much good in restraining vice, and directing souls to heaven; but still very little is done by all, compared with the real wants of the state. Nothing efficient and successful can be done without the stated ministry. The Bible may be distributed, but it will not be read even by those who can read, and in some counties great numbers even of those over ten years of age are unable to read at all. Sabbath Schools may also be established, but they will soon run down, unless there is a minister on the ground to keep up an interest. We have mentioned Kentucky, not because it is more or less destitute than other states in this valley, but simply because we are more acquainted with facts concerning it. We are very happy to add, that we have witnessed a spirit of Christian liberality in the churches which have been visited in that state, which is truly encouraging. Many considerations unite to urge us on in the attempt to mingle a religious influence with the growing population of the west. We feel that in this valley lie the destinies of America, with respect both to its civil and religious interests. It contains now 4,000,000 of inhabitants. It is capable of sustaining 200,000,000. In 20 years the majority of the people in the United States will be west of the Allegany mountains; in 30 years that majority will be overwhelming, and will, of course, give laws to the nation. Every thing interesting to man for time and for eternity, urges to action. We feel much more on this subject than we know how to express. Even the temporal interests involved here are vastly important; but ETERNITY, with all its scenes, its glories, and its glooms, are embraced in it. And as we thus contemplate this matter, and see the immense interests that are suspended upon the movements of the present moment, and consider the millions of immortal beings who will on this ground form characters for eternity, we are ready to make any sacrifice which may be necessary to rescue them from the power of sin, and raise them to everlasting life and glory.

By order of the Central Committee of Agency for the Western States.

RALPH CUSHMAN; Corresponding Secretary.

NEW-HAMPSHIRE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

From the Report of the N. H. M. Society for the year, ending September, 1830, we gather the following facts. Forty-nine stations, including fifty-six places, and fifty-three churches, are mentioned as beneficiaries of the Society. There are twenty- two other churches as really the objects of charity as those which are aided, making seventy-five churches, (about half of the Evangelical, Congregational, and Presbyterian churches of New-Hampshire,) which are proper subjects for charitable aid! Besides these, we are assured there are numerous towns in which there is no competent religious teacher, nor Evangelical Church.

We can afford room in this place for only one extract from the Report, containing an appeal to the more favoured portions of the Christian community.

"The church is the family of Christ. The church of Christ in New-Hampshire is his family in New-Hampshire. And has he not, in his paternal bounty, and by his redeeming blood, made ample provision for all his family? Is there not, within the limits of his family, bread and meat, wine and milk, sufficient for every member? Were the members of his family disposed to have all spiritual things in common, and to impart as every one had need, eating their bread, and drinking their wine, with gladness and singleness of heart, praising God, would any of the members be destitute of the necessaries of spiritual life? Christ has, indeed, variously bestowed his bounty. And in this he manifests his wisdom. Putting provision enough, and to spare, into the hands of some members of his family, he tries them, whether they will give a cup of cold water, and a morsel of bread, in his name, to his needy and suffering brethren. If none were hungry, there would be no occasion for others to give them meat. Were none thirsty, there would be no opportunity for others to give them drink. If none were strangers, then none could be taken in as such. Were none naked, none would need clothing from the hand of charity. If none were sick, there would be no such duty as visiting the sick. Were none in prison, then none would have to go to brethren in bonds to comfort them."

"Let it be repeated; let it be preached upon the house-tops, for it will be published to the Universe another day, that branches of Christ's church, purchased with his own invaluable blood, set as a seal on his heart, a seal on his arm, members of his family, dear to him as the apple of his eye, are destitute of those provisions, which his love and his sufferings, have made for their spiritual life, comfort and growth in grace. And besides all this, a multitude of souls, as it were, at our very doors, are perishing for lack of vision."

TERMS OF CONNEXION AND STIPULATION,

Between the American Home Missionary Society and its Auxiliaries, recommended by the Executive Committee.

In the formation of the numerous branches of the national institution, it has been a subject of no little difficulty to determine upon a plan of co-operation suited to the condition of existing societies in all parts of the United States, and equally adapted to promote the interests of the parent Society, and each of its auxiliaries. The Executive Committee have, accordingly, waited for the results of experience, that they might permanently pursue the best method to secure these objects. They are now prepared to recommend with confidence the following, as a plan altogether practicable, and equally suited, as it is designed, to promote the efficiency and harmony of the missionary work in the several states and religious denominations represented in the national Society, viz.:

PLAN OF LARGER SOCIETIES.

In those parts of the country where efficient organizations in aid of Home Missions do not already exist, the formation of two kinds of societies auxiliary to the A. H. M. S. is desired; the one large, and the other small, and the former to embrace the latter. Each larger society may be formed to embrace the limits of a county, a city, a state, a prosbytery, or a synod, as shall be judged most conducive to its activity and efficiency. The objects of all such societies should be to raise funds to furnish, first, all needed aid to the destitute within their own limits; and, secondly, to aid the parent society in extending the Gospel to communities still more needy. To accomplish these objects most effectually, it is important that each society be so small, in extent of territory, that its committee or executive board may have a competent knowledge of the claims of the destitute within its limits, while it should be sufficiently large to furnish a field for the operations of an agent, for the collection of funds, the formation of subsidiary organizations, and to act as its organ of communication with the parent society. For this last purpose it is judged expedient that in all cases where the auxiliary society is sufficiently large to employ a permanent agent, he be also its corresponding secretary.

FORM OF CONSTITUTION,

Recommended to the adoption of Auxiliary Societies.

ART. I.—This society shall be known by the name of the Domestic Missionary Society, and shall be auxiliary to the American Home Missionary Society.

ART. II.—This society shall be composed of such individuals as shall contribute annually to its funds, together with the members of the several church and congregational associations for Home Missions within the limits of this society.

ART. III.—The officers of the society shall be a president, vice presidents, a treasurer, and a secretary, to be chosen at the annual meeting. These officers, in connexion with at least one person elected from each of the several associations of gentlemen composing the society, shall constitute a board of directors, of whom not less than five shall be a quorum at any meeting regularly convened.

ART. IV.—It shall be the duty of the board of directors to meet at the call of the president, or as often as shall be necessary for the transaction of business; to fill their own vacancies, to appoint an executive committee, to adopt the most energetic measures in their power to accomplish the object of the society; especially by distributing such publications as may be committed to them by the parent institution, and by deputation some of their number to attend the annual meetings of the several associations; and, in general, by using all suitable means to excite an interest in the cause of Home Missions.

ART. V.—The annual receipts of the society, after defraying incidental expenses, shall be paid over to the treasurer of the parent society, with directions as to the section of country in which it shall be expended in missionary labours, should the board deem it important to give such directions. [See resolutions on next page.]

ART. VI.—The society shall meet as often as called by the directors, and annually on the _____ of March, when the officers shall be elected; the accounts of the treasurer, properly audited, shall be presented, and the annual report of the directors received, and when this constitution may be amended by a vote of two thirds of the members present.

ART. VII.—A copy of the constitution, authenticated by the secretary, together with the names and the residences of the officers annually elected, and also a copy of each annual report, shall be transmitted to the corresponding secretary of the American Home Missionary Society, as early as the first of April in each year.

STIPULATIONS.

For the purpose of producing uniformity in the operations of the larger societies, auxiliary to the A. H. M. S., and the better to secure to each the control of its funds and appropriations, the following resolutions are recommended to their adoption; and the executive committee will engage, with every auxiliary adopting them, to perform the stipulations which these resolutions require of the parent society, provided the proposed limits of societies requesting to become auxiliary on this plan, be such as, in the opinion of this committee, will facilitate the operations of the parent society within the same; and provided these engagements having been formed with the missionary society of a state, or a synod, shall not be so construed as to debar this committee from the liberty of co-operating, if desired, with any county, presbyterial, or other society within its limits, acting independently of said larger society.

RESOLUTIONS,

Recommended to the adoption of Auxiliary Societies.

1. This society shall pay over to the treasurer of the A. H. M. S. the whole of its income, from time to time, after deducting incidental expenses; provided, however, that the permanent fund* of the society shall for ever remain, as to the power of investment, &c. under its own control; and, provided, also, that the whole, or any part of said income, having been reported as subject to the order of the parent society, shall be allowed to remain, if requested by the directors of this society, in the treasury of the same, for the payment of missionaries and agents, as hereinafter stipulated.

2. The parent society shall allow to this auxiliary the right to appoint and pay missionaries within the limits of _____ to any amount not exceeding the above named income; provided, that all appointments of missionaries by this society, shall be made in the manner following: (viz.)

A sufficient number of blank commissions shall be furnished to this society, by the executive committee of the parent society, signed by the chairman and corresponding secretary of the same, which shall be filled and countersigned by the proper officers, and issued on the responsibility of this society.

3. All missionaries shall be paid from the income of this society, in the manner following: (viz.) The directors of this society having reported the income, or receipts of the same, to the parent society, and having requested that so much of the income so reported, as they shall deem necessary to answer the engagements of this society, may be retained for that purpose, the executive committee of the parent society shall, in answer to such request, and without delay,* direct the treasurer of the same to issue an order to the directors of this society, to retain the whole, or such portion of the said income, as shall have been thus requested, for the purpose of paying the same as it shall become due to the missionaries appointed by this society, under commissions from the parent institution.

4. Should appropriations of aid be needed within the _____ to exceed the amount of the income of this society, such appropriations shall be made directly by the parent society, on the sole responsibility of the same; provided, however, that in all such cases, the advice and recommendation of the directors of this society shall be previously obtained.

5. This society shall be governed in its appropriations by the general principles which govern the appropriations of the parent society.

6. This society shall appoint no missionaries or agents out of the limits of the same.

7. Agents for the collection of funds for this society, may be appointed by the executive committee of the parent society, with the recommendation or consent of the directors of this auxiliary, and all agents so appointed shall report the amount of their collections, both to the auxiliary and the parent society; and each agent so appointed, shall receive his compensation from this society, in the same manner that the missionaries of the society receive theirs.

Reasons of the foregoing Recommendations.

The above resolutions are in accordance with the spirit of the eighth article of the constitution of the parent society. They have been already adopted by the New-Hampshire Missionary Society, the Vermont Domestic Missionary Society, the Hampshire Missionary Society, Mass., and substantially by a number of other societies, as the basis of their auxiliary connexion with the A. H. M. S. In recommending the same to the adoption of societies which may hereafter become auxiliary, the executive committee of the parent society are influenced by the following considerations:

* Societies which have no permanent fund, will, of course, omit this stipulation in adopting these resolutions.

1. Wherever these resolutions are adopted, they will bring the influence of the parent society to act on its auxiliaries in the matter of raising funds, and thus a principle distinctly avowed in the formation of the national institution, will be most securely guarded, viz.: That local societies should not be superseded, nor impeded in their operations, but strengthened and stimulated. On this plan the agent of each auxiliary will also be the agent of the parent society, and by keeping advised of the operations and necessities of the latter, will be able to acquaint each congregation which he may address, with what the whole country is doing; and the influence of example will be fully felt, while the great national object, by being presented as one and undivided, will assume an importance as much superior to that exhibited by the separate claims of a local society, as the wants of the nation are more extensive than those of a single state or county; and it is found, that when facts are presented as the ground of appeal, Christians and patriots are every where disposed to contribute in proportion to the magnitude of the work to be accomplished by their beneficence. In this way the resources of each local society may be greatly increased by a connexion with the national institution.

2. By these stipulations, each auxiliary society is left to the independent and unembarrassed exercise of all its rights in the business of appropriating its own funds to the relief of the needy within its limits, while it secures to itself the additional advantage of directing other appropriations made by the parent society within the same bounds. And this is an advantage which will be very gladly yielded to auxiliary presbyteries, synods and societies, whose knowledge of the work to be done within their own limits is, in all cases, much more minute and particular than can be possessed through the medium of correspondence by the national institution.

3. These stipulations, wherever they shall be adopted, will put it out of the power of the national society to contravene the wishes of those whose business it is to manage the affairs, and guard the purity of the churches in the different sections of our country. It can plant no missionary in stations yielded to the supervision of an auxiliary society, presbytery or synod, without the approbation of the same; and when a missionary or agent shall cease to be approved by the auxiliary, the parent society will be bound to recal him, or withdraw his support. Thus the national institution claims to be the servant of the churches wherever it may be permitted to act in the benevolent work for which it has been formed and sustained. It pretends to no ecclesiastical authority. It interferes not with the discipline, nor the peculiar views of any section of the church, but desires to act through its auxiliaries, and to be directed in its operations by their united counsels. It will aid feeble congregations in the support of such ministers only as shall have been approved by the ecclesiastical bodies with which they are connected. This society has no charter, and no funded property. It has its being only in the confidence and co-operation of the Christian public; and should it ever, through unfaithfulness to its trust, cease to deserve these, its auxiliaries may withdraw them, and the national society must cease to exist.

4. The effect of this whole plan, should it become universal in the churches represented in this society, will be the same which was contemplated in the formation of the national institution.

It will prevent the interference and cross-action of a number of independent societies, occupying portions of the same field without concert, and without agreement. The state, synodical, presbyterial, and other local societies, will be confined in their appropriations, each to its own limits, and as fast as they are able, they will supply their own destitute; while the national society, gathering strength from the increased resources of its auxiliaries, will be the servant of all in conveying their surplus charities to the new and increasing fields of desolation in our frontier settlements. For this service, the national society, sustained by the co-operation here recommended, will possess peculiar advantages. Its office will be the centre of intelligence on the subject of Home Missions, and the medium through which the numerous local societies may communicate with each other. And what gives life and energy to this whole system is, that the national society, thus sustained, is enabled to employ permanent officers, and be, in effect, constantly in session. This is an advantage which can be enjoyed by no local society, but which is indispensable to the prompt and successful prosecution of the work of missions on a field so extensive and diversified as remains to be occupied in this country.

This plan is also suited to produce a uniformity of operation, and the missionaries of the auxiliaries being also the missionaries of the parent society, will be reported as such in our annual alphabetical list, with appropriate marks to denote by what auxiliary society they have been supported. Thus the influence of each auxiliary will be embodied, and an annual report presented, which will embrace the doings of all ; the local societies will no longer be regarded as rivals of each other, but fellow labourers in the same field, and the missionaries as belonging to the same family.

SMALLER SOCIETIES.

Within the limits of each larger society, there should be organized auxiliary societies or associations. Of these associations it is recommended that there be formed two in each town, parish, or congregation, the one composed of males, and the other of females ; and that they adopt the following

RULES

For the Government of Church [or Congregational] Associations [or Societies] for Home Missions.

1. This association shall be called the [or Female] Missionary Association [or Society,] of Church, [or Congregation,] auxiliary to the American Home Missionary Society, [or the Auxiliary Society of .]

2. Every person who shall contribute annually to the funds, shall be a member.

3. *The affairs of the association shall be conducted by a first and second director, [or directress,] a secretary, a treasurer, and collectors, who shall be chosen annually, and together shall constitute a committee.

4. It shall be the duty of the committee to meet at least once in three months, to appoint assistant collectors, and transact such other business as may come before them.

5. The first director, [or directress,] and in case of his [or her] absence, the second director, [or directress,] shall preside in all meetings of the association, and shall have power to call special meetings at pleasure.

The secretary shall keep the records, and manage the correspondence.

The treasurer shall take charge of the money collected, and after deducting incidental expenses, shall pay the same to the American Home Missionary Society, [or to the Auxiliary Society of .]

It shall be the duty of the collectors to solicit and receive contributions. For this purpose they shall make a suitable division of their labours, call upon the individuals within their respective limits, take the names of persons disposed to contribute, together with the sums which they will give for the year, and shall pay the amount of their collections to the treasurer, previous to the next annual meeting of the association.

6. The Association shall meet annually, on the second Monday in March of each year, when the Report shall be read, and the election of officers held ; and when these rules may be altered by a vote of two thirds of the members present.

7. The Annual Report of this Association shall be transmitted by the Secretary, to the Secretary of the American Home Missionary Society, [or the Auxiliary Society of .] immediately after the annual meeting of the Association.

* Or, if it be preferred, the third article may read as follows. " The affairs of this association shall be conducted by the Elders [or deacons] of this church, who shall annually appoint, from their own number, a first and second director, a Secretary, a Treasurer and Collectors ; and those together shall constitute a committee."

SIXTH REPORT.

THE year to be reviewed, at the present anniversary, is distinguished in the annals of the world. It has been, at once, an "acceptable year of the Lord," and a "day of vengeance of our God." Even our own republic has been moved with conflicts, which have led some of little faith, to predict its disruption, while, in the older nations, thrones have tottered, and political structures, whose walls had been cementing for ages, have been rent by convulsions, which have agitated the whole fabric of civil society.

The moral world, also, has been moved with conflicts of high, and decisive, and momentous bearing. On the one hand, infidelity of every grade has been combining its energies with the mighty power of the "man of sin," the "son of perdition," to roll back the car of salvation. On the other, the faith of Christians has fastened, with more than its former strength, upon the promises of God to his people; and the great enterprise of reclaiming the whole world to the rightful dominion of the Saviour, has been pursued with greater energy, with larger preparation, and more glorious success, than ever before. While the enemy has come in like a flood, the spirit of the Lord has lifted up a standard against him. This has come to pass, not only in the increased energy and extension of benevolent efforts throughout christendom, for the conversion of the world, but especially in the new and extraordinary manifestations of the power of the Holy Ghost, in the revival of religion in the churches of the United States. Never have these churches enjoyed so much of the presence and blessing of the Saviour; and never, it is believed, since the days of the Apostles, has the cause of salvation, in any country, made so great an advancement, in so short a period.

It is estimated, that two thousand churches, of different denominations, in the United States, have been visited with revivals of religion, within the last twelve months, and that not less than one hundred thousand souls have been converted. Here is exhibited the brightest aspect of the providential government of God over this world. So large an enlistment to the soldiery of Jesus Christ, in a single year, and in such a nation, is a cause, which will give life and power to all other causes, which, under God, are hastening the world's conversion. And here has been especially felt the influence of the AMERICAN HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY. While the field of its operations has been much enlarged, and the number of its missionaries increased, it has been chosen of God, as the instrument of salvation to many souls.

o signal, in this respect, have been its triumphs, that the EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, in presenting their SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT, would not el that they had duly honoured the divine grace, which has accompanied their operations, should they fail to designate the year which now past, as characteristically a YEAR OF REVIVALS OF RELIGION. o have lived through its labours, and now, in the presence of listening thousands, to look back upon the history of such a year, is a privilege delightfully suited to awaken the gratitude, strengthen the ith, and encourage the brightest hopes, of the friends of this voured Society.

509. Montgomery and Boon Cos. Ind.	Rev. Claiborne Young,	Nov. 25, 1831.	12	3	12	1	2 Bible Classes; Sabbath School, 20; Chs. organized at Bethel and Pleasant Plains. Attention to religion increasing.

WHOLE NUMBER OF MISSIONARIES, &c.

From the preceding details it appears, that the whole number of missionaries and agents employed by this Society, during the year, is 509; and the number of congregations and missionary districts, aided in their support, 745. Of the missionaries and agents enumerated, 351 were in commission at the commencement of the year; a large proportion of whom have been re-appointed, and are still in the service of the Society. The remaining 158 have been new appointments, during the year, making, in all, 509.

EXTENT OF FIELDS, AND AMOUNT OF LABOUR PERFORMED.

Of the whole number, thus employed, 347 are settled as pastors, or are employed as "stated supplies," in single congregations; 131 divide their labours between two or three congregations; and 31, including agents, have been employed on larger fields. Thus distributed, the missionaries of this Society, during the year, have probably preached the gospel, with more or less frequency, to more than 700,000 people, and to a large portion of these, their ministry has been constant. The amount of ministerial labour reported as performed within the year, in the service of this Society, is 361 years and 5 months.

AMOUNT OF EXPENDITURES.

To sustain these extended operations, even on the strictest plan of economy, has required a large pecuniary expenditure. To diminish as much as possible this amount, the Committee have made their appropriations with the utmost caution; and, on a review of their doings for the year, they are convinced that, in most cases, their grants have rather been below than above the righteous claims of the needy upon the bounty of the Christian public. Their invariable rule has been, to appropriate, in each case, the smallest sum, which, after due inquiry, has seemed sufficient to enable the congregation aided to sustain the minister of its choice; and so strict has been their adherence to this rule, that the support afforded to most of the missionaries, in their arduous labours, has been such as would have been complained of, as inadequate, by any but self-denying men, who count it a privilege to make sacrifices to preach the gospel to the poor. But notwithstanding the studied economy of the Committee, the increase of missionaries has required a correspondent increase of expenditures. The amount actually paid out from the treasury during the year, including office rent, Secretary's salary, and all the incidental expenses of the Society, is $52,808,39, which is more, by $5,550,79, than the payments of the previous year. Yet, this amount, distributed among 509 missionaries and agents, would divide the average sum to each of only $103; and, deducting the amount paid to several agents, and to a number of missionaries in distant and frontier stations, who derive almost their whole support from the Society, it affords not more than about $100 for each year of ministerial service actually performed. The amount expended, therefore, though large in comparison with the payments of former years, is small in comparison with the increased number of missionaries employed, and of congregations aided, and smaller still, when viewed in connexion with the glorious results of which we shall speak in the sequel of this Report.

STATE OF THE TREASURY, AND THE MEANS OF REPLENISHING IT.

In view of so large an expenditure, it may be asked with interest, whence have been derived the means? This is a question important to be answered, not only for the satisfaction of the friends of the Society in relation to the past, but both for their instruction and encouragement in regard to the efforts and sacrifices which the future exigencies of the cause may demand, at the hands of those who are pledged before God and the American public to sustain it. The answer of the Executive Committee is contained in the following statements, which they commend to the careful attention of all who desire to feel, as American Christians, the full weight of their responsibilities, in relation to the great work to be accomplished by this Society.

At the commencement of the year, May 11, 1831, there were in the Treasury $877 13. This was the whole amount of our stock in hand for the enterprise before us. At the same time, the Committee were under engagements to missionaries and agents, then in the field, to the amount of $36,785, which they were bound to fulfil within the year. Thus destitute of resources, excepting in the confidence of the co-operation of the Christian public, and the manifested favour of God, they entered upon their work, as they had done in former years, trusting only in the blessing of him who is head over all things to the church.—That blessing has not been withheld; but the Committee are constrained to report, that, during the whole progress of the year, their faith has been more severely, and they hope, more profitably tried, than in any former year, in relation to the pecuniary means of sustaining the enlarged and constantly increasing operations of the Society. From the 11th of May to the 1st of December, the disbursements from the Treasury were $20,236 67, and yet, during that whole period, its receipts were only $8,616 79. This left the treasury, at the latter date, overdrawn $11,619 88; for which individuals of the Committee had become personally responsible, that there might be no failure in the prompt payment of the drafts of the missionaries. In the mean time, efforts had been used to procure agents to engage permanently in the business of collecting funds for this Society, and with some success.

Four agents had been appointed in the New-England states, in connexion with the Auxiliary Societies of those states, viz. :— Rev. R. S. Storrs, in Massachusetts; Rev. C. L. Watson, in Connecticut; Rev. A. Rankin, in New-Hampshire, and Rev. D. O. Morton, in Vermont. The Rev. D. Porter, D. D., Rev. M. P. Squier, and Rev. O. P. Hoyt, were also actively engaged in the state of New-York, and the Rev. D. W. Lathrop, in Ohio and Michigan. These agents, however, had yet made but small returns to the treasury; and our invaluable agent at Cincinnati, the late Rev. R. Cushman, whose influence was telling most happily upon the cause in the states west of the mountains, had been cut down in the midst of his labours; and though the savour of his triumphant death, like the memory of his devoted life, will long live and act upon the cause of peace and piety in the great valley, his lamented removal was a loss to the pecuniary and other interests of this Society on that field, which no other appointment could immediately supply.

Thus embarrassed and afflicted, the Committee were constrained to pause and deliberate, whether they ought not to withhold further appropriations, until they should be possessed of the means of going forward in their work, without the necessity of increasing their own pecuniary responsibility. But even under the pressure of this apparent necessity, they dared not to curtail, in any important measure, the operations of the Society. The spirit of the enterprise forbade it. Every lesson of their past experience, and the accumulating and extraordinary blessing of God upon the labours of the Society's missionaries, forbade it. They therefore commended the cause to the mercy of the Saviour, and determined to go forward. They invited a meeting of a number of the friends of the object in the city, before whom they exhibited the financial condition of the Society, and were much encouraged by their liberal pledges and subscriptions. They also addressed the public through the religious newspapers, and issued a circular to individuals in different parts of the country. These were answered by a few liberal returns to the treasury, and the agency of the Corresponding Secretary, and the efforts of the agents before named, began soon to be more productive; and we report, with gratitude, that the result of a continued and laborious effort, to the present time, has relieved, in some measure, the responsibility of the Committee. The receipts of the Society, during the last year, as appears from the Treasurer's Report, have exceeded those of the preceding year $2,174 52, and the expenditures have increased $5,550 79. This leaves the treasury overdrawn, at the present time, $2,509 14; and in addition to this, the Committee are under engagements to missionaries now in the field $36,644 50, making the whole amount, a part of which is now due, and the whole of which is pledged to be paid within the coming twelve months, $39,153 64.

REMARKS ON THE STATE OF THE TREASURY.

This is a state of the treasury, which, we are aware, would be discouraging, were it not for the increasing evidence, in the results of its operations, that this Society is owned of God. But, "he that observeth the wind shall not sow; and he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap." What, then, are these shadows of discouragement, while the eternal sun-light of the divine favour to his own cause is falling upon the eye of faith, and will certainly, in due time, ripen the fruit of every labour of love?

It cannot be, that the present deficiency in the treasury, of $2,509, will be permitted to retard the steady advancement of an enterprise, which appeals so directly to the interest of our whole country, and to the heart of every American Christian. The responsibility of this sum, it is true, together with the pledges already made, and the additional amount, which must be provided in the course of the coming year, to sustain, with vigour, the operations of the Society, is too large to be assumed by the individuals of the Committee, if they might not depend upon the more liberal co-operation of the Christian public. But this dependance they feel that they have a right to cherish.

There are pecuniary means enough in the hands of the friends of this Society, and ten times more than enough, to push on this enterprise to the full extent of the wants of our country; and if we have not entirely mistaken the spirit of our holy communion, in the several denominations who have combined to accomplish it, there is piety enough to contribute all that may be needed. And the grace of God, in the progress of the work, will confer more piety. It is in the nature of the enterprise itself, to gather strength as it advances. The cause increases the effect, and the effect, in its turn, increases the cause; and to stay the onward progress of such an enterprise, would be to change those immutable principles, which secure the perpetuity and extension of the Christian church.

The Committee, therefore, should they be longer intrusted with this work, will not hesitate to go forward. In making this announcement, however, they rest upon the confidence, that the facts already stated, and yet to be communicated, in this Report, will impress deeply upon the minds of the Christian public, that the cause of Home Missions has not yet awakened half the sympathy, nor called forth half the efforts and sacrifices, which its importance and prospects demand.

SOURCES OF INCOME.

The sources of the Society's receipts, as stated in former Reports, have been numerous and diversified. Donations from individuals have been received from almost every section of the country, accompanied with the most animating expressions of interest in the cause. Several small legacies have also been collected; but much less has been derived from this source than in the preceding year. Collections by missionaries and others, and contributions and collections in churches, have constituted a considerable item in the receipts of the Treasurer. But much the largest amount received from any one of the general sources of income, has been derived from Agencies, Societies, Associations, and Churches, regularly organized as auxiliaries. These have increased, during the year, from 385 to 416.

The following, on account of the efficiency and extent of their operations, as well as the amounts which they have severally contributed to the Parent Society, demand a special notice in this Report, viz:—

1. THE WESTERN AGENCY IN THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.

The results of the operations of this agency, the last year, have surpassed those of any former year, and it continues to hold its distinction as the most efficient of the auxiliaries of the Parent Society. Its missionaries, including the agent on that field, have been 64, who have preached the gospel, and administered its ordinances, in from 70 to 80 congregations and missionary districts, 18 of which never before enjoyed stated preaching. Ten congregations, formerly aided, have, within the year, signified their ability and determination to dispense with further aid; and on more than half of the whole number, the Spirit of God has descended in gracious influences, gathering sinners by twenties and fifties into the fold of Christ. The receipts of the agency have been $5,749 21, and the payments on that field have been $5,100; leaving a balance in favour of the treasury of the Society of $649 21, which has been expended in regions of greater destitution. [See Report of this Agency, in Appendix.]

2. THE CENTRAL AGENCY IN THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.

The number of missionaries employed on the field of this agency, within the year, is 50, and the congregations supplied, in whole or in part, by their ministry, 69. The receipts of the treasury, through this agency, have been about $3,000, and the prospect is encouraging for a larger income the next year. On that field, also, as on others, the blessing of God has been richly enjoyed, in revivals of religion. [See Appendix.]

3. THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF AGENCY FOR HOME MISSIONS IN THE WESTERN STATES, ESTABLISHED IN CINCINNATI, OHIO.

This agency was organized in the autumn of 1830, and was reported at our last anniversary as in successful operation.— The Rev. R. Cushman had been appointed on that field as General Agent of the Society, and Corresponding Secretary of the agency, and was prosecuting his labours with great industry and discretion, and with very encouraging success. His efforts were continued, and had already accomplished much in commending the Society and the cause of missions to the favour of the western public, when he was suddenly called from his labours by the hand of death, August 27, 1831. By this mysterious and afflictive providence, the affairs of the agency were thrown into some confusion; the business of collections for the Society was arrested, and from other causes, (which are perhaps sufficiently known to the public,) the operations of the Committee, on that interesting and important field, suffered loss, until November 28, 1831, when the Rev. James W. Douglass, late of Virginia, having been appointed General Agent, &c. as successor of Mr. Cushman, entered upon his labours. Mr. D. has been usefully employed, in conducting the business of the agency, in collecting funds, and otherwise promoting the cause of the Society; and though his labours have been much interrupted by ill health, they have not been in vain. The amount actually collected by that agency, during the year, for the treasury of the Society, has been $416 26, while their correspondence has been highly important to the Executive Committee, in directing its appropriations in a large section of the west.

4. CONNECTICUT MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

This Society, which has become formally auxiliary to the A. H. M. S. within the last year, stands first among the Auxiliary Societies in the New-England states, in the amount of its contributions to the treasury of the Parent Institution. The number of its missionaries in the state of Connecticut, appointed under commissions from the Parent Society, including the agent in that state, has been 23; in addition to which, it has assumed the support of 7 of the missionaries of the A. H. M. S. in the state of Missouri, at a probable expense of not less than $1,800. Their receipts during the year, from April 1, 1831, to April 1, 1832, have been $3,792 47.

5. MAINE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The annual returns from this auxiliary are of an animating character. Its receipts have been $3,530 14, and the number of missionaries sustained by its funds, in the state of Maine, has been 56. In addition to this, the Parent Society has aided in the support of 11 missionaries in that state, by the appropriation of funds pledged for that purpose by the "Massachusetts Missionary Society," making the whole number employed in Maine, during the year, 67.

6. VERMONT DOMESTIC MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

This Society continues to prosecute its work with vigour, and is an efficient helper of the Parent Society. The number of missionaries sustained by its funds in the state of Vermont, since our last Report, including the agent in that state, has been 29.

7. NEW-HAMPSHIRE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The amount of receipts, through the treasury of this Society, during the last year, has been $2,915 17, and the number of missionaries supported in that state, under commissions from the Parent Society, including the agent, 41. The efforts of the agent, now labouring in that state, promise much for the cause hereafter.

8. HAMPSHIRE MISSIONARY SOCIETY, MASS.

This Society, embracing the principal part of the old county of Hampshire, Mass., has raised $790 96 for the treasury of the Parent Society, which has been appropriated, as directed, in the support of 5 missionaries in different states.

9. WESTERN RESERVE DOMESTIC MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The field embraced by this auxiliary, is the northern part of Ohio, and the whole of Michigan Territory, and is co-extensive with the Western Reserve Synod. The amount of contributions through its treasury, and the hands of the agent on that field, has been $1,430 02, and the number of missionaries sustained by its funds 8; in addition to which, the Parent Society has employed 46, making in all, within the bounds of that Synod, 54 missionaries.

10. AUXILIARIES IN SINGLE CONGREGATIONS.

Among the auxiliaries in single congregations, the following have contributed the largest amounts, during the last year, viz:—

The Cedar-street Presbyterian Church, New-York,	}	$1,924 00
including the Sab. School M. S., in the same,	}
The Brick Church, New-York,	- - - -	1,831 75
The Laight-street Church, New-York,	- -	1,290 14
Second Presb. Church, Troy, N. Y.,	- - -	1,089 35

SABBATH SCHOLARS' ASSOCIATIONS.

These Associations, in several congregations, have rendered important aid to the Society. The oldest and most efficient of these, is that which has been in operation five years in the Sabbath Schools of the Cedar-street Presbyterian Church, New-York, embracing a male and a female branch, whose contributions, the last year, have reached the sum of $600, which has been appropriated to the support of 5 missionaries. The Sabbath Scholars' Missionary Association, in the Scotch Presbyterian Church, Cedar-street, has contributed $50, and supported 1 missionary; that in the South Dutch Church, has raised $100, and supported 1 missionary; and other similar Associations have followed these interesting examples of youthful activity and enterprise in the cause of God.

Such have been the sources of the Society's income, while its appropriations have been extended to 22 states and territories of the United States, and to the adjoining province of Upper Canada.

The following

From this table it appears, that while the operations of this Society have encouraged and strengthened the efforts of its Auxiliaries in the older states, to aid the needy within their own bounds respectively, the Executive Committee have not failed to concentrate as much as could be obtained of the resources of the older states, both in men and in the means of their support, to supply the wide spreading wants of the western and southern sections of our country. The state of New-York, for instance, has contributed $14,159 88 more than has been expended in sustaining the missionaries and agents within its bounds; and each of the New-England states, excepting Maine, has supplied something to our treasury, besides the amount required for the support of their own missionaries. This has been appropriated to the newer and more needy states and territories.

In the southern states, it is true, we have planted comparatively few labourers. The reason is obvious; but few labourers have been found, of suitable qualifications, disposed to remove to those states. The Committee, therefore, have regarded, with deep solicitude, the claims of their southern brethren, while, for the lack of labourers to be employed, they have done far less for their supply, than they have ardently desired. But, in regard to the western and northwestern states and territories, their endeavours have been much more successful. A much larger number of the rising ministry of the land have been allured to those inviting fields; and the operations of this Society, it is believed, more than all other causes, have contributed to the annually increasing emigration of ministers in that direction. During the last year, the Committee have sent a larger number to those states, than in any previous year.

The whole number aided by this Society, west of the Alleghany mountains, since our last anniversary, has been 177; and the whole number employed there, since the organization of this Society, has been 240; which is nearly one half of the Presbyterian ministers on that extended field, embracing eleven states and parts of states, with a population of nearly 4,000,000, in several sections of which, nearly their whole supply has been derived from this Society. In Missouri, there are now 18 Presbyterian ministers, and 13 of them have been sent there, or aided, by the A. H. M. S. Illinois has now 32 Presbyterian ministers, and 23 of them are, or have been, missionaries of this Society, and 19 are now in commission in that state. Michigan Territory has 18, and 15 of the same have been sent there, or aided from the same source; and in other large sections of the west, the proportion is nearly as great.

RESULTS.

But the number of missionaries employed, of congregations aided, and the amount raised and expended in their support, though items of interest and importance to be embraced in an Annual Report, compose but a small part of the material of our rejoicing and encouragement at this anniversary. The Committee are aware, that the friends of this Society desire most of all, to be told of results accomplished by their contributions, and of good effected in answer to their prayers. In answering this desire, it is impossible to speak with entire accuracy. If we had time to communicate all that has come to our own knowledge, of the blessing of God upon the labours of 509 ministers of Jesus Christ, in 745 congregations, and other fields, we should even then have occasion to pause, and exclaim "Lo! these are parts of his ways!" But the length, and the breadth, and the height, and the depth, of those eternal results, which are beginning to flow from these causes, must still remain unfathomed, and unfathomable by finite minds.

There is probably not one of the whole number of the Society's missionaries, who has not been the instrument of originating, or of keeping in operation, during a large part of the year, at least one Sabbath School; while most of them have secured the intelligent and faithful instruction of from two to ten of those blessed institutions, on the respective fields of their labours.—The number of Sabbath Schools actually reported, has been 544, embracing 19,690 scholars. The whole number of children and adults thus instructed, under the care of the missionaries, has probably exceeded 30,000.

Bible Classes, also, have been gathered in the congregations aided, almost without an exception; and many of the missionaries have had under their immediate instruction, from two to six of these nurseries of biblical knowledge and of spiritual influence. The number of such classes reported has been 239, embracing 3711 pupils, and more than 7000 have probably been thus instructed. These institutions, with the care of Sabbath Schools, have become so identified with the ministerial work, and have been so signalized as the scenes of the display of the divine mercy in the conversion of souls, that they require no eulogy; and we need only add, that their importance and happy results were never more delightfully manifested than on the whole field of this Society's operations during the last year.

The cause of temperance has also been promoted by our missionaries, and by most of them, with a degree of zeal and success, which affords the most animating prospect of its entire triumph, on most of the fields occupied by this Society. Temperance Societies have been organized in most of the congregations assisted, and 36,402 subscribers to the principle of total abstinence from intoxicating drinks, have been reported. More than 60,000 have probably been thus enrolled, within the field of our labours.

Benevolent efforts for the circulation of the Bible and religious tracts, and in aid of education for the ministry, and of foreign missions, have been sustained by many of the poor to whom it has been the privilege of this Society to minister. Thus there have been planted by our missionaries, and are growing up under their culture, many trees of righteousness, whose leaves are, even now, for the healing of the nations.

But these results of the Society's expenditures, it may be said, are only preparations for doing good; they exhibit no souls converted, no sinners saved; and this is an age of the world, when, if the churches give, and Christians pray, and ministers labour, they look for the grace of God which bringeth salvation. To attain this result, to secure the salvation of the increasing millions of this land, and through them to act upon the destinies of man universally, is the grand purpose, and the single ultimate aim of this Society, and of the kindred institutions in harmony with which it labours; and it is with devout gratitude to God, that the Committee report a more rapid advancement towards this glorious consummation, since the last anniversary, than in any previous year. One hundred and eighty-seven of the churches reported have been blessed with special revivals of religion, which have resulted in the hopeful conversion of more than 8000 souls. The whole number of conversions reported, under the ministry of our missionaries, is 9432, of whom 6126 have been reported already added to the churches, on profession of their faith. The number reported as added by letter has been 1364, making the whole number reported as added to the churches aided, during the last year, 7490. But these reports have been necessarily very defective. The probable number added to the churches aided, since our last anniversary, has been more than 8000, and the number of hopeful conversions, under the labours of our missionaries, not less than 10,000.

Such are the results of a single year of this Society's operations, already visible, upon the cause of salvation. Considered alone, and apart from those attendant and consequent blessings, which are more than we can number, they are great beyond expression. But, viewed in connexion with the small amount of Christian effort and expenditure by which they have been effected, they are greater still; and in comparison with the results of the labours of former years, they afford the most animating proof that this Society, like the "righteous, shall hold on its way," and, like him "that hath clean hands," is destined to "be stronger and stronger." The following is a brief

From this view, it appears that this Society, since its organization in 1826, besides all the indirect and accompanying influences which it has exerted, has annually sustained from 169 to 509 missionaries,—has annually aided from 196 to 745 congregations and missionary districts in their support, which must otherwise have remained destitute, in whole or in part, of the blessings of a preached Gospel,—and has thus secured to these congregations and districts 1358 years of ministerial labour, of which they must otherwise have been deprived. It has also reported, each year, from 10,000 to 30,000 children and others instructed in Sabbath Schools, and from 2,000 to 7,000 instructed in Bible Classes, under the care of its missionaries. In the same time, there have been reported as added to the churches 13,295 souls, and more than 20,000 have probably been converted under their ministry.

And this Society has laboured not alone. Other causes have been in operation in connexion with this, to produce still greater results; and other organizations connected with different denominations of Christians, in our land, have put forth their efforts, and “we forbade them” not, “because they followed not with us.” It is ours to rejoice in every effort which tends to salvation; and if by the operation of all these causes, the American churches have been blessed with 2,000 revivals of religion, and 100,000 souls converted, within the last year, we will rejoice and praise God the more, because the results of our own efforts, great as they truly are, are rendered comparatively small, by reason of this accumulation of blessing and of glory which excelleth. One hundred thousand souls is nearly one third part of the whole increase of our population, in the same time, and probably more than one half of the annual increase of adults in the United States. What an influence is thus provided, to act on the other half, and to gather the children and youth of the land into Sabbath Schools and Bible Classes; and thus train them up to know and fear the Lord ! How many of this hundred thousand may soon become heralds of salvation, while each of the whole number will exert an individual influence to convert others. And if God works by means, he will bless each of these individual influences, and thus the work of salvation will advance in a geometrical ratio ; and in less than half a century the people may all become righteous, according to the prediction of the Prophet of Israel, "Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders." Let, then, every influence that tends to salvation prosper, and let every opposing spirit die. Let Christians put their hands, with renewed vigour, and more fervent prayer, to every department of benevolent effort that urges on the cause of God ; and let the HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY, in its important and indispensable connexion with the ultimate triumph of this cause, in the United States, be sustained. Never did this Society stand upon an eminence to attract the grateful affections of so many thousand souls renewed ; never were its preparations and its prospects of increasing usefulness so great ; and never, at any former anniversary, was its appeal so urgent for the increased liberality of the Christian public. Let, then, the churches remember it, especially in their prayers ; and, in their contributions, imitate the example of those few congregations who have contributed, during the last year, some $500, some $1,000, and some $2,000, to its funds. And let the poor cast in their mites ; and suffer little children to come to this twice blessed work, and forbid them not. And let the rich contribute of their abundance, and follow the example of those few individuals, who, the last year, have each contributed an amount sufficient to sustain one or more of the Society's missionaries, and have thus themselves preached the gospel, "by proxy," to the poor. Let him that has hitherto contributed ten dollars, sit down now and write twenty ; and him who has given twenty, write forty ; and him that has given fifty, write one hundred ; and the necessities of this cause will be easily supplied. Finally, let all who love the Lord, and the souls of men, contribute according to their ability, to this and kindred enterprises of Christian benevolence, and accompany every donation with a prayer, and verily it might be said unto us, "there be some standing here which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God."

EXTRACTS FROM THE SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT.

The WESTERN AGENCY, in presenting their Sixth Annual Report, acknowledge with devout gratitude, the favour with which God has regarded their work hitherto, and its undiminished interest in the confidence and affections of his people.

Within the year, sixty-four missionaries have been commissioned upon the field allotted to this agency, and the most of them for the entire year. They have been located in the several counties, as follows, viz :—Cayuga county 4, Tompkins 3, Tioga 6, Steuben 6, Yates 2, Ontario 2, Wayne 5, Monroe 6, Orleans 2, Niagara 1, Livingston 3, Genesee 2, Alleghany 2, Cataraugus 2, Erie 7, Chataque 9, Tioga co. Penn., 2. These have preached the Gospel, and sustained its institutions, in between 70 and 80 congregations and missionary districts, in eighteen of which the Gospel has never before been statedly preached. Ten congregations have, this year, gratefully signified their ability and determination to dispense with further missionary aid. In all, or nearly all, the congregations under the care of this Board, the cause of Sabbath Schools and Bible Classes; that of temperance; the monthly distribution of tracts, and the other kindred objects of benevolence, have been prosecuted; and on nearly one half of them, the Spirit of God has descended in seasons of special revival of religion, gathering sinners by thirties and by fifties to the fold of Christ. The whole number added, this year, to the churches, at the stations occupied by this Board, must have been upwards of eighteen hundred, if not two thousand; while the collateral effects of the preached Gospel, in so many of the young and rising communities of our border, have been such, as every friend of man and of God would delight to witness.

These communities have already learned the luxury of doing good. In their "penury" they have, during the year, contributed to purposes of Christian charity, more than one half as much as was pledged them by this Board, in sending the ministry of reconciliation among them. More than $750 have been received back, from auxiliaries and otherwise, into our own treasury, and are included in the income of the year.

The aggregate expense of the work on this field, this year, of supporting the sixty-four missionaries, and the salary of the individual who has served as agent and secretary, (together with postage and stationery,) has been five thousand two hundred dollars. Our receipts have been $5760 71; leaving between five and six hundred dollars to pass into the treasury of the Parent Society, for regions of greater destitution and dependence on this sacred charity than that which it is our high privilege to cultivate.

The results of the work, and the progress of divine truth, within our bounds, have, this year, been more animating to the heart of piety, than during any other since this Board was organized.

A missionary on our western frontier, writes,—“last winter we knew of but one dwelling, in this village, where the family altar was erected; since then, upwards of eighty souls have, we trust, been here born of God. Fifty-six have already been added to the church. Now the wealth and influence of the place are on the Lord's side.” Another reports, from the borders of Cataraugus and Chataque counties,—“I never expected to see such a day as this in this wilderness. It seems as if the whole face of things was changing for God and his Christ. Pray for us, and send us labourers to gather in the harvest.” And, under a late date,—“about 140 souls have, this year, been added to our little churches in this county, (Cataraugus,) which is a larger number than all who belonged to them five years since, when my lot was cast among them as a missionary of your Society.”

The zeal and devotedness of the little churches in Chataque county, deserve a special notice, and give an interesting presage of what may soon be expected of them in every good word and work. Under the labours of our missionaries chiefly, revivals of religion have been enjoyed in most of the congregations. The ratio of aid furnished, in this county, is, this year, somewhat diminished; while, besides sustaining a large share of the expense of the monthly tract distribution among themselves, and of aiding, more than on any former year, other benevolent institutions, they have forwarded upwards of three hundred dollars to our treasury. We commend them for it; while the aspect of Christian enterprise and effort, which we recognise in them, exhibits the nature of the Home Missionary work, and the encouragements which lead us forward in its prosecution, and with increased energy and despatch, until Christian congregations are planted in all the land, and shall bring their grateful offerings from the four winds, in behalf of the world's deliverance from the curse of sin, and its preparation for the millennial reign of the Son of Man.

We close our Sixth Report, with an impression of the importance of the work of Home Missions, more deep and solemn than we have ever before felt in relation to it. It is a fundamental charity. It lies at the foundation, as we contemplate the good of our country or the world, of the spread of truth,—the prosperity of the church, or the salvation of souls. It commends itself to every friend of man, by a thousand ties. The crisis is eventful; our safety as a people lies in the diffusion of Christian principles through this nation. These only can allay the spirit of strife, scatter the elements of commotion and wrath, which are gathering in our horizon, and give a prevailing efficacy to counsels of peace and righteousness. Let them spread over the land. Let every waste place be furnished with Christian instruction. Let “the word of the Lord have free course, and be glorified.” Let the voice of the faithful pastor be heard, “preaching Jesus and the resurrection, through every valley and on every hill, until the people shall be all righteous,” and “wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of our times,” “and the strength of salvation, and the fear of the Lord be our treasure.”

ANNUAL REPORT.

The recurrence of another anniversary admonishes us to report to you the detail of our operations for the closing year. It rarely falls to the lot of any man, or body of men, to look back upon so long a period, without meeting, in the retrospect, recollections both agreeable and painful. With such feelings we have to review the past year. It occasions deep regret, that we have made so little progress in the attempt to build up the waste places of Zion. New stations have, indeed, been occupied. Cheering results have attended the labours of our missionaries. No preceding year has been so rich in revivals, among our feeble congregations. Might we be allowed to retire from the unblest and barren waste, and ponder in abstracted and absorbing interest on these results merely,—could we close our eyes, and ears, and hearts, to the imploring importunities of these wastes, and think only of churches strengthened, religion revived, and sinners, by many hundreds, saved,—then might we give ourselves up to unmingled gladness and mutual congratulation. But this we cannot do. Retreat whither we may, the cry of want will find us. And the impression which rests with the heaviest weight upon our minds, and which the whole tenor of our experience goes to deepen, respects the urgent and imperious necessity of far more extended efforts to send the Gospel to the poor.

The amount of money collected during the year for the purposes of the agency, will vary but a few dollars from 3000. This, although equal to the amount collected during the preceding 15 months, falls considerably short of what we had anticipated. And it ought here to be stated, as explaining the cause of this failure, that in one of the ablest and most liberal counties, for reasons which could not well be waived, it was thought best to defer the time of raising its annual contributions to this object, until the last of May.

Other causes, which need not be here specified, of limited and local effect, have contributed to diminish the amount of our yearly receipts. But we entertain the conviction that another year will carry us beyond the reach of these obstructions, and present a more gratifying result.

We think it deserving a distinct acknowledgment from us, that the God of our beloved Zion seems to have given to the objects and efforts of the agency, an increasing interest in the eyes of the churches.

The whole number of Missionaries by us employed during the year, is	- -	50
Do. do. Congregations supplied, wholly or in part,	- -	69
Do. do. Years of missionary labour performed during the year	- -	38
The increase in the number of missionaries during the year	- - -	12
Congregations supplied this year which were not supplied the last	- - -	22

According to our books, there is now pledged for missionary services remaining unpaid, $3566 52.

The end of all missionary efforts is to build up the church of God. It is, therefore, an occasion of great joy to us, that so much visible good has resulted, during the year, from the missionary labours within our bounds. So far as we can learn, very satisfactory results have, in all cases, attended those labours. In more than half the congregations aided, decided and powerful revivals of religion have occurred. In these revivals many—from 10 to 100 souls in each congregation—have, as we trust, been brought to a saving knowledge of the grace of God. But the actual amount of good accomplished is by no means told, when the number of converts is estimated. Sabbath Schools, Bible Classes, and Temperance Societies, have been established and strengthened. Tracts have been distributed, churches organized and enlarged, and religious influence of vast importance exerted.

These are items in the aggregate of good done, which can never be estimated in the present life.

There are still many churches unsupplied, and many waste places unbuilt. And how shall all these poor be fed? In most of the remaining congregations, there is very little ability to aid themselves. They raise the imploring cry, and say; "Do send us the Gospel,"—and what can we do? Will it be said that ministers must be more self-denying men; must go out, unsent and unsustained, into these moral wastes? We wish to publish it to the churches, that, already, our missionaries, as a body, endure privations from which most of the members of our churches would themselves revolt. More they can hardly be urged to do; especially until the churches themselves are willing, also, to endure self-denials for the cause of Christ. We wish every church and every Christian could know the domestic history of our missionaries. Money they do not hope to save. Scarcely do they look even for the ordinary comforts of life. With but a bare and scanty supply of their necessities, without purse, or scrip, or two coats, they realize the fulfilment of that petition; "Give us day by day our daily bread." If the churches, also, would practise the like precious faith and Christian self-denial, the wants of the poor would be soon supplied. But while many churches are languishing, and souls perishing, it is a fact deeply to be deplored, that many of Christ's professed followers live at ease in their "ceiled houses," and accumulate, every year, a clear income greater than all the resources of the Central Agency. Under these circumstances, there must be guilt somewhere. If the missionaries ought to endure still greater privations, we do not distrust their willingness to do so. If more is due from the able churches and Christians, we trust they will not withhold it.

By order of the Board,

O. P. HOYT,

Corresponding Secretary.

EXTRACTS FROM THE REPORT OF

THE WESTERN RESERVE DOMESTIC MISSIONARY SOCIETY,

AUXILIARY TO THE A. H. M. S., presented by the Directors, at the annual meeting, Oct. 4, 1831.

The Directors meet the Society, at this time, with congratulations, that a beginning has been made in the work of domestic missions in our auxiliary relation to the A. H. M. S. Though but a beginning, it has been made with such indications of favour from the great Head of the Church, as to encourage the confident expectation of enlarged success.

In entering on the duties assigned to us, the following objects claimed the attention of the Board.

1st. To ascertain the number and actual necessities of our feeble churches and destitute districts; and, as far as practicable, prepare the way for them, either singly or associated, to receive the Gospel.

2d. To obtain suitable missionaries to supply these destitutions, and regulate the appropriations for their support.

3d. The withdrawal or diminution of aid, when churches were receiving it unnecessarily, or in a degree not justified by their actual wants.

4th. The awakening of an interest in the destitute, to obtain the Gospel, and, as far as practicable, to help themselves.

5th. To enlist the prayers and efforts of our community in behalf of the Society, and of the destitute whom we seek to aid.

The number and necessities of our feeble Churches, and destitute districts.

It can scarcely be expected that perfect accuracy should be attained in a classification of churches with respect to their relative strength or weakness. It is believed, however, that the statements which follow are sufficiently correct for all present practical purposes.

There are at present, within the appropriate sphere of our operations, 20 churches destitute of the stated ministrations of the Gospel, which, with judicious missionary appropriations, might constantly enjoy the benefits of a permanent ministry.

There are beside the 20 which could have a full supply, 50 settlements partially supplied, and others enjoying no stated Gospel privileges, which, being associated, could, with moderate assistance from the Society, constitute 24 parishes or congregations occupying the time and enjoying the labours of that number of ministers. In addition to these, there are 10 districts, in each of which obedience to the Saviour's command to preach the Gospel would require, and the circumstances would fully warrant, the employment of an itinerant or circuit missionary, to depend on the Society for his support, and to receive more or less toward that support from those to whom he should minister. There is thus apparent an immediate demand for the labours of 54 ministers, in addition to those now in the field.

The supply of Ministers.

Without providing for the wants of the congregations and districts above described, there have been, during the greater part of the past year, and are now, 50 different congregations, enjoying the labours of 40 ministers aided by the American Home Missionary Society within our appropriate limits. The appropriations to aid most of these congregations and ministers are regulated by this Board, and seven of these ministers, labouring in ten congregations, have received their missionary aid from the funds of this Society. As the result of our correspondence, 12 missionaries have been introduced into the service, on our field, during the past year, and several others are already designated to this field.

Diminution of appropriations to particular Congregations.

The average expense to the Society of each year's labour performed by their missionaries, on this field, is about $100. To regulate the appropriations of the Parent Society and of the auxiliary, in exact accordance, on the one hand, with the benevolent spirit of the Gospel, and, on the other hand, with the claims of strict justice, in view of the comparative ability of congregations, is a task of no little difficulty and delicacy; and one which requires a large share of time and attention. To do this, so as perfectly to meet the views of all concerned, would perhaps not be possible. On this subject, however, the most scrupulous care is exercised which circumstances admit.

That mistakes have sometimes occurred in this respect, and a congregation received unnecessary aid, through misapprehension and misinformation, is what is inseparable from human infirmity and imperfection. It is believed, however, that the present system of operations here, and generally where the A. H. M. S. has auxiliary organizations, is happily calculated to remedy this evil as fast, and to make it as small as possible, without going over to as great an evil on the other side.

It may be proper, in this connexion, to add, that the most solemn obligations to the great Head of the Church, and to his cause, require, that congregations, which have received aid, should, as fast as possible, relinquish it in behalf of those more destitute.

Excitement of desire and effort in the destitute, to obtain the Gospel.

It was an obvious fact, that long privation of Christian privileges, had, in many of our settlements, gradually and naturally resulted in indifference toward them, and, in not a few cases, an entire disregard of their benefits. This was, to a lamentable extent, true, not only of those who professed no regard for the Gospel, but, apparently, also, of those in whom better things should be expected. They had either gradually suffered the cares of the world, the provision of earthly comforts, to take the place of care for their souls, and for those around them; and thus had imbibed the spirit of the world ; or, wearied with unsuccessful effort to obtain the blessing of a stated ministry, they had sunk down in despondency, and, having given up hope, it was easy to cease from effort and from desire. Here was a call for labour of a peculiar character, and of no easy accomplishment by mere human skill. But the Spirit of the Lord, which has gone forth among our churches, in the revivals of the present day, has extensively excited new desire and new effort, where both seemed dead before. The calls for labourers in the Gospel harvest are, therefore, now more earnest and more numerous than at any former period.

Enlisting the supplied Churches, in prayer and effort, in behalf of the destitute.

The result of the very limited effort, which has been made for the collection of funds, is such as to afford encouragement, that these churches will not be deaf to the call of duty, in this particular, and that their prayers and their alms will go up for a memorial before God. Instead of the few dollars reported the last year, as raised in all the churches of our Synod, for Domestic Missions, we are permitted to report, at this time, the sum of $1123 63. Of this amount, $722 50 are paid directly to the treasury of the Parent Society, or through other channels than our treasury, though it has been contributed and is expended for sustaining missionaries in this field ; and $401 13 are paid into the treasury of this auxiliary. In estimating the pecuniary gain of our operations to the missionary cause, it would, perhaps, be proper to add to the $1123 63, the amount of curtailments, through these operations, in the appropriations to missionaries, viz : $388, making the whole pecuniary gain, $1511 63.

Results of Missionary Labour.

The reports of our missionaries have not been sufficiently definite, to enable us, in many particulars, to exhibit results by numerical statements. We are, however, permitted to say, that six of the ten congregations to whom appropriations have been made directly by this Society, are reported by the missionaries as participating richly in the extensive revivals in which our God has come to this portion of his Zion. Similar success has attended the labours of many of the missionaries of the Parent Society on this field. At the same time, their influence has been extensively, and directly exerted in giving impulse to the various benevolent operations, which characterize the present as a day of preparation for the accomplishment of Jehovah's ultimate purpose concerning a guilty, ransomed world.

By order of the Directors,

DANIEL W. LATHROP, Secretary
W. R. D. M. Society.

PLAN OF LARGER SOCIETIES.

In those parts of the country where efficient organizations in aid of Home Missions do not already exist, the formation of two kinds of Societies, auxiliary to the A. H. M. S. is desired ; the one large, and the other small, and the former to embrace the latter. Each larger Society may be found to embrace the limits of a county, a city, a state, a presbytery, or a synod, as shall be judged most conducive to its activity and efficiency. The objects of all such Societies should be to raise funds to furnish, first, all needed aid to the destitute within their own limits ; and, secondly, to aid the Parent Society in extending the Gospel to communities still more needy. To accomplish these objects most effectually, it is important that each Society be so small in extent of territory, that its committee or executive board may have a competent knowledge of the claims of the destitute within its limits ; while it should be sufficiently large to furnish a field for the operations of an agent, for the collection of funds, the formation of subsidiary organizations, and to act as its organ of communication with the Parent Society. For this last purpose, it is judged expedient that in all cases where the auxiliary society is sufficiently large to employ a permanent agent, he be also its corresponding secretary.

FORM OF CONSTITUTION,

Recommended to the adoption of Auxiliary Societies.

ART. I.—This Society shall be known by the name of the Domestic Missionary Society of _____, and shall be auxiliary to the American Home Missionary Society.

SEVENTH REPORT.

"IT IS A GOOD THING TO GIVE THANKS UNTO THE LORD, TO SHOW FORTH HIS LOVING-KINDNESS IN THE MORNING, AND HIS FAITHFULNESS EVERY NIGHT." (Ps. 92.) Such is the sentiment of inspired piety, which has commanded the assent of the true worshippers of God in all ages. But the daily expression of this sentiment is a privilege to be enjoyed only by individuals, and by the families that call on the name of the Lord. Large associations of Christians can only assemble to express their united thanks at periods more widely separated. Such is the condition of the Society, whose doings we have met to review. Its individual members and servants, as they contemplate the daily providence of God, may speak of "his faithfulness every night." But there is only one night in the year, in which the Society itself, by its appointed organs and representatives, is privileged to show forth its embodied expressions of gratitude in an ANNUAL REPORT. To this service therefore, especially, the EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE invite the assembled members, directors and friends of the AMERICAN HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

A year so fearfully marked with the displeasure of Him before whom goeth the pestilence, as that which now closes, this nation never experienced. The judgments of the Lord have been abroad in the earth. Wasting and destruction, in terrific forms, have been within our borders; and the political elements of our republic have been wrought into convulsions, which have threatened to rend for ever the sublime and happy union of this nation. But he who sitteth as King in Zion has waved his sceptre over these wide spread scenes of dismay and commotion, and has not permitted them to hurt or to hinder his own cause. The churches have been blessed, and the benevolent institutions of our land have moved onward, almost unimpeded.

Among the Societies whose anniversaries, the present week, are moving the sympathies and enlisting the prayers of a great religious community, perhaps no one has more reason, than that which it is our privilege to serve, to rejoice in the prosperity which has attended its efforts. To exhibit, as briefly as possible, the substance of their report, the committee have, as usual, thrown the details of the Society's operations into tabular form. The following is a

RECAPITULATION.

From the preceding tables the following results are obtained, viz :

The whole number of ministers of the Gospel employed by this Society, during the year, is 606, which is an increase of 97, since last year.

These have laboured, either as missionaries or agents, in 801 congregations, missionary districts,* or fields of agency, in 21 of the

* In this estimate, when the stated labours of a missionary are extended to more than three congregations, it is denominated a missionary district, and counted one. If all the single congregations were counted, they would probably be 1000, or more.

United States and Territories, and in the Provinces of Upper and Lower Canada,—411 being settled as pastors or employed as stated supplies in single congregations, 137 extending their labours to two or three congregations each, and 58, including agents, being employed on larger fields.

Of the missionaries and agents thus employed, 397 were in commission at the commencement of the year; 241 of whom have been re-appointed and are still in the service of the Society. The remaining 209 have been new appointments since the last anniversary, making, in all, 606.

The amount of ministerial labour reported as having been performed, within the year, is 416 years and 9 months.

The number reported as added, within the year, to the churches aided, has been 6,041; viz—1,757 by letter, and 4,284 by examination, on profession of their faith.

One hundred and one of the churches aided have been blessed with special revivals of religion; and the number of hopeful conversions reported, (the larger portion of whom are not embraced in the reported additions to the churches,) is 3,435, making the probable number of conversions, under the labours of our missionaries, within the year, about 7,000.

The number of Sabbath Schools sustained, during the whole or a part of the year, under the ministry of our missionaries, is 770, embracing 31,140 scholars.

The number of Bible Classes reported, as conducted by the missionaries themselves, has been 378, embracing 11,195 pupils of all ages.

The number of subscribers to the principle of entire abstinence from the use of intoxicating drinks, reported in the congregations aided, is 53,746, which is 17,344 more than the number reported last year.

These results have been ascertained by a laborious examination of the reports of the missionaries and agents, and by accurate calculations from the statements which they contain, and the minutes of the Executive Committee. They may be relied on as correct, and fully sustained by documents on the files of the Society. But these documents, though they are entirely worthy of trust, in regard to their accuracy, as far as they extend, are, nevertheless, necessarily defective. Many of the Reports from missionaries do not bring down the account of their labours to the end of the year, and from some, reports of the last quarter are due, which, on account of the failure of the conveyances to which they have been intrusted, or other hindrances, have not been received. Results, therefore, obtained by calculations founded on testimony actually in possession, in these circumstances, must be regarded as falling short of the facts. More has been accomplished than these calculations exhibit; more Sabbath Schools have been sustained, and more Bible Classes instructed; and if 6,041 souls have been reported as actually added to the churches, it is safe to conclude that a larger number have been the hopeful subject of regenerating grace, under the labours of our missionaries.

Though the last year, therefore, has not been so signally marked, as the preceding, with the blessing of revivals, there has been an advance in the work of conversion, and in every other good influence which ordinarily attends the labours of our missionaries. This, indeed, has been the permanent characteristic of the American Home Missionary Society, during the whole period of its existence. Its movement has been onward. The Report of each succeeding year has exhibited a rapid enlargement of its operations, and the blessing of God upon every department of its influence has been generally in proportion to this enlargement.

STATE OF THE TREASURY.

The foregoing remarks are supported, not only by the details already enumerated, but also, in part, by an examination of the receipts into the Treasury of the Society. There has been, every year, an increase in the amount received, though this increase, for the last two years, has not been in proportion to the increase of the Society's expenditures. At the last anniversary, the balance against the Treasury, was $2,509 14; and the Treasurer's Report, this evening presented, exhibits a balance of the same kind, amounting to $159 93. At different periods, during the year, this balance has been much greater than it now is. During the months of December, January, and February last, the Treasury was actually overdrawn from $8,000 to $14,000, for which the Treasurer and other members of the Executive Committee were personally responsible. Here, then, is a failure in that delightful proportion which has marked the increase of the Society in almost every other department of its operations. The churches have withheld from this enterprise more than was meet. And whether it hath tended to their own poverty, let such as have been delinquent decide. We judge them not. But, as representatives of a VOLUNTARY SOCIETY, having no claim upon the contributions of the religious community, excepting such as addresses itself to the heart and the conscience, and makes its appeal for our "work's sake," the Executive Committee affectionately ask, whether the friends of this Society, who have failed to do what they can to sustain it, have duly considered the amount of individual sacrifice and responsibility devolved upon its servants by their failure? It is not for the want of friends that the Committee have so long found it necessary to pledge their own notes for the means required to meet the drafts of the missionaries as they become due. Evidence is abundant that the work in which we are engaged is popular. Multitudes of estimable citizens, as well as members of the churches, rejoice in its prosperity and usefulness, who do little or nothing to promote it. Their knowledge of its popularity, it may be, is, in many cases, the reason of their withholding their contributions, or diverting them to other objects, under the impression, that, without their assistance, an enterprise so interesting to all American Christians, will be sustained. But in a field so wide, and a work so difficult, such reasoning is obviously incorrect. The state of the Society's Treasury is a standing appeal for an increase of contributions from all such as have failed to do their duty.

This failure, however, has not been universal, and while the delinquency of some seems to have furnished a just occasion for the foregoing remarks, the Committee acknowledge with gratitude the prompt and efficient aid of many, in all parts of the land, who have loved, not in word only, but in deed and in truth. Though the receipts of the last two years have been less than the expenditures of the Society, still the receipts of the last year have been $15,812 78 more than those of the previous year. In this respect, therefore, as well as in others, the grand characteristic of the Society has been preserved. Its movement is onward, though not in proportion to the number of its missionaries, or the enlarged demands of the work to be done.

SOURCES OF INCOME.

Individual contributions directly to the Society's Treasury have been received, as formerly, from almost every section of the country. Several small legacies have also been collected; the largest of which was $1350 from the late Thomas Wilcox, of Connecticut. Collections by missionaries and others, and contributions and collections in churches, have also been continued, and have constituted a considerable item in the receipts of the Treasurer. But Agencies, Societies, Associations, and Churches, regularly auxiliary, have furnished by far the largest amount derived from any one of the general sources of the Society's income.

The following, on account of their importance and efficiency, demand a special notice in this Report.

MASSACHUSETTS MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

This Society, though constitutionally auxiliary to the A. H. M. S. for several years past, did not adopt the terms of direct co-operation with the Parent Society, until the 26th of May, 1832. This event was hailed with satisfaction by the Executive Committee; and they have watched, with deep interest, the increasing prosperity of the Massachusetts Society, during the year. The Rev. R. S. Storrs, Secretary of that Society, and also of the Parent Society for the New-England states, had spent most of the preceding year in Massachusetts, as joint agent for the two, and through his efficient labours the receipts of that auxiliary had been much increased. At the time of the above change in the terms of its auxiliary connexion, it brought to the aid of the common cause a balance in its Treasury of $2,387. Its receipts, from the above date to April 1st, 1833, (a little more than ten months,) were $9,595 84, making the whole amount at the disposal of that Society, during the same period, $11,982 76. A considerable portion of this sum was pledged in the commissions of the previous year, and has since been paid. The number of missionaries, including agents, appointed by that Society in Massachusetts, within the year, under commissions furnished by the Parent Society, has been 55. These have been sustained from the Treasury of the auxiliary; and, in addition to the amount thus expended, the sum of $4,900 has been transmitted to the Treasury of the A. H. M. S., and expended in the Western and Southern states.

In addition to the above amount, the following sums have been received from the state of Massachusetts, viz.

From the HAMPSHIRE MISSIONARY SOCIETY $1,862 72, which, together with a balance previously paid, but unappropriated to the credit of that Society, has been expended in the support of 23 missionaries in different states. This amount is $1,071 72 more than was received from the same Society the previous year, and indicates an increased interest in the cause among our efficient friends in the "Old County of Hampshire."

Contributions from churches and individuals in that state, transmitted by the donors directly to the Parent Society, $2,893 31.

These sums added to the receipts of the Massachusetts Missionary Society, make the whole amount received from the state of Massachusetts, within the last year, $14,351 87.

CONNECTICUT MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Connecticut Missionary Society, auxiliary to the A. H. M. S., within the year ending April 1, 1833, granted aid, under commissions furnished by the Parent Society, to support 34 missionaries in that State, one in Rhode Island, and 3 in Missouri. It has also employed two agents, for a short time each, the Rev. C. L. Watson, and the Rev. A. Crane, whose labours, we are assured, were highly useful and acceptable. The Report of last year exhibited a balance in its Treasury of $2,053 72. Receipts acknowledged since that time $5,021 63, making in all, at the disposal of that Society, during the year, $7,075 35. Of this sum, $3,547 04 have been expended leaving $3,528 31 in the Treasury, subject to the order of the Parent Society, April 1, 1833.

The following sums have also been received from the state of Connecticut, viz:

From the HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY, EASTERN DISTRICT OF NEW-HAVEN Co. $691, which has been expended in the support of 3 missionaries in Illinois and Ohio.

Donations from individuals and churches in that State, transmitted directly to the Parent Society, $3,559 10, making in all, received from the state of Connecticut within the year, $9,271 72.

NEW-HAMPSHIRE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The receipts into the Treasury of this Society, in the year ending April 1, 1833, subject to the order of the Parent Society, have been $5,054 75, which is $2,139 58 more than the amount received during the previous year. There have also been received from individuals and churches in that State, contributed directly to the Parent Society, $411 47, which, with $300 transmitted by the N. H. M. S., makes, in all, from the state of New-Hampshire, $5,766 22. The number of missionaries within that state, including the agent, has been 53, and $4,609 64 has been expended in their support, leaving $441 11 on hand, April 1, 1833. This Report shows an increase of 12 missionaries within the year, and a rapid advance in the amount of business done by the Society. This auxiliary, in proportion to the ability of the churches embraced in it, is perhaps not surpassed in the liberality of its contributions and its prospects of enlarged usefulness. The Reports, both of the Secretary, the Rev. J. Scales, and of the Rev. A. Rankin, our agent on that field, are of a highly encouraging character. The sum already pledged for the year to come surpasses the receipts of the last year; and through the efficient labours of Mr. R. and his coadjutors, we trust a much larger amount will be secured.

MAINE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The receipts of this Society, in the year ending April 1, 1832, were $3,530 14. From that time to April 1, 1833, its receipts have been $5,618 56, which exhibits an increase of $2,129 42. The number of its missionaries has also been increased from 56 to 64, all within the state of Maine, while $99 have been received by the Parent Society from individuals and churches in that state, for the support of missionaries in the Western states, making a total from the state of Maine of $5,717 56. It is delightful to witness the movings of this sympathy in churches of the extreme East, on behalf of the farthest West. The Secretary, Dr. Gillett, in communicating his Report, remarks, "There is a Sabbath School, a Temperance Society, and a Bible Class, in almost every place where missionaries labour. Revivals have not been as numerous as last year, but the general operations of the Society have been very much enlarged, and wonderfully succeeded. There have been 18 settlements in the ministry in this state since last year at this time, and 10 of this number are missionaries of the M. M. S. Our income is almost doubled, but we shall be constrained to add 25 per cent. to it next year, or restrict our operations."

WESTERN AGENCY IN THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.

In our former Reports, this agency has been distinguished as the most efficient of the auxiliaries of the Parent Society. But the increased action of the state Societies of Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maine, and New-Hampshire, during the past year, has given them the precedence. Yet the zealous friends of the cause composing this agency, have pursued their work with encouraging results. Its receipts have been $4,375 74, which exceeds the amount of expenditures, in supporting 53 missionaries within its own bounds. The whole amount of its receipts, since the organization of the Society in 1826, is $34,634 92, which is from $1,000 to $2,000 more than has been expended on that field in the same time. [See Report of Agency, in Appendix.]

CENTRAL AGENCY IN THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.

This agency has continued its operations with increasing efficiency. Its receipts during the last year have been $2,938 29, the number of new congregations supplied 21, and the number of missionaries employed 53, who have laboured the whole or a part of the year in 74 congregations. The amount of money pledged in the support of missionaries within the bounds of this agency since its last Report, has been $3,135, which is $197 dollars more than the receipts of the agency. This deficiency has doubtless been occasioned by the suspension of the action of the agency on account of the cholera, and also by the resignation of the agent on that field, the Rev. O. P. Hoyt, whose place has recently been supplied by the appointment of the Rev. A. Crane. The prospects for another year are highly encouraging. [See Report, in Appendix.]

VERMONT DOMESTIC MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

This Society, owing to our failure to secure an agent to visit the churches within its bounds, has been much less efficient than the sister auxiliary in New-Hampshire. Still it is holding on its way, and its officers and friends manifest a cheerful readiness and an earnest desire to co-operate with the Parent Society, in measures to enlist the sympathies of the churches more deeply in this important cause. An agent has been designated for that state, whose labours, it is confidently expected, will hereafter greatly increase the amount of its contributions. The number of missionaries employed by the V. D. M. S. within the last year, has been 35, and the receipts into its treasury $1,739 49. Add to this $100 donation, and $51 received in contributions directly to the Parent Society, and the whole amount of income from Vermont is $1,890 49.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF AGENCY CINCINNATI, OHIO.

This agency has prosecuted its work with increased efficiency, during the last year. The Rev. J. W. Douglass was usefully employed in connexion with it, in visiting the churches in several of the Western states, until November last, when, on account of the insufficiency of his health to sustain the labour of this service, he was induced to relinquish it, and accept the charge of a church in Lexington, Virginia. Since that time temporary agents only have been employed on that field, whose labours have been satisfactory. The receipts of the agency for the year, subject to the order of the Parent Society, have been $1,240 74, which is $824 48 more than the income of the previous year. Their correspondence has also been highly useful to the Executive Committee, in conducting their operations in the West.

SABBATH SCHOLARS' ASSOCIATIONS.

Among the auxiliaries in single congregations, none have been regarded with more lively interest than those composed of Sabbath School Scholars. Of these, that in the Cedar-street Presbyterian Church, New-York, was the first formed, and has granted aid during the year to six missionaries. A similar situation in the South Dutch Church, New-York, has numbered three missionaries; and these noble examples have been emulated by other Sabbath Scholars' Associations in other cities and in various places, several of which have supported one missionary each, under commissions from this Society.

GENERAL REMARKS.

One of the principles adopted and recorded at the formation of the American Home Missionary Society, in 1826, "to be considered as fundamental in all its proceedings," was the following, viz. "Local Societies already existing, not to be superseded, except in accordance with their own desire, but to be strengthened and stimulated." To this principle the Executive Committee have watchfully adhered. Its effects are now delightfully manifest in the results of their co-operation with the foregoing and other Societies. Several of the state Societies existed, and had accomplished much good, before the National Society was formed. But since their connexion with it, their resources and usefulness have been greatly augmented. It has furnished to all a common medium through which to extend their benefactions harmoniously and efficiently to every portion of the land, while it has also much increased the action of each within its own bounds. In return, these Societies, by the increase of their action and the manner of their co-operation, are not only auxiliaries, but parts of the Parent Society, essential to its characteristic existence and extended usefulness. It is through their identity with it, that this Society, under the blessing of God, has been enabled to extend its benefits to every state in the nation.

By this happy arrangement, the older states have become helpers together of the new. The state of New York, for instance, has probably contributed during the last year, $11,000 more than has been expended within its own bounds; and each of the New-England states has raised a considerable amount above what has been required for the support of its own missionaries. This has been appropriated by the Parent Society to the more needy states and territories.

By the "Supplementary Table," it appears, that some states have been served more bountifully, by these appropriations, than others. The Committee have desired to adapt the benefactions of the Society to the comparative wants of the different sections of the whole country. But, as in former years, it has been found impracticable. Few labourers, comparatively, have been willing to be located in the Southern and South-western states, while most of those who have entered our service, for remote stations, have chosen to plant themselves in the central and northern portions of the valley of the Mississippi. The whole number aided by this Society, west of the Alleghany mountains, since its last anniversary, is 189, and the whole number employed there, since the formation of the Society, 260; "and yet there is room."

The condition of those states in respect to their destitution of the ordinances of the Gospel, and the means of their supply, is becoming every year more accurately understood by this Committee.

The Rev. Dr. B. H. Rice having been appointed Associate Secretary in September last, performed with ability and efficiency, during the autumnal and winter months, the usual labours and agencies of the Corresponding Secretary in New-York and the adjoining states. This arrangement has enabled the Corresponding Secretary to travel extensively in the service of the Society in the Western and South-western states. During an absence of six months, from October to April, he visited twelve states, conferred with the churches and brethren as extensively as practicable, collected much information respecting their comparative wants, which the Committee regard as highly important to their future operations.

The effects of this extensive personal survey of so large a portion of the field, and also of the active correspondence which has been maintained with the friends of the cause in other states, have been to impress the Committee more deeply than ever before, with a sense of the magnitude of the work to be done by this Society, while they perceive more clearly the increasing facilities and encouragements which exist, to its accomplishment. There is a growing interest felt in the evangelical character of this enterprise; and the organization and efforts of the A. H. M. Society, their safety, their efficiency, their recognition of ecclesiastical order, and their direct and unembarrassed responsibility to the churches for the character of the missionaries employed, are everywhere approved in proportion as they are clearly understood. The following is a brief

From this view it appears that the missionaries of this Society have increased, in seven years, from 169 to 606, and the congregations and missionary districts annually aided in their support, have increased from 196 to 861. These missionaries have laboured in the service of the Society the full amount of 1775 years. Under their ministry, 17,579 souls have been reported as added to the churches, on profession of their faith, within the last six years. They have also reported, each year, from 10,000 to 31,498 children instructed in Sabbath Schools; and from 2,000 to 11,080 in Bible Classes, while, according to their ability, they have been efficient helpers in every good work which has claimed the attention of the benevolent on the fields of their labour.

Such are the facts which the Committee feel bound, in the discharge of their official trust, to communicate to the Society, and, with their approbation, to lay before the public. These facts need no comment, other than we have made in passing. Let them speak, and the object for which we are required to report will be attained. The religious community will awake to renewed exertions. A work so well begun, and so prosperously sustained for seven years, will be prosecuted with a vigour proportioned to its greatly increased and increasing magnitude. The tried friends of the cause will do more than they have done, and other hearts will warm into sympathy with its touching claims, and other contributions of wealth, of talent, and of piety, will flow spontaneously to its aid. The North will come, and the South keep not back, and the East and the West will flow together, and join their hands in the holy enterprise, until it shall be accomplished.

ANNUAL REPORT.

Geneva, May 1st, 1833.

To the Executive Committee of the A. H. M. S.

In submitting our SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT, the Western Agency recognise the care of the same gracious providence of God, over our deliberations and work, which has attended us in former years. Fifty-three missionary commissions have been issued this year, upon the field assigned to this agency. With but few exceptions, they have embraced an entire year each, giving an average number of about fifty missionaries, under the patronage of the Society, within our bounds, during the whole period included in this Report.

The same results have followed the labours of our missionaries, as have been detailed in former Reports. Revivals of religion have not, perhaps, prevailed as extensively as last year, yet some portions of the field under our eye, have advanced more rapidly, than at any former period, toward the great end for which the Gospel is preached in the world.

But the character and success of the work, within this agency, are already known to you, from the quarterly reports of our missionaries, and as they will be embodied in the Report of the Parent Society, need not be minutely detailed in this brief communication.

The aggregate expense of this year's operation, in sustaining these labourers, has been something more than $4,000. The receipts of the year will exceed the expenses. The contributions of some of our churches have been transmitted directly to the Treasury of the Parent Society, without being reported at the agency. Collections from several others are yet in the hands of local agents, and Treasurers of auxiliaries, and will soon be forwarded. The sum of $4,375 74, has been received to our Treasury, making an aggregate amount of receipts, since the organization of the agency in 1826, of $34,634 92. This amount is from one to two thousand dollars larger than that expended on this field, in the same time, leaving a small balance from year to year, which has aided the Parent Society in its benevolent labours upon other portions of the missionary field. In looking back over the history of the work thus far, we are filled with devout gratitude to God, and are constrained with the prophet to exclaim, "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us." More than one hundred and fifty congregations have successively received missionary aid through this board, a large portion of which are now sustaining the institutions of the Gospel without help from abroad. Others, now present very interesting fields of missionary labour, and still invite and encourage the benevolent efforts of your Society.

There are now within our bounds, nearly twice as many ministers of the Gospel, of the Presbyterian and Congregational denominations, as there were when this agency entered on its work. Churches are now formed in almost every place, of sufficient geographical dimensions to sustain the institutions of religion, and no portion of our country, so young as this, is probably more fully supplied with the stated labours of the Christian ministry. Still we have among us feeble churches, that need aid in supporting the preached Gospel; and destitute churches that must be furnished through the fostering care of the friends of missions. Our high aim should be to relax no effort until every waste place is built up, and until over the whole face of the country, shall be presented, an unbroken succession of congregations, enjoying the stated labours of the Christian pastor, and enriched with all the gifts of the Word and Spirit of God.

Some embarrassments have attended our work the last year. Owing to the want of definite arrangements in respect to a travelling agent, the congregations have not been as extensively visited as we could have wished. The Gen. Assembly's Board of Missions have employed an agent on this ground, the most, if not the whole of the year, which has doubtless diverted some funds to a sister institution, which have formerly been contributed to our board, and, in other respects, made the work of collecting funds, for missionary purposes, somewhat more difficult. We trust, however, that the spirit of union is entering into the counsels of all the friends of this cause, and that the sublime purpose of disciplining the entire population of our land, to the faith and fellowship of Christ, will be prosecuted with increasing harmony and vigour, until universally over it the wilderness shall become a fruitful field, and there shall be no need to teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, "Know the Lord, for all shall know him, from the least even to the greatest."

By order, and in behalf of the Board,

MILES P. SQUIER,

Corresponding Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The year opened with very pleasing prospects of enlarged usefulness in our labours of love. For a few months our anticipations were fully realized. But the Lord has again afflicted us. We hope the frequent mention we are called to make of the chastisements of our gracious God will produce in us a filial spirit; clothe us with humility; and enlist us more entirely in his enterprise of mercy. We wish also to mingle with our brethren in various parts of the land, and "humble ourselves under the mighty hand of God," which has appeared in the prevalence of the deadly cholera; spreading paleness over the face of the nation, and hurrying thousands of our citizens to their long home, and filling our streets with mourners.

The panic occasioned in this region by this fearful visitation, has affected no department of human effort more seriously than the business of this agency. While the embarrassments thus occasioned were removing, and the most favourable season was opening, for securing the means of sending the bread of life to the hungry and the dying, we were under the painful necessity of parting with our Corresponding Secretary and Agent, the Rev. O. P. Hoyt, and before your present agent was obtained, the best portion of the year for replenishing our Treasury had passed, and we are left with diminished resources to meet increasing demands.

But what are these light afflictions, which are but for a moment, compared with the distinguishing mercies with which we are encompassed. We are not yet cast out of the Lord's vineyard. He is still giving us work enough to do, and work of sufficient magnitude and interest to absorb our affections, to inspire our tongues, and to command our energies. To us are committed tens of thousands of deathless germs, to be trained for glory and honour and immortality: and multitudes of them are yet to be persuaded that obedience is better than rebellion, or they never can participate in the blessings, or mingle in the praises, of the kingdom of God. O! the dignity,—the luxury, of being used by God to rescue our fellow men from the interminable wo of the lost rebel, and to people the world of felicity with their undying spirits!

Though the departments of Christian effort are multiplying, and inviting the attention of our churches, and they are manifesting a willingness "to do good to all men as they have opportunity," still we have no doubt that the Home Missionary cause is rising in their estimation. As intelligence is poured upon their minds, they discover, more distinctly, the salutary bearing of this method of doing good, upon the dearest interests of our whole land and our whole world. And not only are Christians feeling this, but, amidst all the unfriendly insinuations against this work of love, which are put in circulation by those "who know not what they say nor whereof they affirm;" the philanthropist and the patriot see, in the prosecution of this enterprise, the future welfare of thousands now living, and of millions yet to live, as it tends to preserve the invaluable bequest of their veteran fathers, by causing "wisdom and knowledge to be the stability of our times." Says one of this description, in a very serious manner, to the agent who was pressing the claims of this Society, "I have no reason to hope I am a Christian, and I should feel I was assuming, to pretend to aid this object as a Christian, but I think it commends itself to the patriot as well as to the Christian, and as a patriot I will cheerfully give."

It is encouraging also to witness the grateful acknowledgments which are returned from many of the feeble churches, for aid which has been bestowed by you. But paper and ink cannot tell it. None but he who has been on the ground where these famishing pilgrims live, and has seen them weep for joy when your missionary came, and has heard them, with a voice faltering with grateful emotions, pour out their thanksgiving to God, for the unspeakable privilege of letting them once more sit under the droppings of the sanctuary, can have any adequate conception of the feelings of many to whom you are sending the bread of life. If conferring the slightest favour upon one of the least of Christ's disciples is regarded as done to him, how sublimely blessed the privilege of bestowing the ascension gift upon so many thousands of his brethren, who otherwise would remain hungry, and sick, and in prison.

The reports of your missionaries give us reason to hope that the Spirit of the Lord has been upon them, and upon the churches to which they minister, and that many have become, the past year, by their instrumentality, "the habitation of God through the Spirit."

Though we cannot speak with precision, still we know that several houses of worship have been erected in this district, the past year, in places where your missionaries labour. A number of new stations have been occupied where the Gospel never before was stately preached, and churches have been organized, where none before existed. Some congregations, which have been aided by your Society, have signified their intention to sustain themselves. The attention formerly paid to the welfare of the rising generation, in connexion with Sabbath Schools and Bible Classes, continues, as far as we know at least, undiminished. The Temperance cause also has prospered the past year beyond any former precedent.

The number of new congregations supplied the past year is 21

.... of missionaries employed during the year	is 53
.... of years of missionary service performed	is 35
.... of congregations supplied	is 74

The amount of money pledged the past year for missionary services, } up to the 1st of the present month, } is $3,135 00

The amount of money collected during the same time, } $2,938 29

Taught by past experience that, "If the Lord build not the house, the workmen labour in vain that build it;" in view of the thousands unprovided for in our own field of labour, and within hearing of the cries of perishing millions in other portions of our land, we would pour our prayer into the ear of "Him, with whom nothing is impossible," that he would make us "endure hardness as good soldiers of Jesus Christ," and that he would make all our churches "thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead; and that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves but unto him who died for them and rose again."

Gladly would we encourage you, while enduring the oppressive burden "which comes upon you daily—the care of all the churches," with cheering anticipations of our increasing success the coming year. But in assuming its responsibilities, and in approaching its labours and its trials, we would rather say, "If the Lord will, we shall live and do this or that."

By order of the Board,

A. CRANE,
Corresponding Secretary.

Utica, April 24, 1833.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF AGENCY FOR THE WESTERN STATES, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

This agency, as noticed in our Report, has continued its operations with increasing success, and its prospects are highly encouraging; but owing to some contemplated changes, in connexion with the recent appointment of agents on that field, we omit here the publication of the names which at present compose it. We are, however, happy to state that the Rev. HENRY LITTLE, of Oxford, Ohio, has accepted our appointment as General Agent of the A. H. M. S., in connexion with the above Committee and other concurrent Committees in the Western states; and as soon as the arrangements contemplated shall be made, the public will be informed through the "Home Missionary." The following is the

ANNUAL REPORT.

Another year we have been allowed to share with you in the delightful privilege of distributing the bread of life to the destitute. As almoners of the bounty of your Society, we would express our gratitude to the Head of the church, and to our brethren and sisters of the older states, for the help which has been afforded to the weak churches and destitute places of the West. The labours of missionaries, aided by your bounty, has not been in vain. Some have planted churches, where none had existed; and others have strengthened "things that were ready to perish." Through evil and good report they have gone steadily and prayerfully onward, preaching Christ and him crucified. Scattered over the wide spreading regions of the West, in connexion with their fellow labourers, they have been instrumental in converting many souls. Schools, academies and colleges are springing up under their fostering care. The wilderness, here and there, begins to blossom as the rose. They have had trials, discouragements, and labours, to which many of their eastern brethren are strangers. They have done much. Their fellow labourers have also done much. But the work is but just begun. We have extensive regions, settled by an enterprising population of immortal souls, where the voice of a Presbyterian preacher has never been heard; and even, if to-day a minister could be placed in every settlement of the West, before twelve months had passed, the ever flowing tide of emigration would cover other regions, now in the wilderness of nature, with immortals requiring the means of salvation. So long as the sons and daughters of the older states continue to penetrate our Western wilds, to fix their homes in these regions, it will be the duty and privilege of older and more favoured Churches, to help them in sustaining the Gospel. We have no doubt your minds have dwelt upon these views, and we confidently expect that the charities and prayers of the patrons of your Society will be directed to the Great Valley, so long as a destitute section invites the hand of cultivation.

The prospective usefulness of your Society in the West was never more flattering; its past efforts have embalmed it in the grateful recollection of thousands. Opposition, from whatever source it may have arisen, has become less violent. A great and effectual door for your benevolent exertions is here opened. Our own experience and observation, sustained by the concurrent testimony of our agents and friends, all combine to show that here, the only limit to your efforts will be found in the inadequacy of means to supply the calls of feeble churches. The field is broad and "white to the harvest," but alas! the labourers are few; every month, and almost every day, we have been compelled to say to supplicating Churches, "we have no minister to recommend to you." But to these things you are not strangers.

The Committee have shown less energy, in the good cause intrusted to their responsibility, than the nature of the case required; but still they have not been idle. The results of our meetings, for counsel, have been transmitted to your board, from time to time, and we would hope that our suggestions have not been in vain. The perfect harmony of this Committee, and its general coincidence of opinion with the Parent Board, have rendered our duties pleasant; and if it shall finally appear that we have been the means of judiciously directing the hand of benevolence in distributing her bounty among the feeble churches of the West, we shall not regret any sacrifices to which these duties have subjected us. We have had trials, but God has thus far helped us, and recent events, in Divine Providence, have deepened our conviction that the servants of Christ may safely trust the keeping of their persons, property, and reputation, to the care of the Great Head of the Church.

In the name of the churches aided by your Society, through this agency; and in the name of the untold millions of this, and future generations, that shall feel the beneficial results of your operations in the Valley of the Mississippi, we return our thanks to the patrons of your Society for their exertions in our behalf; and pray that God may give them grace to perfect that which they have so nobly begun.

In behalf of the Central Committee,

THOMAS BRAINERD, Secretary.

PLAN OF LARGER SOCIETIES.

In those parts of the country where efficient organizations in aid of Home Missions do not already exist, the formation of two kinds of Societies, auxiliary to the A. H. M. S. is desired; the one large, and the other small, and the former to embrace the latter. Each larger Society may be formed to embrace the limits of a county, a city, a state, a presbytery, or a synod, as shall be judged most conducive to its activity and efficiency. The objects of all such Societies should be to raise funds to furnish, first, all needed aid to the destitute within their own limits; and, secondly, to aid the Parent Society in extending the Gospel to communities still more needy. To accomplish these objects most effectually, it is important that each Society be so small in extent of territory, that its committee or executive board may have a competent knowledge of the claims of the destitute within its limits; while it should be sufficiently large to furnish a field for the operations of an agent, for the collection of funds, the formation of subsidiary organizations, and to act as its organ of communication with the Parent Society. For this last purpose, it is judged expedient that in all cases where the auxiliary Society is sufficiently large to employ a permanent agent, he be also its corresponding secretary.

FORM OF CONSTITUTION,

Recommended to the adoption of Auxiliary Societies.

ART. I.—This Society shall be known by the name of the Domestic Missionary Society of _____, and shall be auxiliary to the American Home Missionary Society.

ART. II.—This Society shall be composed of such individuals as shall contribute annually to its funds, together with the members of the several church and congregational associations for Home Missions within the limits of this Society.

ART. III.—The officers of this Society shall be a president, _____ vice presidents, a treasurer, and a secretary, to be chosen at the annual meeting. These officers, in connexion with at least one person elected from each of the several associations of gentlemen composing the Society, shall constitute a board of directors, of whom not less than five shall be a quorum, at any meeting regularly convened.

ART. IV.—It shall be the duty of the board of directors to meet at the call of the president, or as often as shall be necessary for the transaction of business; to fill their own vacancies; to appoint an executive committee; to adopt the most energetic measures in their power, to accomplish the object of the Society; especially by distributing such publications as may be committed to them by the Parent institution, and by deputing some of their number to attend the annual meetings of the several associations; and, in general, by using all suitable means to excite an interest in the cause of Home Missions.

ART. V.—The annual receipts of the Society, after defraying incidental expenses, shall be paid over to the treasurer of the Parent Society, with directions as to the section of country in which it shall be expended in missionary labours, should the board deem it important to give such directions. [See resolutions on next page.]

ART. VI.—The Society shall meet as often as called by the directors, and annually on the _____ of March, when the officers shall be elected; the accounts of the treasurer, properly audited, shall be presented, and the annual report of the directors received; and when this constitution may be amended by a vote of two thirds of the members present.

ART. VII.—A copy of the constitution, authenticated by the secretary, together with the names and the residences of the officers annually elected, and also a copy of each annual report, shall be transmitted to the corresponding secretary of the American Home Missionary Society, as early as the first of April, in each year.

SMALLER SOCIETIES.

Within the limits of each larger Society, there should be organized Auxiliary Societies or Associations. Of these Associations it is recommended that there be formed two in each town, parish, or congregation, the one composed of males, and the other of females; and that they adopt the following

RULES

For the Government of Church [or Congregational] Associations [or Societies] for Home Missions,

1. This Association shall be called the [or Female] Missionary Association, [or Society,] of Church, [or Congregation,] auxiliary to the American Home Missionary Society, [or the Auxiliary Society of .]

2. Every person who shall contribute annually to the funds shall be a member.

3. *The affairs of the Association shall be conducted by a first and second director, [or directress,] a secretary, a treasurer, and collectors, who shall be chosen annually, and together shall constitute a committee.

4. It shall be the duty of the committee to meet at least once in three months, to appoint assistant collectors, and transact such other business as may come before them.

5. The first director, [or directress,] and in case of his [or her] absence, the second director, [or directress,] shall preside in all meetings of the Association, and shall have power to call special meetings at pleasure.

6. The Association shall meet annually, on the second Monday in March of each year, when the Report shall be read, and the election of officers held; and when these rules may be altered by a vote of two thirds of the members present.

EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY.

THE American Home Missionary Society held its Eighth Anniversary in the Chatham-street Chapel, New-York, on Wednesday evening, May 7, 1834. The Hon. Stephen Van Rensselaer, LL. D., President of the Society, took the chair, and the meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. John Codman, D. D., of Dorchester, Mass.

The Treasurer's Report was read by Mr. Knowles Taylor, Treasurer.

The Eighth Annual Report of the Society was read by the Rev. Absalom Peters, Corresponding Secretary.

The following resolutions were adopted, viz :—

1. On motion of the Rev. E. Phelps, of Geneva, N. Y., seconded by the Rev. J. D. Paxton, of Danville, Ky.:

Resolved, That the Report be adopted, and printed under the direction of the Executive Committee.

2. On motion of the Rev. Sylvester Eaton, of Buffalo, N. Y., seconded by the Rev. G. N. Judd, of Philadelphia :

Resolved, That the success which has attended Home Missions, encourages us to trust in the promises of God, and to go on with our work till we have obeyed our Master's command : " Preach the Gospel to every creature."

3. On motion of the Rev. G. W. Blagden, of Boston, Mass., seconded by Mr. C. McIntire, of Charleston, S. C.:

Resolved, That the incidental influence of an evangelical, educated clergy upon the intellectual and political character of the people, presents one of the strongest motives for an efficient and cheerful support of the American Home Missionary Society.

4. The Rev. Andrew Reed, of London, and the Rev. James Matheson, of Durham, England, being introduced to the meeting as delegates from the London Home Missionary Society, presented the following resolution, moved by the former and seconded by the latter :

Resolved, That the operations of this Society, in their important bearings upon the advancement of religion in other countries, should enlist the sympathies of all Christian lands.

5. On motion of the Rev. J. M. Sturtevant, Professor in Illinois College, Illinois, seconded by the Rev. Thomas Mac Auley, D. D. LL. D., of New-York:

Resolved, That while this Society is bound to thank God for what has been already accomplished in the cause of Home Missions in this nation, we are also bound to acknowledge that our efforts have as yet fallen far short of our wants as a nation, and our duty as Christians.

In support of the above resolutions, appropriate addresses were made by the Rev. Messrs. Eaton, Blagden, and Reed, of London, Professor Sturtevant, and Dr. Mac Auley; and the interest of the meeting was enlivened by music interspersed, conducted by Mr. Hastings, closing with the Christian Doxology. The congregation was dismissed by the Apostolic benediction by the Rev. Dr. Mathews, of New-York.

The Society proceeded to the election of Officers for the ensuing year, and made choice of the following :—

EIGHTH REPORT.

“THE FIELD IS THE WORLD,” and the command of him to whom belongeth the dominion of it is, “GO, PREACH THE GOSPEL TO EVERY CREATURE.” “TEACH ALL NATIONS.” These brief and intelligible announcements, with the promised presence of the Saviour to the end, furnish to the disciples of Christ their warrant and their encouragement to endeavour the conversion of the world. The purpose and the pledge of such endeavours are the essence of the Christian profession, and must therefore lie at the bottom of the structure of every legitimate plan for the spread of the Gospel.

Such it is believed were the elements of that individual feeling and public impulse which called into being the Society, whose anniversary we now celebrate. It is an AMERICAN and a HOME Society, not because its members and conductors have no sympathy for other nations. The existence of such a sympathy, deeply and devoutly cherished, was the mainspring of its organization, and continues to furnish the most commanding motive to its efforts. The moral map of the peopled earth began to be contemplated. A cry was heard from every land, “Come over and help us.” The supplicating voice of want from all pagan nations was addressed to christendom. Yet christendom was not Christianized. The good soldiers of the cross were not marshalled in preparation for the conquest of the world, while, even in the midst of the churches, there remained much land yet to be possessed. The conflict between light and darkness even in the most favoured nations was fearful. In our own country especially, with a population so young and buoyant, so rapidly increasing and widely dispersed, and exposed, by the very freedom of its institutions, to bad influences as well as good, from every part of the world, there seemed to be approaching, a crisis which would demand much more than all the religious influence which it possessed to save from total wreck its high and delightful promise of distinction among the benefactors of mankind.

In view of this condition of the world, presenting a field so wide, so desolate, so hopeless, (but for the Gospel of Christ,) the hearts of many American Christians were deeply moved. Fervent supplications went up to the throne for direction. A few of the sons and daughters of our churches, in the ardour of their devotion to the service of Christ, flew to the most distant nations. Every year added to their number. On the islands of the ocean, in the midst of our western forests, and far hence among the Gentiles, they nobly raised the standard of the cross, and each of them at his post, was the voice of one crying in the wilderness, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord." Our hearts were with them, pledged in principle and in effort to sustain the Foreign Missionary enterprise, till it shall have achieved its final victory in the spread of the Gospel to every dwelling of man. But what were all they who had gone, and all who could be spared to go, among so many? And where were the six hundred thousand ministers, who were required to preach the Gospel to six hundred millions of heathens? Vain and hopeless would be the attempt to raise them up from among the worshippers of idols, until floods of light should be poured upon their dark abodes by the faithful ministry of many thousands from Christian lands. The first and largest supply must be furnished from countries already blessed with the light of the Gospel. And upon no other country, in this respect, had the providence of God devolved so great responsibilities as upon our own. Peopled at first by a band of Christian pilgrims, the foundations of its government laid in the pure principles of civil and religious liberty, its population increased with unexampled rapidity in numbers, in wealth, and in general intelligence, its territory extending from ocean to ocean, lying within the most temperate latitudes, and fanned by the most healthful breezes, and embracing in its area a fraction more than one twentieth part of the whole land surface of the globe, no other country concentrated so many of the hopes of the world. Yet we were a sinful nation. In the midst of our prosperity, the virtues on which we rose, as a people, were beginning to be sensibly impaired. Infidelity, extravagance, and vice were spreading like a leprosy in the older states, while floods of emigrants were pouring over the western mountains, careless of the spiritual blessings left behind, or unable to procure an enlightened ministry to accompany them to their new abodes. Both the bounds of their habitations, and the increase of their numbers, were rapidly advancing beyond the existing supply of competent religious instruction. The Romish hierarchy, too, was multiplying its abominations in the midst of us, and there was danger that this young country, so intensely interesting in its history, and so full of promise to the church, would soon forsake the guide of her youth, survive her true glory, and disappoint the hopes of the church. The enemy was coming in like a flood, when the founders of this Society, in the name of the Lord, lifted up a standard against him. They were the same men who had put their hands to the work of spreading the Gospel among the heathen. But that work, they perceived, could only be accomplished by the blessing of God upon the united strength of christendom. In this country especially, whether they considered the extent of its territory, the character and number of its prospective population, the facilities it afforded for unrestrained and efficient action, the dangers which threatened it, or its high bearings upon the destinies of man, they saw that the universal extension and permanent establishment of the Gospel were primarily essential to the universal spread of its blessings among the nations. Here, then, if any where on earth, was the field for Home Missions.

Thus originated the AMERICAN HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY. It was founded in the spirit of missions, in the largest sense. Disclaiming all narrow views and selfish aims, its patriotism is that which flows from love to God and the souls of men universally. Its object is to bless a great and growing nation, for the sake of the world, to raise a free people to the distinction of "the glory of Israel," that they may also be "a light to lighten the Gentiles."

This Society was organized under its present constitution on the sixth of May, eight years ago. It assumed the responsibilities of a previous organization in this state,* and had on its books, at the commencement of its operations, 104 missionaries. This number was increased, during the first year of the Society, to 169;—the second year, to 201;—the third, to 304;—the fourth, to 392;—the fifth, to 463;—the sixth, to 509;—the seventh to 606;—and the eighth, which is the year now terminated, to 676. This constant augmentation of the number of labourers employed has required a proportionate increase of collections and expenditures, and has rendered the business of the Society, every year, more multifarious and arduous. Yet a kind and beneficent Providence has prospered our enterprise beyond the anticipations of the most sanguine.

The Executive Committee, in presenting their present Report, have occasion to repeat, with deeper and warmer emotions than ever before, the expressions of gratitude and congratulation, with which they have met the Society at each of its previous anniversaries. We have felt, indeed, with others engaged in kindred efforts, our share of the pecuniary embarrassments of the country. Our receipts have thus been reduced below the demands of the cause, yet, on the whole, the year has been one of increased prosperity to this department of Christian benevolence. An amount of labour has been performed under the patronage of the Society, and an amount of good accomplished, in view of which we should be ungrateful not to rejoice and be glad.

The ordinary details of the Society's operations, during the last year, are presented, as usual, in the following

RECAPITULATION.

Of the 676 missionaries and agents enumerated in the foregoing tables, 437 are settled as pastors, or are employed as stated supplies in single congregations, 210 extend their labours to two or three congregations each, and 29, including agents, are employed on larger fields. The number of congregations, missionary districts, or fields of agency thus supplied, in whole or in part, during the year, has been 899.

Of the whole number, 476 were in commission at the commencement of the year; 130 have ceased to require our aid; the remainder have been reappointed, usually with some diminution in the grants for their support, and 200 new appointments have been made.

The amount of ministerial labour reported as having been performed within the year, is 463 years and 5 months.

*This is the sum actually received at New-York. The report of the Treasurer of the N. H. Miss. Society has not been received.

The number reported as added within the year to the churches aided, has been 4,055, viz., 1,319 by letter, and 2,736 by examination, on profession of their faith. 79 of the churches aided have been blessed with special revivals of religion; and the probable number of conversions under the ministry of our missionaries, is about 4,000.

The number of Sabbath Schools reported, embrace not less than 35,000 scholars.

The number of Bible Classes reported, embrace about 8,500 pupils, of all ages.

The number of subscribers to the principle of entire abstinence from the use of intoxicating liquors as a drink, reported by the missionaries on the fields of their labour, is 62,547.

The following is a brief tabular view of the results of the last year, in several particulars, compared with those of the preceding years.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

We have already stated that at the commencement of the Society's operations, under its present organization, it had in its employment 104 missionaries. These extended their labours, with more or less frequency, to perhaps 130 congregations and missionary districts. From the foregoing tabular view, it appears that the number of missionaries has been increased, in 8 years, to 676; and the number of congregations and districts annually aided in their support, to 899. Within the eight years, the missionaries of the Society have laboured under its commissions the full amount of 2,238 years. Under their ministry, upwards of

* Reports imperfect.

20,000 souls have been reported as added to the Churches on profession of their faith. Add to these the number thus received, during the first year of the Society, not embraced in our tabular view, but supposed to be not less than 600, and the whole number received into the Churches aided, since May 5, 1826, is 20,915. There have been annually instructed in Sabbath Schools under the care of our missionaries, from 10,000 to 35,000 children and youth, and from 2,000 to 10,000 in Bible Classes. They have also been efficient helpers in the cause of temperance, in the support of common schools, in the distribution of Bibles and religious tracts, and every good work which has presented its claims on the fields of their labour.

AUXILIARY SOCIETIES.

The Executive Committee would by no means arrogate to the influences and agencies exerted in direct connexion with their own office the praise of having accomplished all that they now report. Several Domestic Missionary Societies were in existence, and had been in operation a number of years previous to the organization of this. The majority, and the most important of these, have since become auxiliary to the National Institution; and while they have been strengthened by this connexion, they have, in turn, contributed greatly to augment the doings of the Parent Society. Their missionaries are now generally appointed under commissions from this Committee, though the funds for the support of such as labour within the bounds of each auxiliary of the larger class, for the convenience of disbursement, are permitted to remain in its treasury, to be paid out on the order of its proper officers. The whole amount collected, however, is reported to the treasury of the Parent Society, and that portion of it which is not appropriated within the bounds of the auxiliaries, is expended by us on other fields. This arrangement, not only without embarrassment, but with positive advantage to the local operations of Auxiliary Societies, has enabled the Parent Society to avail itself of the strength of the older states to supply the wants of the new. It has also promoted the organization and efficient action of auxiliaries in several of the new states, which, by the encouragement and aid afforded them by this Committee, have done much for the supply of the destitute within their own bounds.

The following interesting items are gathered from the annual returns of several important auxiliaries, for the year ending April 1, 1834.

1. MASSACHUSETTS MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

This Society, it will be recollected, bore a conspicuous part in the operations of the year which preceded our last anniversary. Its receipts, during about ten months, ending April 1, 1833, were $9,595 84, which, together with a previous balance of $2,387 in its treasury, made the whole sum at the disposal of that Society during the year, $11,982 76. Since that date its resources and efficiency have been nearly doubled. Its receipts for the year ending April 1, 1834, have been $19,060 80, which, with the balance in its treasury at the beginning of the year, has made the whole amount at its disposal, since the last annual return, $20,665 84. Of this sum, $8,850 91 have been expended in that state in the support of our Agent and 57 missionaries under commissions from this Committee. Of the remainder, $8,822 32 have been remitted to the treasury of the Parent Society, and expended on other fields.

Besides the above, the following sums have been received from the state of Massachusetts, viz.

From the HAMPSHIRE MISSIONARY SOCIETY $800, and from various contributions directly to the Parent Society, $1,780 11; making in all, from the state of Massachusetts, within the year, $21,640 91.

2. CONNECTICUT MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Among the New-England states, Connecticut is second only to Massachusetts in the amount of its contributions to the general cause of Domestic Missions; and its Missionary Society, auxiliary to the A. H. M. S., is annually increasing in efficiency and in the extent of its operations. The receipts of its treasury for the year ending April 1, 1834, have been $5,718 78. This added to the balance on hand at the time of the last previous annual return, makes the whole sum at the disposal of the Society within the year, $9,217 09. Of this sum, $4,699 11, including incidental expenses, have been paid for the support of 44 missionaries in that state and Rhode Island. Of the remainder, $2,000 have been paid over to the Parent Society, and expended in the support of missionaries in Missouri, and others in the Western States.

The following sums have also been received from the state of Connecticut, viz.; from the Home Missionary Association of the Eastern District, New-Haven county, $529. Contributions directly to the Parent Society, $1,117 58. Balance of legacy from the late Thames Wilcox, $1,813 55, making in all from the state of Connecticut, $9,178 91.

3. MAINE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The large extent of the state of Maine, the rapid increase of its population, and its prospective wealth and importance, render it a peculiarly interesting field for missionary enterprise. If in comparison with the northern and middle states, the territory beyond the Alleghanies is properly denominated the "great west," with equal propriety, in comparison with the rest of New-England, we may speak of Maine as the "great east." It is so regarded by the enterprising churches which have begun to occupy it, and no other field of equal extent has more interested the feelings of this Committee. Their aid was accordingly early proffered and extended to the needy in that state, and has been continued until the Maine Missionary Society, strengthened by the blessing of God upon its own action and the co-operation of the Parent Society, has at length become able, without aid from sister states, to sustain all the labourers who are prepared to occupy her waste places. The receipts of this Society have been nearly doubled within the last two years. For the year ending April 1, 1834, they have been $6,607 82. This amount, with the balance of of $2,867 22 on hand at the commencement of the year, has constituted a total sum of $9,475 04 at the disposal of that auxiliary since its last annual return. Of this, $8,302 19 have been expended in support of an agent and 78 missionaries in that state.

The Secretary remarks that Bible Classes, Sabbath Schools, Temperance efforts, &c., &c., are connected with our missionary labours, and are uniformly carried forward by these means. Very few, he says, have yet been added to the churches aided, since our last return, and there were almost no revivals of religion till the commencement of the present year, 1834. The face of things now, through the blessing of Heaven, is changing, and present appearances encourage the hope that this will be a year of the "right hand of the Most High."

He adds, there are in the state 173 churches, 123 of which are supplied by 110 pastors and 13 resident ministers; 40 of these aided by our Society. Fifty destitute churches, and twice as many places where there are no churches, constitute our wide field for missionary operations.

NEW-HAMPSHIRE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

This Society is annually advancing in efficiency and in the amount of its aid to the general cause. The Treasurer's return for the first of April has not been received, but its receipts for the year ending October last, as published in its annual report at that time, were $6,808 82. The number of its missionaries has been 56, and their labours attended with usual success.

WESTERN AGENCY IN THE STATE OF NEW-YORK, AT GENEVA.

The cause of Domestic Missions, says the report of this Agency, is yet dear to the hearts of God's people in Western New-York. The amount actually received during the year has been $4,842 14, which is $466 40 more than the receipts of the previous year, and which, added to several sums transmitted directly to the Parent Society, make the whole amount collected on the field of the Agency, since the last anniversary, more than $5,000. The number of its missionaries has been 51, and seasons of special refreshing from the presence of the Lord have been enjoyed in a number of the congregations under their ministry.

CENTRAL BOARD OF AGENCY FOR THE WESTERN STATES, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

This Agency, heretofore denominated the Central Committee of Agency, &c., is annually increasing in the amount of its operations, and the extent of its usefulness. Its receipts during the last year, ending April 10, 1834, have been $1,348 50, all of which has been appropriated to the support of the Society's Missionaries, under direction of this Committee. It should be remarked, however, that owing to a succession of embarrassments in years past, our organizations in the West have never been so perfected as to secure the happiest results. The labours of our agents have been interrupted by sickness and death, and it is not until recently that we have been able to extend the living appeals of this Society, excepting to a very limited portion of the western states. Within the last year, four agents have entered upon their labours in the western states, which we trust will be permanent, on fields which had been before but partially and very inadequately occupied. These and others of a more temporary character have pursued their work with diligence, wisdom, and zeal, and under their influence, the prospect of a constantly increasing amount of aid from the contributions of the western churches is encouraging in the highest degree.

WESTERN ANNIVERSARIES.

Another measure adopted by our western brethren within the last year, is regarded as highly important. We refer to the anniversary meeting of the friends of Home Missions, held for the first time in the city of Cincinnati, in October last, under direction of the Central Board of Agency for the Western States. Few meetings in our country, it is believed, have been attended with more deep and thrilling interest; and the public impression was such, as we trust, will not soon cease to exert a salutary influence upon the cause. It is unspeakably interesting to contemplate these beginnings of concentrated benevolent efforts in the West. Let them be continued with that spirit which the great Master in heaven approveth, and the time is not far distant, when the amount of labour performed, and of good accomplished by the action of western churches, to be annually reported in western cities to cheer the hearts and encourage the enterprise of western Christians, will greatly surpass what we now witness in the cities of the east; and the reciprocal influence of their anniversaries and of ours, will mingle in the sweetest harmony, and with irresistible power, to rouse the energies of this great nation's strength, in continued and zealous endeavours to answer the claims of the world, and convert every people on earth to the love and service of God.

CENTRAL AGENCY IN THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.

The report of this Agency (at Utica) for the last year is unusually interesting, and its operations have continued to increase both in extent and efficiency. Its receipts have been $3,231 69, besides several small sums which have been paid by the contributors directly to the treasury of the Parent Society. The number of new missionaries appointed through the recommendation of the Agency has been 13, and the whole number employed within its bounds, the whole or a part of the year, including the Agent, has been 48. These have performed an amount of labour, under our commissions, equal to 35 years.—Twenty-one congregations have been aided which were not under our patronage the previous year, and most of which were never before favoured with stated preaching. The whole number of congregations which has thus been assisted, during the year, in supplying themselves with the bread of life, is 65.

VERMONT DOMESTIC MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

This Society, like most of its sister auxiliaries, is increasing in the amount of its contributions to the general cause.—Its receipts, during the last year, ending April 1, 1834, have been $3,225 45, which is nearly double the amount of the previous year. Its disbursements have been $2,500, leaving a balance in its treasury of $693 75. In addition to the above, $741 94 have been received from that state by the Treasurer of the Parent Society, making in all from Vermont $3,967 39. The number of its missionaries within the year has been 41, and the congregations which they have supplied in whole or in part, more than 50. The Secretary, in connexion with his annual statistical return, remarks, " Though the number added to the churches aided has been comparatively small, yet the Sabbath School, Bible Class and Temperance cause are reported as having secured a stronger hold on the consciences and affections of the Christian community than ever before."

WESTERN RESERVE DOMESTIC MISSIONARY SOCIETY, OHIO.

The annual return from this Society has not been received, and we are unable to give an accurate account of its proceedings, or of the amount of its receipts.

SABBATH SCHOLARS' ASSOCIATIONS.

The aid derived from associations in single congregations, has, in some instances, amounted to between $2,000 and $3,000, within the last year; and among the efficient friends of the cause in several congregations we are happy to number the children and youth associated in Sabbath Schools. The Sabbath Scholars' Missionary Association of the Cedar-street Church in this city has been in operation six years, and has been noticed in our former reports. In that time its payments to the Parent Society have been $2,306 75. During the last year its operations have been increasingly prosperous, though its receipts have been less than the previous year. Its number of missionaries is six. A similar association in the South Dutch Church has sustained three missionaries; and one in the West Presbyterian Church, formed within the year, has sustained two, and our young friends in these and other churches, encouraged by the co-operation of their teachers, are putting their hands to this work of benevolence with an efficiency far surpassing our expectations. The enlarged and enlightened views exhibited in their reports, and the ability with which they are written, afford delightful evidence, that while they have watered others, they have themselves been watered.

OTHER SOURCES OF INCOME.

Besides the amounts received through the treasuries of Auxiliary Societies and Agencies, contributions directly to the treasury of the Parent Society have been received, as formerly, from almost every section of the country. Some small legacies have also been collected, the largest of which is the residue of the bequest of the late Thames Wilcox, of Connecticut, $1,813 55, which, together with $1,650 previously received, and reported at our last anniversary, makes the total amount received on that legacy $3,463 55. Examples of individual munificence have also been multiplied, giving evidence that the cause of the Society is taking a deeper hold of the affections of many of its friends than in former years.

OPERATIONS AND INFLUENCE OF AGENTS.

From a review of the preceding statement of receipts from different sources, there is apparent great inequality in the zeal and efficiency with which the work of this Society has advanced on different portions of the great field which it has endeavoured to pervade. The organized and permanent Auxiliary Societies and Agencies have by no means contributed to the general cause in equal proportion to the ability of the churches which they severally embrace. The same is also true of portions of the country not thus organized.

This inequality is doubtless to be attributed in some degree to the numerous causes which operate unseen to elevate or depress the religious feeling and action of different portions of the community. But so far as the causes of these results are visible, they may be traced directly and principally to the supply or deficiency of living Agents to address the people, exhibit the necessities of the cause, and solicit their contributions. It is deeply to be regretted that a Christian community, in relation to duties so unexceptionable and pressing, and in view of the ample sufficiency of intelligence which is spread before the public through the periodical press, should still wait and need to be moved by the influence of personal persuasion. But much as it is to be lamented, the lessons of our experience have taught us that this is the true state of the case; and while it is so, there is ground of encouragement and congratulation in the fact, that there does exist among the friends of the cause an available influence which is sufficient, if exerted, to resist the prevalent tendency to indolence and neglect, and elicit to a high degree the feeling and interest of the churches on behalf of every enterprise of philanthropy. This influence has been realized in the zealous, discreet, and persevering labours of Agents. Wherever such Agents have gone, with their array of substantial facts gathered from the field of our operations, their warm and living appeals have generally been answered by liberal contributions.

These considerations will explain the reason why the state of Massachusetts, which three years ago did not contribute more than about $8,000 to the cause of Domestic Missions, has, within the last year, contributed $21,640 91. And why have Connecticut, and Maine, and New-Hampshire, during the same period, experienced so great an increase in the amount of their contributions and the efficiency of their action? It is because living and efficient Agents have occupied those fields. To the same cause, in no small degree, may be attributed the fact that the whole of New-England, with a population but little surpassing, either in numbers or wealth, that of the single state of New-York, has so far surpassed it in the amount of its contributions to this Society, during the last year. It is true we have fewer churches in New-York of the denominations which co-operate with us, and many of these have chosen to make their contributions to Home Missions through other channels. Still there is a deficiency to be accounted for. While New-England has brought to our treasury, within the last year, $47,842 38, New-York, though it embraces the centre of the Society's operations, has contributed $25,308 77. The same reasoning will account, in part, for the increase of receipts from some portions of the latter state and their diminution from others. The former have felt the influence of permanent Agents, while the latter have been neglected in this respect, or but partially occupied. The western and the southern states exhibit a similar contrast. The former have enjoyed the labours of several active and enterprising Agents, and the results have begun to be realized in returns to our treasury; while the latter, more wealthy, and surely not less liberal, have contributed less to the means of this Society, because they have hardly been visited by this important and indispensable influence.

But the importance of the labours of our Agents cannot be measured by the amount of their direct returns to the treasury of the Society. They are all preachers of the Gospel, and their labours as ministers, not less than those of ordinary missionaries, have been instrumental of the conversion of souls. They are also the advocates of other causes of benevolence, as they have opportunity. But their influence is especially felt upon the congregations aided, and the fields yet to be occupied, in giving energy and system to their endeavours to provide for themselves. "How much," says our Agent in Illinois, "the demands from this field on the A. H. M. S. will be lessened by my agency, I cannot say, but I think I can see results from this quarter, not very remote, which will be vastly important." Similar results will doubtless be realized from the labours of others in every portion of the country, but especially in the new and most destitute states.

LIST OF AGENTS.

The following is a list of the permanent Agents of the Society, during the last year, to whose faithfulness, industry, discretion, and usefulness, the Committee are happy to bear their decided testimony, viz.

The Rev. Richard S. Storrs, Associate Secretary and General Agent of the A. H. M. S. for the New-England states. Mr. S. is also Secretary of the Massachusetts Missionary Society, and, with occasional visits to other portions of his field, labours principally in that state, where the influence of his agency is delightfully manifested in the extraordinary results which we have already reported. He has, also, usefully served the Society within the last year, by a tour to Ohio, and to Lower Canada, during which he collected much valuable information, which has been given to the public.

The Rev. Eliphalet Gillett, D. D., Cor. Sec. of the Maine Missionary Society, has been usefully employed in that state.

The Rev. Andrew Rankin, Agent for the state of New-Hampshire, has laboured with encouraging success.

The Rev. Amos Savage, having been employed three months in New-Jersey and adjoining portions of New-York, in the early part of the year, has laboured the last quarter very acceptably and usefully in Connecticut, under direction of the C. M. S.

The Rev. David Porter, D. D., has served the Society during the year in the counties bordering on the Hudson River, in the state of New-York. He has, at the same time, made collections for the American Bible Society, and the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, from which he receives a part of his support, yet the results of his efforts have not been inconsiderable in contributions to our treasury.

The Rev. Abijah Crane, Secretary of the Central Agency in the State of New-York, has laboured successfully during the year, as is apparent from the report of that Agency in the Appendix.

The Rev. Miles P. Squier, Secretary of the Western Agency in the State of New-York, though interrupted in his labours a large portion of the year, has continued, at our solicitation, to retain his office as Agent, and during the latter part of the year has devoted himself to its duties, with an efficiency which sustains the character which he had acquired by the services of several former years on the same field.

The Rev. Daniel W. Lathrop, Cor. Sec. of the Western Reserve Missionary Society, has continued his labours in the northern part of Ohio and Michigan Territory, with increasing results in contributions to the cause.

The Rev. Henry Little, Cor. Secretary of the Central Board of Agency for the Western States, has commenced his labours as General Agent within the year. The results thus far have been exceedingly promising, and much is anticipated from the continuance of his zealous and devoted efforts on that important field.

The Rev. B. C. Cressey, in the southern part of Indiana, and the Rev. J. Thomson, in the northern part of the same state, were appointed in November last, each to labour six months, under direction of the Indiana Missionary Society. Their reports have been encouraging.

The Rev. Theron Baldwin, as General Agent for Illinois and Missouri, has been serving the Society with much efficiency and very interesting results during the year.

The Rev. Gideon N. Judd has recently been appointed Associate Secretary and General Agent of the Society for the Middle States, excepting New-York, and has entered upon the duties of his appointment with encouraging prospects.

Besides the above, several Agents have been employed for limited periods on different portions of the field, whose names are reported in our general table.

STATE OF THE TREASURY.

The Treasurer's account exhibits a total amount of receipts, since the last anniversary, of $78,911 24. This is $10,284 07 more than the receipts of the previous year. The expenditures of the last year have also exceeded those of the preceding, $13,737 80. These items, considered by themselves, exhibit an encouraging advance in the annual increase of the receipts and expenditures of the Society. But they are not in due proportion to each other. The balance against the Society, at the present time, is $1,264 25. It should be considered also, that the pledges of the Society for the year to come, are greater than they have been at the commencement of any previous year. With these responsibilities already assumed, and with a field before them to be occupied, increasing in interest as it widens in extent, the Executive Committee will enter upon the labours of another year, under the full impression that its concerns are to be greater and more difficult and trying than those of any previous year. The existing depression of the pecuniary interests of the country has already thrown some embarrassments in the way of this and other kindred enterprises. Our receipts for the last year have doubtless been diminished by this cause; and unless its influence shall be resisted by a deeper tone of religious feeling, there is danger that its consequences may be more extensively felt hereafter. But, as the organs of this Society, we act for a community who profess to love the Lord with all the soul, and their neighbour as themselves; a community, too, who possess wealth enough, and ten times more than enough, to provide for the onward movement of every branch of benevolent effort which adorns and blesses our land. Will they, under the pressure of the times, begin their retrenchments at the house of the Lord? Will they not rather, according to their ability, make larger provisions to supply the deficiency occasioned by the influence of the state of the times upon the contributions of those of little faith? It is an adage of the practical agriculturalists of our country, that "It is wise to dig wells in a dry time." Let the principles of this maxim be adopted by the friends of Home Missions, and we have nothing to fear. Let the wells of salvation be sunk so low that they shall reach the deep fountain of Christian benevolence in the hearts of the pious, and they will pour forth the waters of life upon a dry and thirsty land. That fountain is inexhaustible as the source from which it is supplied; and encouraged by the promises of Him by whom it is opened, and animated by the signal blessings with which He has crowned the efforts of this Society hitherto, the Committee, whatever may be the embarrassments of the times, do not entertain a doubt that this enterprise is owned of God, and will be sustained.

GENERAL INFLUENCE OF THE SOCIETY.

When the American Home Missionary Society was formed, the whole number of missionaries annually employed by all the Domestic Missionary Societies and Boards of Missions, sustained by the denominations represented in this institution, was less than 300. And many who were then reported as missionaries were employed only for very limited periods, and on a plan less adapted to extensive and permanent usefulness than that which now generally prevails. But in eight years how rapid and extraordinary has been the change! The impulse which gave origin to this Society inspired new hopes in the public mind, and roused to new efforts the friends of the cause throughout the land. In the progress of the work, most of the important Societies which then existed, have united with us as auxiliaries, and, invigorated by this connexion, have largely contributed to augment the aggregate of the doings of the Parent Society. The extent of these operations, the energy and success with which they have been conducted, appear also to have provoked very many, who have chosen to seek the promotion of the same cause through other organizations, which remain unconnected with this Society. Eight years ago, the whole number of missionaries sustained by the Board of Missions of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, and the Missionary Society of the Reformed Dutch Church, was less than 50. Now their number is, probably, 276, of which 250 are employed by the former, and 26 by the latter. These, together with the probable number supported by several independent Societies in the southern states, amount to about 300, which, added to the 676 appointed by this Society, constitute a grand total of 976 missionaries employed in the United States and Canada, during the last year, in connexion with the Presbyterian, Congregational, and Reformed Dutch Churches. The number of congregations and destitute places aided in their support, and benefited by their stated or occasional labours, is probably not less than 1500. Such are the results, direct and indirect, of the organization and operations of the American Home Missionary Society. It has not only accomplished much by the blessing of God upon its own action, but has roused a spirit in the churches on behalf of the cause, which we trust will not slumber. It has taught the destitute the importance and practicability of associating for religious worship, and of securing and sustaining the institutions of the Gospel, waking them to Christian enterprise, and guiding thousands to the mountains, to take thence "every man a beam" for the building of the house of the Lord.

CONCLUSION.

It would be delightful, in concluding our Report, to dwell upon the great variety of incidents which the correspondence of the year has furnished to enlist the sympathies and encourage the faith of the Committee, and to deepen their impressions of the immense importance of the work assigned them by this Society. But the time would fail us to gather all the clusters which have been ripened upon so wide a field; and, with the brief narrative already given of the operations and influence of the Society, we seal up our testimony to the judgment of the great day. Encouraged by the experience of the past, we would now set our faces towards the labours of another year with the firmness of faith and the cheerfulness of hope. We feel that we are the organs of a mighty influence, which God has provided to hasten the triumphs of his grace, and that the high vantage ground to which this Society has already been advanced, is assigned it for the sake of the world. It cannot go backward, nor pause in its career. The public confidence which it has secured, the sympathies and prayers which it has enlisted, and the great and glorious end to which it aspires, combine to impel it onward and upward. Like the flight of an angel, its movement must be without rest or weariness, until, in co-operation with all the sister influences which emanate from the Church universal, it shall have proclaimed the glorious Gospel of the blessed God to all that dwell upon the earth.

If such an enterprise can be sustained in any country, it is in our own. If there be a people on earth who are bound to sustain it, that people is our own. And if any part of the world presents a field better prepared than all others to receive a moral influence and impulse of sufficient power to convey the saving health of the Gospel round the globe, it is the field which invites the direct and redoubled efforts of this Society; it is this great and free republic, which statesmen tell us is the last hope of liberty, whose commerce is linking it with every country, whose language is flying on the wings of the wind all over the world, and whose influence is fast becoming more commanding than that of any other nation. The single power that can save this influence from entire perversion, and make it a blessing to mankind, is religion. And can it be doubted that God will save such a nation, so marked in his providence as the hope of the Church and of the world? Yet for all this, he will be inquired of by the house of Israel, and served by his people. Difficulties and embarrassments too we may expect to meet. Avarice will continue to hoard its treasures, and dig in the earth, and hide the Lord's money, and an all-pervading spirit of worldliness will resist the claims of philanthropy and love. But what are these to the power of Him who presides over the cause of Christian missions? "Strong is his hand, and high is his right hand."

ANNUAL REPORT.

Geneva, May 1st, 1834.

The Western Agency for Home Missions, in submitting their EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT, acknowledge, with devout gratitude, the goodness of God in prospering our work another year; in sparing the lives of the missionaries who have been sent to their fields of labour through our instrumentality, and in giving the work intrusted to us favour before the Churches.

Fifty-one missionaries have this year been commissioned to the destitute within our bounds; and their labours have not been in vain in the Lord. They have prosecuted the high objects of the Christian ministry, and through the blessing of God on the truth dispensed by them, Churches have been planted and watered, and souls redeemed from the dominion of sin. Refreshing seasons of grace have been enjoyed at a considerable number of the stations occupied, and especially on our south-western frontier. The counties of Chautauque, Cattaraugus and Allegany, Erie and Genesee, have, to a large extent, been the seat of revivals of religion, in which we trust many have "been born of God." The field there is eminently white unto the harvest, and the cry for more labourers is urgent indeed. Our missionaries on that ground speak of themselves as ready to faint under the burdens of the labour imposed on them, and entreat us, in the name of souls hungering for the bread of life, to send others to their help.

But the particulars of the work on this field are already communicated to you and the public, in the reports of the missionaries themselves, and we need not to any great extent enumerate them here.

"His section of country has shared deeply in the effects of the stagnation of business and the want of money the present season. This pecuniary pressure came upon us just at the time of the year when the annual effort for Home Missions is usually made within this Agency.

The receipts of our treasury this year, have amounted to $4,842 14, besides which other sums have been transmitted directly to the Parent Society, as is sometimes convenient for auxiliaries, sufficient to swell the aggregate receipts from within this Agency, to more than $5,000. Collections, also, from several places known to have taken up the subject, have not yet been forwarded.

The cause of Home Missions continues to be dear to the hearts of the people of God in Western New-York, and is intimately associated in their Christian sympathies with the diffusion of truth and holiness every where among men. In our appeals for aid, no argument has been more successful than that of the influence of America on mankind,—the effects of the universal spread of the Gospel at home on the conversion of the world, and the millennial reign of the Son of God.

A commendable degree of harmony prevails here in the missionary work; and your Society, as a medium for the distribution of the bounty of the churches to their own poor, stands high in the confidence of the friends of missions among us; and we have only to beseech you, in their name, to go on increasing in labours and usefulness, until our land and the world are brought under law to Christ.

By order, and in behalf of the Western Agency,

MILES P. SQUIER,

EXTRACTS FROM THE ANNUAL REPORT.

The past year has brought increasing evidence that our gracious Master condescends to foster this department of Christian action. Especially has this been done by disposing his people to cherish this cause in their affections; to remember it in their prayers; to recognise it in their calculations, and to hasten its accomplishment, by pouring the avails of their industry, cheerfully and with a good degree of liberality, into the treasury of the Lord.

There have been commissioned the past year, through this Agency, thirteen missionaries, besides those whose commissions have been renewed. Forty-seven missionaries have been employed the whole or a part of the year. The amount of labour performed on this field, including the services of the Agent, is thirty-five years. We have aided twenty-one congregations the past year which were not under our patronage the year before, and nearly all of them were never before occupied by the ambassadors of Christ. Sixty-five congregations have been aided in supplying themselves with the bread of life. Including all the expenses of the Agency, the appropriations of the past year amount to $3,818 11.

Though it has been a time of unusual spiritual declension, the Lord has enabled us to collect more for the purposes of this Agency, than during any previous year.

Besides what has been sent by some of our churches directly to the treasury of the Parent Society, we have received $3,231 69.

The conviction is evidently deepening in the hearts of Christians here, that constitutions, and statute books, and courts, and prisons, are not the only, or the principal safeguards of our free institutions. They begin to believe that those who are left to ripen into manhood, habitually accustomed to treat with reckless indifference the statutes of God, will not readily be brought to tremble and yield before the majesty of human law. Intelligent and business men of our churches begin to feel that every thing valuable in our republican government; every thing sacred in the prosperity of our Zion; every thing moving in the conversion of our Christless millions; and every thing commanding in the part we should act in the emancipation of our enslaved world, requires them, in the name of the Lord, to preach the Gospel to every creature in our borders.

The Home Missionary movements are exerting a most salutary influence upon our feeble congregations, not only by sending them the preached Gospel, and blessing them with its usual benefits, but by teaching them the amount of their own ability, and how to exert it in sustaining the Gospel among themselves. Facts show that they needed such instruction, and that they have received it. The nature of the case is such that we cannot judge with precision, but as far as we can determine, there are many of our feeble congregations, which, had they been left without instruction and encouragement, would not think of having preaching, except occasionally; but by being encouraged to TRY, and told how, and promised a little aid, they are now regularly supplied one third or one half of the time. Others, which would have deemed it impracticable to hire for a longer period than six months at a time, and then perhaps go without a year or more, now sustain the Gospel ministry without intermission, from half to the whole of the time. One church, of more than thirty years standing, which had not for many years had preaching more than half the time, and much of the time none at all, by a little salutary counsel and timely aid, within one year settled a pastor and built a meeting-house, and at the close of the third year, were able to sustain themselves without any increase of pecuniary ability, except what ordinarily attends fidelity in God's service. In this case, and many others which we must not detail, we have reason to believe the amount the people do for themselves is at least doubled, and the amount of pastoral labour enjoyed, and its benign influence, are more than doubled. And though "there remains much land yet to be possessed," several stations have been occupied the past year by this Agency, which, we doubt not, would have remained a moral waste for many years, and become worse and worse, had it not been for the action of your Society.

Another feature in this work must not be overlooked. By coming in contact with this enterprise, our feeble churches learn the nature and value of benevolent efforts. None of the sophistry of covetousness or infidelity can convince them that good has not been done. They have seen it, and felt it, and know it is true. And you need not be surprised when we tell you that few churches, considering their ability, are as liberal as those which have been, and now are, patronized by your Society. St. Lawrence, as a county, oppressed as it still is with Macedonian poverty, is coming up nobly in the work of benevolence. Besides doing well for other objects of Christian charity, that county has contributed the past year for Home Missionary purposes, $423 21, and pledged for the ensuing year $550. A church in another county, while receiving aid to the amount of $100, when the subject of Home Missions was presented to them, contributed $60. Another, receiving $60, contributed $100, and assigned as a reason for doing so, that "they found others were more needy than themselves." Another, which just began to sustain the Gospel, in view of two destitute towns on their borders, proposed to give up one fourth of their pastor's time, if we would employ him on that ground. We readily consented. And it is truly gratifying to state, that this church contributed to our Treasury within $2 33 of the whole amount we pledged to their poor neighbours. The same church has contributed this year $100 for Foreign Missions. This church, five years ago, thought seriously of dissolving, and probably would have done it, had not the fostering hand of the A. H. M. S. been extended for its encouragement.

EXTRACTS FROM THE LAST ANNUAL REPORT.

The review of the past year, calls upon us for thanksgiving to God for the success which has attended our feeble efforts. This great western country, possessing every variety of soil and climate, unshackled by despotic power, and free from the evils entailed on most communities by preceding generations, seems to have been reserved for some noble purpose just at the ushering in of the Millenium; and if American Christians will now follow the leadings of Providence, this land will be Immanuel's. Here will be reared the men, and here the means procured for the conversion of the world. The A. H. M. S. has begun to put its hand to the work, and heaven has written success upon the enterprise. It would make your hearts burn within you, in the midst of your approaching anniversary, to hear the expressions of gratitude that spontaneously flow from grateful thousands in the west who have been awakened, converted, or in some way blessed through the medium of this Institution. Our Society has afforded aid to more than half the Presbyterian Ministers on this side of the mountains, and is now assisting two hundred, who are not labouring in vain, nor spending their strength for nought. Primary schools, academies, colleges, theological seminaries and churches, as well as almost every benevolent enterprise, are prospering under their fostering care. Yet such is the influx of emigrants, and so rapid is the growth of every kind of vice, that we very much need a great addition to our numbers. The engines are worked manfully, but such is the quantity of combustibles daily added to the flame, that we stand in doubt whether the building can be saved. The preaching of the Gospel may be the remedy for all the evils that exist around us. If slavery is to be removed, the streams of alcohol dried up, the Indian blessed, the Sabbath-breaker reclaimed, the errorist corrected, or the infidel reformed, it must be done through the foolishness of preaching. Let then every friend of God and man prove his sincerity by his works, while he prays constantly and fervently the Lord of the harvest to send forth labourers into his harvest.

PLAN OF LARGER SOCIETIES.

In those parts of the country where efficient organizations in aid of Home Missions do not already exist, the formation of two kinds of Societies, auxiliary to the A. H. M. S., is desired; the one large, and the other small, and the former to embrace the latter. Each larger Society may be formed to embrace the limits of a county, a city, a state, a presbytery, or a synod, as shall be judged most conducive to its activity and efficiency. The objects of all such Societies should be to raise funds to furnish, first, all needed aid to the destitute within their own limits; and, secondly, to aid the Parent Society in extending the Gospel to communities still more needy. To accomplish these objects most effectually, it is important that each Society be so small in extent of territory, that its committee or executive board may have a competent knowledge of the claims of the destitute within its limits; while it should be sufficiently large to furnish a field for the operations of an agent, for the collection of funds, the formation of subsidiary organizations, and to act as its organ of communication with the Parent Society. For this last purpose, it is judged expedient that in all cases where the auxiliary Society is sufficiently large to employ a permanent Agent, he be also its Corresponding Secretary.

FORM OF CONSTITUTION,

Recommended to the adoption of Auxiliary Societies.

ART. I.—This Society shall be known by the name of the Domestic Missionary Society of _____, and shall be auxiliary to the American Home Missionary Society.

ART. II.—This Society shall be composed of such individuals as shall contribute annually to its funds, together with the members of the several church and congregational associations for Home Missions within the limits of this Society.

ART. III.—The officers of this Society shall be a president, _____ vice presidents, a treasurer, and a secretary, to be chosen at the annual meeting. These officers, in connexion with at least one person elected from each of the several associations of gentlemen composing the Society, shall constitute a board of directors, of whom not less than five shall be a quorum, at any meeting regularly convened.

ART. IV.—It shall be the duty of the board of directors to meet at the call of the president, or as often as shall be necessary for the transaction of business; to fill their own vacancies; to appoint an executive committee; to adopt the most energetic measures in their power, to accomplish the object of the Society; especially by distributing such publications as may be committed to them by the Parent Institution, and by deputing some of their number to attend the annual meetings of the several associations; and, in general, by using all suitable means to excite an interest in the cause of Home Missions.

ART. V.—The annual receipts of the Society, after defraying incidental expenses, shall be paid over to the treasurer of the Parent Society, with directions as to the section of country in which it shall be expended in missionary labours, should the board deem it important to give such directions.

ART. VI.—The Society shall meet as often as called by the directors, and annually on the _____ of March, when the officers shall be elected; the accounts of the treasurer, properly audited, shall be presented, and the annual report of the directors received; and when this constitution may be amended by a vote of two thirds of the members present.

ART. VII.—A copy of the constitution, authenticated by the secretary, together with the names and the residences of the officers annually elected, and also a copy of each annual report, shall be transmitted to the Corresponding Secretary of the American Home Missionary Society, as early as the first of April, in each year.

SMALLER SOCIETIES.

Within the limits of each larger Society, there should be organized Auxiliary Societies or Associations. Of these Associations it is recommended that there be formed two in each town, parish, or congregation, the one composed of males, and the other of females; and that they adopt the following

RULES

For the Government of Church [or Congregational] Associations [or Societies] for Home Missions.

2. Every person who shall contribute annually to the funds shall be a member.

3. *The affairs of the Association shall be conducted by a first and second director, [or directress,] a secretary, a treasurer, and [or Female] collectors, who shall be chosen annually, and together shall constitute a committee.

4. It shall be the duty of the committee to meet at least once in three months, to appoint assistant collectors, and transact such other business as may come before them.

6. The Association shall meet annually, on the second Monday in March of each year, when the Report shall be read, and the election of officers held; and when these rules may be altered by a vote of two thirds of the members present.

NINTH ANNIVERSARY.

THE American Home Missionary Society held its Ninth Anniversary in the Chatham-street Chapel, New-York, on Wednesday evening, May 13, 1835. The Hon. Stephen Van Rensselaer, LL.D., President of the Society, took the chair, and the meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. Silvester Eaton, of New-Jersey.

The Treasurer's Report was read by Mr. Knowles Taylor, Treasurer of the Society.

Portions of the Ninth Annual Report were read by the Rev. Absalom Peters, Corresponding Secretary.

The following resolutions were adopted, viz :—

I. On motion of the Rev. E. F. Hatfield, of St. Louis, Missouri, seconded by the Rev. J. B. Taylor, Professor in the Union Theol. Seminary, Virginia—

Resolved, That the Reports now read be adopted, and printed under the direction of the Executive Committee.

2. On motion of the Rev. Sylvester Holmes, of New-Bedford, Mass., seconded by His Excellency P. D. Vroom, of New-Jersey—

Resolved, That in view of the increasing necessities of the country, the Home Missionary Society must have more men, more money, and much more efficient effort; and that the only way to secure these is to have more prayer, more piety, and more union among the friends of the cause.

3. On motion of the Rev. E. Beecher, President of Illinois College, Jacksonville, Ill., seconded by Mr. E. C. Delavan, Albany, N. Y.—

Resolved, That though the work to be done by this Society is great, yet the present generation of American Christians possess the means, and upon them rests the responsibility of its accomplishment.

4. On motion of the Rev. E. W. Baldwin, of New-York, President elect of Wabash College, Indiana, seconded by the Rev. H. Dwight, of Geneva, N. Y.—

Resolved, That the signal blessings which have hitherto attended the operations of this Society afford ample encouragement to our endeavours, in humble dependance on God, to extend its operations, until its influences shall be felt not only in the whole extent of the American continent, but also throughout the civilized world.

Appropriate addresses were made by the Rev. Messrs. Hatfield, Taylor, Holmes, Beecher, and Baldwin; and the interest of the occasion was increased by music conducted by Mr. Hastings. Benediction by the Rev. Dr. Mathews, Chancellor of the New-York University.

The Society proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year, and made choice of the following, viz :

NINTH REPORT.

THE spirit of missions has its origin in the love of God. Its object is the salvation of men. Its goings forth have been from eternity, and for the accomplishment of its designs it has taken a vast circuit of dispensations. The world was created as a theatre for its exercise. The machinery of Providence, and the relations of men, have been constructed to favour its operations. The law by Moses was the school-master of its first principles. Four thousand years were employed to summon attention to its plans. During the whole progress of that period, its character and tendency were gradually developed by the ministry both of men and of angels. Even then, under prescribed restrictions, men were taught to do good and to communicate, and the voice of wisdom was, "He that winneth souls is wise."

There was glory in those early and partial manifestations of good will to men. But that dispensation is done away, and as we look back upon it from amid the better hopes of the Gospel, we are constrained to add, in the language of an apostle, that it has "no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth." When the fullness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son—a missionary from heaven to earth—"a light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of Israel." Since that event, the field is the world. Every obstacle is removed to the universal offer of salvation to sinners. The ascending Saviour, having fulfilled his own mission, left it in charge with his disciples to "preach the Gospel to every creature." In obedience to this injunction, the primitive church nobly begun the conquest of the world. She rose in her missionary zeal and labours, "fair as the moon, clear as the sun, and terrible as an army with banners." And her success was equal to her endeavours. There was bright and cheering hope that the victory would soon be won, and the kingdom of darkness in all the earth subdued. But an early cloud obscured the fair morning of the church. Deceivers entered the fold of Christ. The pride of life usurped the throne of religion. The spirit of missions took its flight, and for many centuries the glorious Gospel of the blessed God was hid from the teeming millions to whom it ought to have been preached.

Again, in these latter days, a dispensation of still greater glory has been introduced. There has come a revival of the primitive spirit of missions. The church has begun to awake to the object of her existence, the instruction and conversion of the world. There is a marshalling of interests and of energies on this subject, which is new and extraordinary. Within less than fifty years societies for the spread of the Gospel have been formed in every country of Protestant Christendom; and such is the zeal awakened for the conversion of the world, that there is now nothing in Christian experience so animating and encouraging as the achievements of the missionary cause. The question of missions is settled. The work of missions is begun. Too much has already been accomplished to allow its friends to be deterred from their high and holy purpose. In the name of the Lord they have set up their banner. Millions of hearts are enlisted in the work. Millions of prayers are offered daily for its success, and, God helping his people, they will not suffer it to languish.

Such are the encouragements under which it is our privilege to labour, and such the nature and sanctions of the work in which we are engaged. A noble branch of this reviving enterprise of piety and faith is found in the AMERICAN HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY. Nine years ago it was entered on the list of those great benevolent societies which are engaged in the work of the world's conversion. It was not a charitable foundation, laid in the possession or the titles of wealth. It was not an institution endowed, whose business was to be the simple distribution of charities to the needy. It was a Voluntary Association of such as had a mind to work, an institution not of pecuniary means but of moral energies. It was an organization to be used by all who should approve of its published plan, its spirit and its aim—powerless without the confidence of the benevolent, and having no hope of extended usefulness but in the continuance and increase of that confidence. Its funds were all to be collected. Its field was to be surveyed. Its agents and missionaries were to be searched out and employed. Thus, with no means excepting in prospect, with limited experience, and a mighty, a complicated work to be done, on an extended field, the Society commenced its operations. Almost every measure of the Executive Committee was attended with unexpected success—the experience of every month presented new encouragements, and the results of each successive year have been such as to evince, at once, the importance, the necessity and practicability of the enterprise. From the beginning there has been a large annual increase of receipts, of disbursements, of missionaries employed, and, we doubt not, of good accomplished.

The Committee are happy to announce, that the increase, since the last anniversary, in most of the above particulars, has been equal to that of any preceding year. This will appear from the following general table, and the summary and comparative views which we have appended.

RECAPITULATION.

The whole number of missionaries and agents embraced in the preceding tables, is 719. Of these, 484 are settled as pastors, or are employed as stated supplies in single congregations; 185 extend their labours to two or three congregations each, and 50, including agents, are employed on larger fields. The number of congregations, missionary districts,* and fields of agency thus supplied, in whole or in part, during the last year, has been 1,050.

Of the missionaries above reported, 515 were in commission at the commencement of the year. Of these, a number not yet ascertained have ceased to require the aid of the Society, being now wholly sustained by the people whom they serve, or are employed in other fields where aid is unnecessary, and six of our number, Rev. Thomas Grier, of Cold Spring, N. Y., Rev. Eleazer Holt, Reading, Pa., Rev. Asa Brooks, Clarksburgh, Va., Rev. B. C. Cressy, and Rev. Jeremiah Hill, Indiana, Rev. Jonathan L. Hale, of Maine, have been removed by death. The new appointments of missionaries not before in commission, have been 204.

The amount of ministerial labour reported as having been performed within the year, is 490 years.

The number reported as added to the churches aided since the last anniversary, making proper allowance for imperfection of reports, is about 5,000, viz. 1,700 by letter, and 3,300 by examination on profession of their faith. Many of the churches, though a less number than in some former years, have been blessed with special revivals of religion, and the probable number of conversions under the labours of our missionaries, is more than 3,500.

The Sabbath Schools reported embrace not less than 40,000 scholars, and the Bible classes not less than 12,000 pupils of all ages.

The number of subscribers to the principle of total abstinence from the use of intoxicating liquors as a drink, reported by the missionaries on the fields of their labour, is more than 70,000.

STATE OF THE TREASURY.

At the commencement of the year, our treasury was overdrawn $1,264 25. An extraordinary depression of the pecuniary interests of the country had prevented the needed increase of our receipts, and thrown embarrassments in the way of this and other kindred enterprises. The pledges of the Society were also larger than ever before, and the Committee felt that they were entering upon a year of greater difficulty and trial, in regard to pecuniary means, than they had before experienced. It was therefore with trembling and solicitude, that they assumed the responsibilities of the year. Yet they did not doubt the resources of the benevolent; and trusting in the favour of God, they diligently endeavoured to secure the amount of active agency necessary to replenish the treasury, and provide for the increasing necessities of the Society. During the first two thirds of the year, however the balance against the treasury continued and increased. At one time it had reached the sum of $5,000, and it was not until about the last of March that the scales were turned, and the balance of our accounts was in favour of the Society. Since that time, as is usual at this season of the year, our receipts have exceeded our disbursements, and through the blessing of Him who is the only sure confidence of the friends of Missions, the demands of the year have been met, and a balance remains in the treasury to meet the drafts which are daily coming to hand.

*The congregations named in the general table are all enumerated in this estimate, but in every case where the congregations of the missionary are not named in the table, his field is denominated a missionary district, and counted one.

The treasurer's account exhibits a total amount of receipts since the last anniversary, of $38,863 22. This is $9,951 78 more than the receipts of the previous year. The disbursements of the year have been $33,394 28, and have exceeded those of the preceding year $3,378 52, and the balance now in hand is $5,468 93. The committee are happy to make this announcement, and to declare, what it has not been their privilege to state at any previous anniversary since 1831, that the Society is at the present moment OUT OF DEBT.

AUXILIARY SOCIETIES AND AGENCIES.

For the means of effecting the preceding results, the Committee are especially indebted to the efficient and persevering action of Auxiliary Societies and Agencies. Of these, the following are the most important.

THE MASSACHUSETTS MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

This Society, in the amount of its income and the extent of its operations, continues to be far in advance of every other auxiliary of the national institution. Its receipts for the year ending April 1, 1835, have been $18,812 71, which, added to $4,743 45, balance in the treasury at the beginning of the year, makes the whole amount at the disposal of that Society, since its last previous annual return, $23,556 16. Of this sum, $7,363 61 have been expended by the Auxiliary, $10,114 57 have been transmitted to the treasury of the Parent Society, and expended in its general operations, and $300, being the avails of an Indian Fund, have been expended in accordance with the wishes of the donor, leaving a balance in the treasury, April 1, 1835, of $5,777 68.

The following sums have also been received from that state, viz ; From the Hampshire Missionary Society, Hampshire county, $1,150 ; the Northampton Young Men's Missionary Society, $238 ; the Hampden county Missionary Society, $120 ; other sources, $2,896 48, making the whole amount derived from the state of Massachusetts, since April 1, 1834, $23,217 19.

Our Associate Secretary and General Agent for the New-England states, Rev. Richard S. Storrs, has expended his labours principally in that state, and has contributed very essentially to the above cheering results.

THE CONNECTICUT MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The state of Connecticut continues to hold its place among the New-England states as second only to Massachusetts in the amount of its contributions to the cause of Home Missions. We are happy also to state that its Missionary Society, auxiliary to the A. H. M. S., continues to increase in efficiency and in the extent of its operations. The receipts into its treasury for the year ending April 1, 1835, have been $6,588 33, which is $869 55, more than the receipts of the previous year. The balance on hand at the last previous annual return was $2,547 98, which, added to the receipts above named, makes the whole sum at the disposal of that Society, during the year, $9,136 31. Of this sum, $3,936 62, including all incidental expenses, have been expended in the support of thirty-six missionaries in the state of Connecticut, $800 have been paid to the Rhode Island Missionary Society, to aid in the support of six missionaries in that state, and $2,500 have been transmitted to the treasury of the Parent Society, a part of which has been expended in the support of missionaries in Missouri, and the remainder in aid of the general operations of the Society, leaving a balance in the treasury of the Connecticut Missionary Society, April 1, 1835, of $1,899 69.

In addition to the thirty-five missionaries sustained in the state of Connecticut, the C. M. S. have also employed our Agent, the Rev. Amos Savage, three months within the last year, whose labours were acceptable and useful, and we doubt not contributed essentially to the increase of the receipts of that Society.

Besides the above amount received by the Connecticut Missionary Society, the following sums from the state of Connecticut have been forwarded directly to the treasury of the Parent Society, viz: From the Home Missionary Association of the Eastern District of New-Haven County, $418, 16; part of the legacy of the late Thamasasa Wilcox, $400; contributions from sundry places, $2,131 44, making in all from the state of Connecticut, $9,537 93, which is $359 02 more than the amount acknowledged the previous year.

THE MAINE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

This Society, both in regard to the extent and growing importance of its field, and the efficiency and vigour of its operations, is one of the most interesting and promising of our auxiliaries. In common with several other large auxiliaries, it is authorized to expend its own funds so far as needed within the limits of that state in the support of missionaries under commissions furnished by the Parent Society.

The receipts of its Treasury for the year ending April 1, 1835, were $7,602 35, which is $1 94 53 more than the receipts of the previous year. This sum, with the exception of $100 remitted to the treasury of the Parent Society, has all been expended within the bounds of that state, together with a part of the balance on hand at the beginning of the year, making the disbursements of the M. M. Society $8,113 98 and the balance on hand, at the above date, $660 87. In addition to the above, $100 have been contributed directly to the Parent Society from that state, making the whole amount derived from Maine, during the year, $7,702 35.

The report of the Secretary, Rev. Dr. Gillett, is highly encouraging. The year has been especially remarkable for the progress made in the settlement of ministers. Within the last ten months twenty-one congregational ministers have been settled as pastors, which is an average of one in every two weeks during that time, and there are eight now under calls for settlement. The number of missionaries sustained in the state has been eighty-seven.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The annual return of this Society is also encouraging. Its receipts for the year ending April 1, 1835, have been $5,380 47. Its disbursements for the support of 49 missionaries, including incidental expenses, have been $5,219 46, leaving a balance in the treasury of $161 01. In addition to the above, $180 57 have been remitted from that state directly to the Parent Society, making the whole amount derived from New-Hampshire, $5,561 04. Rev. Andrew Rankin, Agent of the N. H. M. Society, continued his labours in that state until October last, when he entered upon similar labours in the state of Vermont, and the Rev. Isaac Willey was appointed to succeed him as agent in New-Hampshire, being also Secretary to the N. H. M. S. Mr. Willey entered upon his labours in November following, and has been diligently and usefully employed in visiting feeble churches and destitute places, calling the attention of the people to the importance of religious institutions, and stimulating and encouraging their endeavours to sustain the preaching of the Gospel. The advance of this Society, within the last three years, in the amount of its receipts, and the efficiency of its action, has been very rapid. In that time its annual income has been more than doubled, the number of its missionaries much increased, and their labours, in many places, greatly blessed. Its present arrangements are highly encouraging in regard to future operations.

THE VERMONT DOMESTIC MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The receipts of this Society, for the year ending April 1, 1835, have been $2,343 47, which is $881 98 less than the receipts of the previous year. The number of its missionaries, including the agent for that state, has been forty-two. Its disbursements, including incidental expenses, have been $3,122 87, which is $622 87 more than the expenditures of the previous year, leaving the treasury overdrawn, at the above date, $101 02, the balance in hand at the commencement of the year having been $678 38. These results are less discouraging in fact than in appearance, when it is considered that during the first half of the year the Society was without an agent, and that since the removal of the Rev. Mr. Rankin to that state, his labours have been much interrupted by ill health. It should also be remarked, that while the agent has been in the field, his labours, by previous arrangement, have been principally expended in the more destitute portions of the state, and have been less productive in the collection of funds than in the encouragement they have given to needy congregations. Mr. Rankin reports several interesting facts, which we reserve for our Appendix.

In addition to the amount above acknowledged, the following sums have been forwarded from Vermont directly to the treasury of the Parent Society viz: A legacy of the late Samuel Howard, $500 ; other contributions, $102, making the whole amount derived from that state, within the year, $2,945 47.

THE RHODE ISLAND DOMESTIC MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The annual return of this Society, for the 1st of April, 1835, has not been received. We learn, however, from its annual report, presented in June, 1834, that, during the year then terminating, its receipts from the churches within its own bounds had been $521, and from the Connecticut Missionary Society, $500. The number of its missionaries was six, and the prospects of the Society highly encouraging.

In addition to the above, the Beneficent Congregational Church, in Providence have contributed $184 21 directly to the Parent Society, making the amount raised in the state of Rhode Island, for this cause, $1,005 21.

THE NEW-YORK YOUNG MEN'S HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

This Society was organized in November last, in the city of New-York, embracing a large number of young men connected with different congregations. It has begun its work with energy, has raised already nearly $1,000, and has assumed the support of one missionary in Texas, one in Arkansas Territory, and that of our agent, the Rev. T. Baldwin, of Illinois. Another year, we trust, will exhibit great results from the operations of this young and vigorous auxiliary.

THE PHILADELPHIA BOARD OF AGENCY.

This agency, consisting of ten clergymen and laymen in the city of Philadelphia, has been organized since our last anniversary. They act as a board of correspondence and advice, in connexion with the Associate Secretary and General Agent of the Society for the Middle States, the Rev. Gideon N. Judd, who has his office in Philadelphia, and co-operates both with the Board of Agency there, and with the Executive Committee in New-York, as the convenience of different portions of his field require. This arrangement, with very little increase of expense, has been found highly convenient and productive, and the labours of Mr. Judd have introduced the operations of the Society, in a very acceptable manner, to a large and interesting field, which, from various causes, had been before but partially occupied. His success has surpassed the expectations both of himself and the committee. The amount of receipts from that field during the year, has been $5,539 65, and the influence exerted has been every where of a salutary character, and such as, with the blessing of God, gives promise of far greater results in coming years.

CENTRAL AGENCY IN THE STATE OF NEW-YORK, AT UTICA.

This agency continues gradually advancing in the extent and efficiency of its operations. It embraces 13 counties, in the central part of New-York, with a population of not less than 500,000, one half of whom are not supplied with the administration of the Gospel by competent ministers of any denomination. The number of Presbyterian, Reformed Dutch, and Congregational ministers, is about 170. Our agent, the Rev. Abijah Crane, who is also secretary of the agency, has continued his efficient and useful labours on that field during the year. The number of missionaries employed, including the agent, has been 49, and the number of hopeful conversions under their ministry, about 500. The receipts of the agency, including several sums forwarded by the donors directly to the treasury in New-York, have been $3,387 11.

On the whole, the prospects of the agency are encouraging. In the language of our agent, "though little has been done within the year to arrest the attention of the passing observer, yet we are sure that the moderate but quenchless fires of benevolent principle are burning more and more."

WESTERN AGENCY IN THE STATE OF NEW-YORK, GENEVA.

This is the oldest of the agencies of the Society, having existed in its present form from the commencement of the institution. For several years also it was the most efficient, and its annual contribution to the funds of the Society was larger than that of any other auxiliary or agency, and the amount of its contribution was annually increased, until the year terminating May 1, 1832, it reached the sum of $5,749 21. Its receipts during the two succeeding years, on account of the ill health and partial suspension of the labours of our former agent there, were reduced to less than $5,000 each year. The operations of the last year, however, have restored that important agency to much more than its former efficiency. Its receipts since the last anniversary have been $6,574. Besides this the agent assures us that good subscriptions have been obtained sufficient to make the amount received and pledged on that field, within the year, $10,000. This large increase of income from Western New-York, is to be attributed principally, under God, to the efficient labours of the Rev. John A. Murray, who was appointed General Agent and Secretary of the Agency, in October last, the field having been destitute of any stated agent during the former half of the year. The impulse which has since been given to the cause is highly encouraging. This agency embraces the seventeen western counties of the state of New-York, with a population of 650,000, which is probably increasing at the rate of 20,000 every year. The number of missionaries employed there during the last year, including the agent, has been 59, who have been sustained at an expense of about $5,000, and the remainder of the receipts of the agency have gone to aid the operations of the Society on other fields.

THE WESTERN RESERVE DOMESTIC MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

This Society embraces that part of Ohio denominated the "Western Reserve," and Michigan Territory. Its field is extensive, and highly interesting in its character and prospects, and we are happy to add that the operations of this auxiliary, together with those of the Parent Society on the same field, have been more than doubled within the last three years. The receipts of that Society for the year ending April 1, 1835, have been $3,164 54, of which $2,030 43, including incidental expenses, has been expended in the support of 28 missionaries on the "Reserve," appointed by the W. R. D. M. S., under commissions from the Parent Society, but for whose support the auxiliary is responsible. Of the balance, $850 have been forwarded to the treasury in New-York, and expended in the general operations of the Society, and $284 11 remained in the treasury of the auxiliary at the above date. Besides the above receipts, there have been forwarded from the Western Reserve and Michigan Territory, to the Parent Society, about the sum of $75, making the whole amount derived from that field, within the year, $3,239 54.

For these results, we are much indebted to the labours of our agent, the Rev. Daniel W. Lathrop, who is also secretary of the W. R. D. M. S., and whose counsel, together with that of the enlightened and judicious board with which he is associated, has contributed greatly to direct and facilitate the operations of the Parent Society on that field. We have also derived essential advantage in regard to our appropriations in Michigan Territory, from our esteemed committee of correspondence in Detroit.

CENTRAL BOARD OF AGENCY FOR THE WESTERN STATES, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

This important agency has continued its operations with uninterrupted and increasing prosperity. Its receipts for the year ending April 1, 1835, have been $3,265 25, which is more than double the amount reported at the close of the previous year. Of this sum, $2,050 have been appropriated and partly expended in the support of 17 missionaries appointed by the agency under commissions from the Parent Society, and the balance has been paid, or is subject to our order, for the support of other missionaries in the western states. The sum of $58 50 has been received from that field in addition to the above, making in all $3,332 75. Our agent, the Rev. Henry Little, being also secretary of the agency, has laboured with great efficiency during the year, and, in connexion with the board under whose advice he pursues his arduous work, has not only been the principal collector of the above amount, but by his labours in the congregations aided or needing aid, and by the information and advice which he has communicated to the Executive Committee, has rendered important service in regard to our operations in Ohio, Kentucky, and adjoining states.

The anniversary held in Cincinnati in October last, under direction of this agency, fully sustained the interest excited by the meeting of the previous year. These occasions afford favourable opportunities for laying before the western public the operations of the Society, and have hitherto been attended with the happiest results. Other anniversaries of a similar character have been held at other important places in the West since our last report, at Lexington, Ky., Hudson, Ohio, Crawfordsville, Ind., all of which were numerously attended and ably sustained, and have given a new impulse to the interest felt in the cause of Home Missions in the western states.

OTHER AGENCIES IN THE WEST AND SOUTH.

The Rev. B. C. Cressy, and the Rev. J. Thomson, who were reported last year as agents in Indiana, fulfilled each a part only of the service for which they were then appointed, the latter being prevented by the calls of his people and the claims of the college at Crawfordsville, and the former being cut down in the midst of his useful and efficient labours by the hand of death.* To supply the lack of service thus occasioned, and to provide for the pressing necessities of the cause in that state, the Rev. Samuel G. Lowry was appointed in January last to act as general agent for the A. H. M. S., in Indiana, under the direction of the Indiana Missionary Society. His reports of labour have been interesting and prospects encouraging.

The Rev. Theron Baldwin, of Illinois, has been diligently and successfully employed during the year in that state. The amount of receipts from Illinois since our last anniversary, has been $596 38, which has been transmitted or paid to the order of the Executive Committee. But this amount of collection is but a small item in estimating the usefulness of Mr. Baldwin's agency. About one half of his Sabbaths during the year have been spent in protracted meetings or communion seasons, generally in places where but little could be realized in direct contributions to the funds of the Society, but where much has been effected indirectly, by increasing the contributions of the people towards the support of their own ministers, and thus diminishing the amount of aid required from our funds. Nor is even this the most important result of his zealous and persevering labours. "In journeyings often," he has been highly useful in strengthening the hands of his brethren, and healing divisions in the churches, while his services as an evangelist have been greatly blessed in different and distant parts of that state, and also in Missouri, to which he extended his labours a short time only. His own language is, "It has been a thrice blessed year to my own soul, and I trust not without benefit to the souls of many others."

* Mr. Cressy departed this life in July last, having laboured five years in the service of the Society in that state. His praise was in all the churches there, and his death deeply lamented.

The Rev. Amos P. Brown was appointed in March, 1834, and entered upon his labours in Missouri in April following. He served the Society acceptably and with useful results, until the 24th March, 1835, when the Synod of Missouri assumed the responsibility of his support, and have since employed him as an evangelist in different parts of the state.

The Rev. Theodore S. Spencer was appointed on a temporary agency in the District of Columbia and vicinity, and laboured a few weeks very acceptably, both as regards his pecuniary contributions and the usefulness of his ministry to the congregations which he visited.

The Rev. David Porter, D. D., has served the Society usefully, as in former years, in the counties of Columbia and Greene, and other places bordering on the Hudson river, N. Y.

SABBATH SCHOLARS' MISSIONARY ASSOCIATIONS.

The oldest and most efficient of the associations which have come to our aid under the above denomination, is that of the Cedar-street Presbyterian Church in this city. This association of children and youth, embracing a male and female branch, has been in operation eight years, and in that time has contributed to the treasury of the Parent Society, the sum of nearly $3,000, which has been expended in the support of from two to six missionaries each year, who have made reports to their juvenile patrons, and have thus secured a constant and growing interest in the association. The receipts of this association the last year have been $296 40, and its number of missionaries have been five. A similar association in the South Dutch Church has contributed to our funds since the last anniversary $200, and sustained two missionaries; and one in the West Presbyterian Church, has supported two missionaries by the contribution of $170 20. Its late annual report is unusually animating and encouraging. There is also a Sabbath Scholars' Association in the First Church in Brooklyn, and others have been reported in different parts of the country, who are fast coming up to the example which has been set them by those above named.

OTHER SOURCES OF INCOME.

Besides the foregoing, there exist many smaller auxiliaries of various forms and different degrees of permanency, whose contributions are annually transmitted to our treasury. Among these are associations in single churches and congregations, and female associations, both of young ladies and married ladies, some of whom sustain particular missionaries selected for their support, and whom they especially remember in their prayers, and others contribute to the general operations of the Society. Contributions from individuals are also received from every portion of the country. Some of these are larger than in former years, giving evidence that the cause of the Society is taking a deeper hold of the affections of its friends. Two of the most important agents of this Society are supported each by the contribution of a single individual. Another is principally sustained by the contributions of two. Several of our missionaries are also supported by individual appropriations, while other individuals are contributing equal and even larger amounts to the general purposes of the institution; and some remember the Society in their testamentary bequests, in immediate view of the retributions of eternity. Several small legacies have been received since our last anniversary, amounting in all to $1,830. Excepting this small amount, the whole of the income of the year has been, not from the dead, but from the living. And in view of the large increase of contributions from these numerous sources, we are constrained to make mention of the goodness of God in the language of the prophet, "The grave cannot praise thee; death cannot celebrate thee. The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as we do this day." [Isa. xxxviii. 18, 19.]

SUMMARY REVIEW OF NINE YEARS.

Having reported the operations and results of the year now terminated, our thoughts revert with gratitude to the aggregate of blessings with which God has crowned the labours of this Society during the whole period of its existence. At the time of its organization, in 1826, it assumed the support of 101 missionaries, who had been previously appointed, and whose labours were extended to 130 congregations and missionary districts.

From our table of Comparative Results, it appears that the annual number of missionaries and agents employed, has been increased from 101 to 719, and the number of congregations and missionary districts aided has been increased from 130 to 1,050.

It appears also from the same table, that the whole number of different individuals who have been employed by the Society as missionaries and agents, since its commencement, nine years ago, has been 1,421,* this being the number of new appointments reported

* This, the reader will observe, is the number of appointments made since May 6, 1826, of missionaries not before in commission. To this number, therefore, provided it were stated with entire accuracy, we ought to add the 101 missionaries in commission at that time, making the whole number employed by the Society 1,522; a few of these, however, had been previously in commission, and on their removal, in subsequent years, to new and distant fields of labour, have been reported as new appointments. To make ample allowance for all such cases, we have deducted from our statement the 101 above named, leaving the whole number of different individuals employed, 1,421, which we believe to be below rather than above the true number. It should also be remembered that a portion of these, perhaps 100, had been before employed by several local societies, which have become auxiliary to the A. H. M. S., and have put their missionaries under the commissions of the Parent Society.

within the nine years. The average length of time which each of these missionaries and agents has laboured in the service of the Society has been one year, eleven months and a fraction, making in all 2,727 years, which is the actual amount of ministerial labour reported as having been performed within the nine years.

The probable number of congregations and missionary districts, to which the labours of these missionaries have been extended, with more or less permanency, has been from 1,600 to 2,000.

Under their ministry, making proper allowance for deficiencies of reports, 25,000 have been added to the churches on profession of their faith.

The number of hopeful conversions on the same fields has probably exceeded 25,000. Many of these have united with other churches not aided by the Society, and some have chosen a connexion with other denominations.

There have been annually instructed in Sabbath Schools, under the care of our missionaries, from 10,000 to 40,000 children and youth, and in Bible classes from 2,000 to 12,000, of all ages.

INFLUENCE OF THE SOCIETY UPON OTHER DEPARTMENTS OF BENEVOLENT EFFORT.

Our last Annual Report contains an estimate of the influence of this Society on the general cause of Home Missions in the United States. Nine years ago, according to that estimate, the whole number of missionaries annually sustained by all the Domestic Missionary Societies and Boards of Missions of the denominations represented in this Society was less than 300. Now the number is not less than 1,019, of which 719 are sustained by the A. H. M. S., and about 300 by other organizations in the Presbyterian, Congregational, Reformed Dutch and German Reformed Churches. The number of congregations and destitute places, to which the labours of these missionaries are annually extended, in the United States and adjoining provinces and territories, is not less than 1,600. Thus, besides the influence which the operations of this Society have exerted on other organizations, in stimulating them to sustain the full amount of labour which was before performed by all previously existing societies, there have been added 719 to the number of ministers annually employed in the field of Domestic Missions. It has also, we doubt not, been the occasion of rousing the missionary zeal of other denominations, particularly of the Baptist and Episcopal churches, whose efficiency and usefulness in this department of service have been greatly extended since the organization of this Society.

The influence of this institution, however, has not been exhausted upon the cause of Home Missions alone. It has been associated, in its progress, with every other cause, both of patriotism and philanthropy, and its blessed results are so linked and mingled with those of other benevolent enterprises that they cannot be separated. The aim and the business of this Society is to convey to the destitute and sustain among the needy the sum and the source of every benefit, THE GOSPEL. Where this is enjoyed, faithfully administered and cordially received, there will spring up "trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he may be glorified." Such, most happily, have been the results of the operations of this Society. We have gathered from the reports of 132 missionaries the following items, viz: that, in the congregations and missionary districts where they labour, there have been collected, within the last year, the following sums for this and other objects of benevolence—

For Home Missions,	$2,153 89
Foreign Missions,	2,261 21
The Bible Society,	1,028 17
The Tract Society,	816 32
The Education Society,	817 17
Other objects and objects not specified,	1,265 26

Deducting $2,153 89, the amount contributed to Home Missions, and returned to the funds of the Society, the balance remaining for other objects is $6,188 13, which is nearly one half of the amount appropriated to sustain the 132 missionaries on the above fields. On the same fields the building of 25 meeting-houses has been commenced or completed within the last year. Surely these are results which cannot but be regarded with intense interest by every benevolent mind. Simply in regard to the security of pecuniary means for the general cause of benevolence, there are few investments which yield so large a dividend. It is nearly fifty per cent. per annum on the amount appropriated. The above congregations, it is admitted, are among the most productive, in this respect, of those who receive the aid of the Society. Yet they stand as examples of similar results, to some extent, on all the fields occupied by our missionaries. And these results are not for a single year only. When begun, they are likely to continue and increase. Those congregations which have been raised by the aid of this Society, from weakness to a degree of strength which enables them to sustain their ministers without assistance, are now, according to their ability, in many instances, among the most efficient helpers of this and every other good work. Every contribution, therefore, to the cause of Home Missions, is a permanent fund for benevolent purposes, invested, not in bank securities, nor in freehold estate, but in the hearts of a grateful people, and yielding, with perpetual increase, as long as the grace of God shall prevail over selfishness, "some thirty, some sixty and some a hundred fold."

But the pecuniary avails of the labours of our missionaries to other departments of benevolent effort, constitute but an inconsiderable portion of their influence on the general cause. The results of their active agency, both direct and indirect, in the promotion of temperance, the distribution of Bibles and religious tracts, the increase of the spirit of missions, both domestic and foreign, the promotion of Sabbath school and common school education, the founding of colleges and other seminaries of learning, male and female, literary and religious, surpass calculation, and combine to present this Society both to the patriot and the Christian, as one of the chief instruments of good to the nation, as well as to the church of the living God. The best interests of the republic, no less than the salvation of men, have been signally promoted by the blessings which have attended its constantly increasing operations and influence.

PROSPECTS OF THE SOCIETY.

In our remarks upon the state of the treasury, we have said that the Society is now out of debt. It cannot, however, remain so without the unremitted exertions of its agents and conductors, and an increase of contributions from the religious public. The pledges of the committee, in advance, are not less than $40,000, and the prospective demands of the cause are such as will allow us no relaxation of care and labour. The magnitude of the enterprise increases, and the field widens as we advance. Many new stations have been occupied within the last year, not only in our own country, but also in Canada on the north, and a beginning has been made in Texas on the south. Yet there remain vast and increasing fields to be cultivated. In the United States alone, the operations of this Society need at once to be more than doubled, to meet the demands of the cause; and if the missionary zeal and enterprise of the churches of these states is ever to avail any thing on behalf of other portions of the American continent, this Society presents the most appropriate medium of its action. No other organization has been formed for this purpose, excepting in relation to those tribes and communities which are properly denominated heathen. The civilized inhabitants of the British provinces on the north, and of the republics of South America, however corrupt or perverted their faith, are overlooked in the present missionary arrangements of our churches, excepting so far as they may be reached by the operations of this Society. Nor is there any other existing organization, through which American Christians may effectually extend their missionary aid to the other countries of Christendom. We wait then to be directed in regard to all these inviting and important fields; and it is, perhaps, not too much to predict, that the time is not far distant when the munificence of the religious public in these states will not only enable this Society to supply all the destitute at home, but also to be largely tributary to the advancement of the same blessed cause in other nominally Christian countries. Then shall we effectually co-operate with all the friends of the Bible and of Foreign Missions, having full scope for our endeavours and the largest practicable concentration of interests and efforts, till the work of the world's conversion shall be done, and the music of the hosts of heaven shall proclaim, "The kingdoms of the world have become the kingdoms of our Lord and of his Christ."

CONCLUSION.

To effect the glorious results which we have ventured to anticipate, large contributions of talent, of pecuniary means, of personal effort, and of men to become missionaries, are needed. In view of these necessities, and the stupendous interests at stake, we address ourselves to the conscience of the professed friends of missions. It is our duty to God, our Saviour, to make the Gospel known. We owe it to man, our brother; and from this obligation there is no discharge. We hold the Gospel on these terms, and under the power and sanction of this obligation we are going to the judgment seat of Christ.

We would cherish also ourselves, and urge upon our brethren, a higher tone of decision on the subject of missions. We profess that we are concerned for the honour of the Saviour and the salvation of men. Let us then be fixed, firmly fixed in principle. Let it be settled in our hearts, that the spread of the Gospel is an essential part of practical Christianity, the business of our lives, to which all other business is secondary and subordinate.

Finally, as we contemplate the mighty work to be done, as we lift up our eyes upon the field assigned especially to this Society, with all the touching interests which cluster upon the land of our fathers' graves and the home of our children, as we behold the destinies of a mighty nation rising in solemn prospect, and with them linked the destinies of the world, let us ponder the voice that speaketh from heaven, "IF ANY MAN WILL COME AFTER ME, LET HIM DENY HIMSELF, AND TAKE UP HIS CROSS DAILY, AND FOLLOW ME."

APPENDIX.

THE PHILADELPHIA AGENCY OF THE A. H. M. S.

This Agency, whose object and operations are noticed page 60, has been re-appointed for the year commencing May, 1835, and is composed of the following ministers and laymen, viz :—

Rev. E. S. ELY, D. D.
Rev. ALBERT BARNES,
Rev. JOHN L. GRANT,
Rev. ALBERT JUDSON,
Mr. JAMES MONTGOMERY,
Mr. AMBROSE WHITE,
Mr. THOMAS ELMES,
Mr. GEORGE W. TOLAND,
Mr. JAMES PHYFE,

Rev. GIDEON N. JUDD, Corresponding Secretary and Agent.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The following is the Annual Report of the Agency to the Executive Committee, May 1, 1835.

The first year of my agency in the service of the A. H. M. S. has just closed, and it becomes my duty to give you and the Executive Committee an account of my labours and success, and the grounds of discouragement and hope for the future. Probably none of the fields occupied by your agents, exhibit more striking contrasts in their moral and religious aspects, than the one assigned to me. In beauty and fertility, parts of it will scarcely suffer when compared with the fairest portions of the Lord's heritage in this or any other land. Large sections of it, however, present very little to cheer the eye, and much to pain the heart of the Christian philanthropist. It is one of the many pleasing features of the Society whose interest we are labouring to promote, that it renders the former more verdant and fruitful, while it makes draughts upon them in order to redeem the latter from barrenness, and adorn them with "trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he may be glorified."

Within the field of my labours, are many places which greatly need the assistance of the Society, and on which its benefactions might be bestowed with encouraging prospects of usefulness. Some of these are in New Jersey; where also are to be seen results of Domestic Missions, which have made glad the hearts of the friends of Zion, and augmented the joys of the pure and benevolent spirits before the throne of God. Several flourishing churches in the northern section of the state, which I had the satisfaction to visit, under God, owe their present prosperity, and some of them their very existence, to missionary labours. Some of them, out of weakness, have become strong, and with great liberality and cheerfulness, contribute of their substance to furnish the destitute with the administration of Divine ordinances.

The state of Pennsylvania, almost, if not wholly unrivalled by any of the states east of the Alleghanies, in the fertility of its soil and other sources of wealth, abounds with dreary moral wastes, which greatly need the labours of skilful, diligent, self-denied, spiritual husbandmen. By a part of the inhabitants of these portions of the state at least, the miseries of their spiritual condition are in some degree felt. Inquiry on religious subjects, and a desire to enjoy stately the benefits of an evangelical ministry, are awakened. Such are the proper objects of Christian commiseration and benevolence, and especially are those who feel little or no solicitude about their duty to God, salvation, and heaven, and who live only to "treasure up to themselves wrath against the day of wrath, and revelation of the righteous judgment of God."

Many parts of the states of Delaware and Maryland, greatly need and have peculiar claims to the regards of the friends of Domestic Missions. There some of the first Presbyterian churches in this country were organized, and blessed with the labours of able and devoted ministers of the Lord Jesus. From causes which need not now be mentioned, some of them have become extinct, and others have little more than a nominal existence. Such being the condition of the spiritual temple, it is not surprising that many of the houses of worship were suffered to sink into decay. Many of them deserted by men, have become the dwellings of reptiles, and shelters for the beasts of the field, and the fowls of heaven. Within their once consecrated walls, the voice of God's ambassadors, and the songs of Zion are no longer heard, but the bleating of flocks, the lowing of herds, the chattering of swallows, and the hooting of the bird of darkness. It is cheering to the heart of Christian piety, to know that the day-star from on high has visited some of these waste places of Zion. Within a few years past, some of these dilapidated churches have been repaired and supplied with zealous and devoted ministers, whose labours have been greatly blessed.

Of the moral desolations within the bounds of my agency, I have laboured as far as possible to gain an accurate knowledge by personal observation. When this was impracticable, I have sought it from sources best entitled to confidence. The result has been a deepening conviction of the vast importance of increased efforts to shed the enlightening, and purifying, and ennobling influence of the religion of the Son of God, over all parts of this field, of our beloved country, and all the inhabited portions of the globe.

The committee are aware of the peculiarly delicate nature of my agency, and the obstacles to its success, arising from conflicting views in regard to the best method of conducting Domestic Missions. All occasions of offence to the friends of ecclesiastical organizations, so far as fidelity to the cause which I am labouring, from a settled conviction of duty, to promote, I have studiously avoided, and gladly availed myself of opportunities to serve them, where I found prepossessions in their favour. Thus far my way has been less embarrassed and painful, and the obstacles to the successful prosecution of my agency fewer and less formidable than I anticipated.

In prosecuting my agency during the year, I have travelled 2,324 miles, preached 130 times, and presented the claims of the Society to more than forty congregations. I have also endeavoured to avail myself of opportunities for exciting a missionary spirit, by conversation, writing letters, and attending weekly prayer meetings and the monthly concert. From the field assigned me have been collected during the year, $5,539 65. This sum, though far below my wishes, has exceeded my expectations. The first fruits of systematic effort on this field, should, I think, call forth the devout thanksgiving of the friends of Zion, and stimulate them to pray for and expect a future harvest, which shall make glad their hearts, and enable the Society to send forth larger supplies of the bread of life to those who are now suffering the miseries of spiritual famine.

When surveying the state of some of the churches aided by this Society, and of others which had been raised into importance by missionary efforts, my spirit was refreshed, and I was forcibly reminded of the following declarations of the prophet:—"And they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations. The wilderness and the solitary place shall be made glad for them, and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose. It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice with joy and singing."

It is cheering to find evidence of a growing interest in the prosperity of the Society, both on the part of those who are able to contribute to its funds, and of those who need its assistance. The attention of the feeble churches is increasingly directed toward it as the source whence they are to derive aid in securing the stated administration of divine ordinances. From them more applications have been made to the Board of Agency here within the last two than during the ten preceding months of the year. This cry of the needy will, I trust, be responded to by the churches, not in word merely, but by deeds of benevolence, which shall make glad the hearts of the famishing, and make the sorrowful and desponding to sing for joy.

On the review, the events of the year in relation to my agency, are more cheering than I dared to anticipate. And yet, compared with the demand for aid within the limited field of my labours, and the ability of the churches, and especially in view of the wants of the country and the world, I feel that but little, almost nothing, has been done. Efforts such as the church has not made since the days of primitive Christianity, are urgently called for by the present condition of our beloved country, and of other lands. A crisis of most thrilling interest in the moral and religious state of this nation, and momentous in its aspect toward the conversion of the world, has undoubtedly arrived. In order to meet it, the churches must be roused from their slumbers, the strong defences of avarice must be swept away, and above all, the strifes of party, and of ambition among the professed disciples and ministers of the Lord Jesus, must give place to the holy emulation of provoking one another to love and good works. Then may we expect the Spirit to be poured out from on high, and the work of evangelizing the nation and the world, to go forward with a rapidity which shall astonish and delight all who love Zion and desire the salvation of men. Should my feeble efforts in the service of the A. H. M. S. contribute toward bringing about so glorious a result, I shall feel that I have an infinite remuneration for all the self-denial endured, and labour performed, in promoting these momentous objects.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The return of another anniversary warrants us again, in this public manner, to recognise our obligations to the God of Missions, and to offer our yearly tribute of gratitude for his continued favours.

The Lord has suffered nothing to occur the past year to interrupt the peaceful pursuit of our high calling. The impulse occasioned by the novelty of this work has passed away, and the churches are now musing upon its intrinsic worth. Though little has been affected, since our last report, to arrest the attention of a passing observer, yet we are sure that the moderate but quenchless fires of benevolent principle are burning more and more.

The amount of pledges during the year, including all the expenses of the agency, is $4,097 24, and there have been raised this year, for the purposes of the Agency, including what we know has been sent directly to the treasury at New-York, $3,387 11.

We have recommended commissions, the past year, to thirty-six missionaries, to labour as many years within our bounds. Our missionaries have enjoyed uninterrupted health, and harmony has prevailed in their churches. The number of churches now receiving aid is forty-four. Several of these churches have had pastors installed over them the past year, and several, which were on our list a year since, are now able to sustain themselves. Thirty-five years of missionary labour have been performed on this field within the year, and a large portion of it has been cheerful and very self-denying service. These labours have not been in vain. God has blessed them. It is with a grateful heart we are able to record that, aside from all the other salutary effects of a preached Gospel, not less than five hundred have indulged a hope in Christ, and more than four hundred have joined the churches under our patronage. Our missionaries, it is believed, spare no pains to revive the spirit of parental fidelity, and to promote the usefulness of Sabbath Schools and Bible Classes. The average number, in each parish from which we have had a definite report, connected with Sabbath Schools and Bible Classes, is one hundred and eighteen. Allowing others to be the same, there are not less than five thousand youth and children studying the Bible under the supervision of our missionaries. No churches are more prompt than those we aid, in coming up to the proper standard in the cause of temperance. Few, if any, of our recently formed churches, have omitted to make total abstinence from manufacturing, vending, or consuming intoxicating drinks, a condition of membership. As accurately as we can determine from the reports we have received, there are more than ten thousand in the congregations we have aided the past year, who have signed the temperance pledge.

The adoption of a uniform system, in taking collections for the six most prominent objects of benevolence, is now nearly completed. Though it has prevented our taking collections the past year, in two entire counties, it is regarded by us as a very important arrangement. It will relieve our agent in future from many disappointments and much loss of time. This arrangement, together with the fact that some of the pastors and churches are already pledged to do their own collecting, (and others, we doubt not, will soon follow their worthy example,) promises to relieve the agent so far from the business of soliciting funds, as to allow much of his time to be employed in exploring waste places, preaching as a missionary, and organizing and directing the energies of the destitute churches.

We have judged it best, in former years, to direct the attention of the churches to the good that has been done, and the good that is in prospect, connected with this Christian enterprise. We now deem it expedient to invite their attention to another view of this field of labour. This is appropriately our field. God has committed it to us. If all is not done that should be done, we must soon tell our Master why we did not do it.

There are, within our limits, more than five hundred thousand inhabitants. To supply these, there are not more than one hundred and twenty Presbyterian ministers who are employed in preaching the Gospel, and about forty Congregationalists. There are also between one hundred and fifty and two hundred of other Christian denominations. Taking the largest number, we have but three hundred and sixty ministers to supply half a million of inhabitants. Allowing seven hundred inhabitants to each minister, which is more than the average of our congregations, but one half of this population is supplied with the preached Gospel. Not less than sixty Presbyterian and Congregational churches in this district of the state, dependent on us for aid, are now entirely destitute of the Gospel ministry, except as they are furnished with an occasional sermon. Less than one in six of the people are professors of religion. Not less than four hundred and twenty thousand, except they have embraced some delusive heresy, are confessedly in the broad way to interminable wo. And unless something more is done, we have but little more reason to hope for the conversion of two hundred and fifty thousand of them, than we have for the inhabitants of Central Asia.

Over this picture of central New-York, and it is probably a fair picture of the whole western district, humanity may weep, and the heart of piety bleed. God has made it our duty to preach the Gospel to every creature, but when will it be done at this rate? When will the church arise and shine? When will the mid-day, or even the morning of millennium come? When? Why, never. Time may roll on till every wheel is worn out, but the millennium will recede, unless more is done. Is not every Christian bound to do all he can? And cannot more be done? We are aware that almost "all with one consent begin to make excuse." Every one thinks he does as much as he conveniently can, and we are willing to concede the point that, without some change of habits, the supposition is true. As long as professing Christians set their heart on the world as much as they now do; as long as they are determined to increase their property about so much every year; as long as they consume the usual amount of their income to indulge their appetite and pride, so long will the supposition be true. But if any are concerned lest the blood of souls should appear against them at the judgment; or if the sympathies of any are moved in view of the two thousand Christians, and the five thousand parents, and the two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants in our own neighbourhood, who have no minister to break to them the bread of life, to aid them in training their children for heaven, and to point them to the Lamb of God; or if the hearts of any begin to ache in view of the prostrated honour of their God and Saviour, as evinced by the fact that five-sixths of their neighbours are habitually refusing to set their affections on God, and before one half of them there is no minister to plead the claims of the crucified Saviour; to such we would say, something can be done. And if you are willing to practise a little self-denial, something will speedily be done.

We need in this district three hundred and sixty more ministers. We have long enough looked abroad for them. They must be raised up from our own churches, and it can be done. Suppose there are no more churches in this region than there are ministers, viz., three hundred and sixty; and suppose each of these churches, on an average, does not contain more than twenty families, cannot each of these churches furnish one young man for the sacred office? This would be but a small offering to devote to God, who "delivered up his Son for us all." But this would give us forthwith three hundred and sixty young men to enter some school of the prophets to prepare for the "good work." "But how can they be supported?" With perfect ease, by a little sacrifice which will benefit your bodies and your souls. Strike off a single luxury, whose supposed necessity has been wholly created by habit, as truly as the use of strong drink, and we have enough. Just throw aside your tea and coffee, with their appendages, and substitute the unadulterated beverage which God has abundantly provided, and appropriate the amount you have consumed for these articles to this momentous work, and it is done.

By extensive and careful inquiries, we are fully convinced that the annual expense of these articles varies among our Christian families from $10 to $40, giving an average of $25 to each family. But if we suppose the expense to vary only from $5 to $25, the average of this would be $15 for each family. And should there be a conscientious scruple in the mind of any one, arising from the apprehension that those articles are beneficial for the aged, and many others, as a medicine, we will strike off one third of the above average for that purpose, and the remaining $10 saved annually by each family, will do the whole work. This will give us a yearly income of $72,000, which will be sufficient to allow each of the three hundred and sixty young men in their course of study, one hundred dollars every year, and leave $36,000 to be employed year after year, to the best advantage in our power, to furnish with the means of grace the hundreds of thousands of our neighbours who are in imminent danger of the damnation of hell. And who can say this plan is not plain and practicable? It does not require any to go to the prison, the stake, or the cross. No one is called upon to dwell in dens or caves of the earth, or to wander about in sheep skins and goat skins, being destitute, afflicted, tormented. Is there now a Christian father who would not feel it an exalted privilege to devote a son to the same ennobling employment to which God gave up his well beloved Son? And is there a follower of that Saviour who parted with his life to procure a preached Gospel for a dying world, that will not cheerfully and gratefully part with the luxury we have named, to carry out Christ's benevolent design? Who can hope for heaven, or presume to pray, while he knows he is indulging his appetite at the expense of souls, and consumes more every year for mere luxuries, than all he gives to save a world from sin?

NINTH ANNUAL REPORT.

The American Home Missionary Society is embalmed in the affection and gratitude of western New-York. Its importance, practicability, and usefulness, have been fully established. Within nine years it has nurtured and strengthened more than two hundred different Presbyterian and Congregational churches in the seventeen western counties of the state. It has bestowed upon these churches four hundred years of missionary labour, at an expense of $40,000. Many of these churches are now sustaining the Gospel without missionary help, and are extending that help to other churches, which encouraged and blessed them in the day of their feebleness. It has rendered essential aid in laying deep and broad the foundations for a religious community; has done much to promote the virtue, intelligence, and consequent prosperity of this part of the state, and to make it a delightful residence for the Christian, and for the lover of order. The churches will not forget the service rendered them. They wish to reciprocate the kindness, and to pour a hundred fold into the bosom of that Society which has so greatly befriended them.

The population of these seventeen counties is now at least 650,000; and notwithstanding the numbers that are removing west, is increasing more than 20,000 every year. It will probably increase at this rate for many years, as the population in some counties is still very sparse, the soil exceedingly productive, and large cities and flourishing villages are rising up. But although no part of our country, so new as this, is so well and so generally supplied with the stated labours of faithful ministers, many more labourers are needed to bring the entire population under the influence of the Gospel. At least fifty men, of suitable qualifications, could obtain immediate employment in churches now destitute of pastors, or in places where churches might be immediately organized, with a fair prospect of success. Some very important posts are now vacant, which ought to be filled with the best talents and most devoted piety. In some single counties, where are many interesting churches, and upon which, during the year, rich showers of grace have fallen, at least ten missionaries are needed to sustain the brethren who are reaping a glorious harvest, and almost sinking under the greatness of their labours. The counties peculiarly destitute, are Cattaraugus and Allegany. But in almost every county from Chautauque to Cayuga, there is a loud cry for more labourers.

Fifty-seven missionaries have been commissioned on this field, to perform fifty-five and a half years of missionary service. The whole expense of the Agency, during the year, including travelling expenses, &c., will not exceed $5,000.

To meet this expense, an effort was commenced in February last to find fifty individuals who would sustain the missionary operations of the Western Agency, by contributions of one hundred dollars and upwards. It was thought if the fifty were found, it would also enable the A. H. M. S. to send forth fifty additional missionaries into other states and territories, as all the smaller sums collected for Home Missions in the churches within the bounds of this Agency, could then be expended by the Parent Society upon other more destitute fields. This effort excited a deep interest among Christians, and has been signally blessed by the Great Head of the Church. $5,250 dollars have been subscribed by forty-one individuals, including one subscription of $1,000, one of $250, and one of $200. The remainder are $100 each.

Most of these individuals design to contribute annually the same sum, while a few will probably be unable to supply this amount after the present year. Thus the feeble churches on this Agency are now sustained by a few individuals, some of whom are making great exertions to take part in this important work. The churches aided, we are confident, when apprized of this fact, will do what they can to help themselves. They will not apply for help, when great exertions on their part may enable them to sustain the Gospel without foreign aid.

The receipts of this Agency, for the past year, as acknowledged in the Home Missionary, are $6,574 03. In addition, more than $3000 have been obtained in good subscriptions, principally of $100 each, and which will be paid within a year. The receipts and good subscriptions obtained amount to at least $10,000.

The churches which have paid into the treasury the largest sums, are the following:—

1. Geneva.....	$1,577 91	7. Auburn, 1st Ch.....	$351 60
2. Rochester, 1st Ch.....	447 12	8. Canandaigua.....	309 35
3. Buffalo, 1st Ch.....	441 90	9. Auburn, 2d Ch.....	181 00
4. Penn Yan.....	431 00	10. Palmyra.....	179 59
5. Ithaca.....	424 25	11. E. Bloomfield.....	148 86
6. Rochester, Brick Ch.....	389 43	12. Seneca Falls.....	119 68

The Board have closed the responsibilities of the year with an increasing conviction of the importance of the Home Missionary enterprise, and with gratitude to God for the part they are permitted to take in supplying the rising churches with the means of salvation. They would record with gratitude, "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us." They are encouraged by a kind providence to go forward. This providence is conspicuous in the increasing and growing favour in which the Parent Society is held in the churches, and in the growing numbers of laymen, aspiring to the privilege of sustaining a missionary in some post of Zion. Many are looking forward, with joyful expectations, to the time when they will be enabled to do this. The Board wish, the coming year, to locate on this Agency, fifty additional missionaries. They believe, if the missionaries can be found, that one hundred men or families can be found within the bounds of this Agency who will contribute one hundred dollars each. They are confident that Christians are beginning to live more exclusively for a dying world. The sin of covetousness, and the folly of living to themselves are perceived, and the consequent solemn admonitions of God are felt. Instead of brass the friends of missions are beginning to bring gold; and instead of iron, silver. The church is waking out of a deep and guilty sleep. She is opening her eyes upon the wants of a ruined world. The sight has affected her heart, and she will sleep no more until the world is converted to her Saviour. The Board wish also to do more for other parts of our country and continent. They think the time has come when Christians of every name should unite in one concentrated and mighty effort to supply at once every town in our nation with a faithful Protestant ministry.

ANNUAL REPORT.

CINCINNATI, April 10, 1835.

To the Executive Committee of the A. H. M. S.—

Through the mercy of God we have been all spared another year, and enabled to continue our efforts and extend our operations in these missionary regions. During the year we have received $3,265 25. About $3,000 more has been raised by others this side of the mountains, and I suppose about $14,000 sent from Christians in the East to aid our feeble churches, for which they are ever ready to express their sincere thanks. Many of the churches which receive $100 per year from the A. H. M. S. contribute that amount to other benevolent institutions, who would give little or nothing if they had not a minister; so that, on the whole, they are not debtors; and the facts of every month show that they will soon pay back again into our treasury the principal and a liberal interest. We then cannot afford to withhold our aid. They are the best permanent funds the Church can have, and it is bad economy to neglect them. If the larger churches withhold their assistance, these will diminish and die, and deep-rooted error, and the associations of ungodly men, will take their places, which, as in the heathen world, years of faithful missionary toil cannot supplant. The operation of our charities is truly Christian and delightful. Most of the churches assisted are growing up active and benevolent, and their gratitude to their benefactors, and their prayers for them, and their thanksgivings to God, are like those of Christians of other times, and I can truly say, (2 Cor. ix., 12—19,) that "the administration of this service not only supplieth the wants of the saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings unto God, while by the experiment of this ministration they glorify God for your professed subjection unto the Gospel of Christ, and for your liberal distribution unto them and unto all men, and by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding grace of God in you." And is there reason to fear our eastern friends will soon begin to think the work is done, and may now cease to send their missionaries and sustain them amongst us. Dear brethren, the demand was never so great as it now is. Our fertile extensive country, with its rising towns and cities, is filling up with thousands of emigrants from the Atlantic states and Europe, and calling louder and louder for missionary aid. We do not rise here by the slow rules drawn from the history of other countries. We grow up from infancy to manhood in a day. The extensive prairie, loaded with weeds and flowers, concealing the fox and the wolf beneath its waving grass, will, in three years, be a plantation as mature as a New-England farm that has been improving these twenty years. Let then the church, instead of relaxing its efforts, move on in its benevolent action as rapidly as our population and improvements, or as the rapid growth of error and sin, and heaven will bless our labours; but if we stop, all will float down the stream, and "darkness will cover the land."

The remainder of this report is occupied by a list of missionaries sustained by the Agency, and particulars concerning them, most of which are inserted in our General Table, and the whole is signed by

HENRY LITTLE, Cor. Sec.

TERMS OF CONNEXION AND STIPULATION,

Between the American Home Missionary Society and its Auxiliaries, recommended by the Executive Committee.

In the formation of the numerous branches of the A. H. M. S., it has been a subject of no little difficulty to determine upon a plan of co-operation suited to the condition of existing societies in all parts of the United States, and equally adapted to promote the interests of the Parent Society, and each of its Auxiliaries. The Executive Committee have, accordingly, waited for the results of experience, that they might permanently pursue the best method to secure these objects. They are now prepared to recommend with confidence the following, as a plan altogether practicable, and equally suited, as it is designed, to promote the efficiency and harmony of the missionary work in the several states and religious denominations, to which the operations of this Society are extended.

PLAN OF LARGER SOCIETIES.

In those parts of the country where efficient organizations in aid of Home Missions do not already exist, the formation of two kinds of societies auxiliary to the A. H. M. S. is desired; the one large, and the other small, and the former to embrace the latter. Each larger society may be formed to embrace the limits of a county, a city, a state, a presbytery, or a synod, as shall be judged most conducive to its activity and efficiency. The objects of all such societies should be to raise funds to furnish, first, all needed aid to the destitute within their own limits; and, secondly, to aid the Parent Society in extending the Gospel to communities still more needy. To accomplish these objects most effectually, it is important that each society be so small, in extent of territory, that its committee or executive board may have a competent knowledge of the claims of the destitute within its limits, while it should be sufficiently large to furnish a field for the operations of an agent, for the collection of funds, the formation of subsidiary organizations, and to act as its organ of communication with the Parent Society. For this last purpose it is judged expedient that in all cases where the auxiliary society is sufficiently large to employ a permanent agent, he be also its corresponding secretary.

FORM OF CONSTITUTION,

Recommended to the adoption of Auxiliary Societies.

ART. I.—This society shall be known by the name of the Domestic Missionary Society, and shall be auxiliary to the American Home Missionary Society.

ART. II.—This Society shall be composed of such individuals as shall contribute annually to its funds, together with the members of the several church and congregational associations for Home Missions within the limits of this society.

ART. III.—The officers of the society shall be a president, vice presidents, a treasurer, and a secretary, to be chosen at the annual meeting. These officers, in connexion with at least one person elected from each of the several associations of gentlemen composing the society, shall constitute a board of directors, of whom not less than five shall be a quorum at any meeting regularly convened.

ART. IV.—It shall be the duty of the board of directors to meet at the call of the president, or as often as shall be necessary for the transaction of business; to fill their own vacancies, to appoint an executive committee, to adopt the most energetic measures in their power to accomplish the object of the society; especially by distributing such publications as may be committed to them by the parent institution, and by deputing some of their number to attend the annual meetings of the several associations; and, in general, by using all suitable means to excite an interest in the cause of Home Missions.

ART. V.—The annual receipts of the society, after defraying incidental expenses, shall be paid over to the treasurer of the Parent Society, with directions as to the section of country in which it shall be expended in missionary labours, should the board deem it important to give such directions. [See resolutions on next page.]

ART. VI.—The society shall meet as often as called by the directors, and annually on the of March, when the officers shall be elected; the accounts of the treasurer, properly audited, shall be presented, and the annual report of the directors received, and when this constitution may be amended by a vote of two thirds of the members present.

ART. VII.—A copy of the constitution, authenticated by the secretary, together with the names and the residences of the officers annually elected, and also a copy of each annual report, shall be transmitted to the corresponding secretary of the American Home Missionary Society, as early as the first of April in each year.

STIPULATIONS.

For the purpose of producing uniformity in the operations of the larger societies, auxiliary to the A. H. M. S., and the better to secure to each the control of its funds and appropriations, the following resolutions are recommended to their adoption; and the Executive Committee will engage, with every auxiliary adopting them, to perform the stipulations which these resolutions require of the Parent Society, provided the proposed limits of societies requesting to become auxiliary on this plan, be such as, in the opinion of this committee, will facilitate the operations of the Parent Society within the same; and provided these engagements, having been formed with the missionary society of a state, or a synod, shall not be so construed as to debar this committee from the liberty of co-operating, if desired, with any county, presbyterial, or other society within its limits, acting independently of said larger society.

RESOLUTIONS,

Recommended to the adoption of Auxiliary Societies.

1. This society shall pay over to the treasurer of A. H. M. S. the whole of its income, from time to time, after deducting incidental expenses; provided, however, that the permanent fund* of the society shall for ever remain, as to the power of investment, &c. under its own control; and, provided, also, that the whole or any part of said income, having been reported as subject to the order of the Parent Society, shall be allowed to remain, if requested by the directors of this society, in the treasury of the same, for the payment of missionaries and agents, as hereinafter stipulated.

2. The Parent Society shall allow to this auxiliary the right to appoint and pay missionaries within the limits of _____ to any amount not exceeding the above named income; provided, that all appointments of missionaries by this society, shall be made in the manner following: (viz.)

A sufficient number of blank commissions shall be furnished to this society, by the executive committee of the Parent Society, signed by the chairman and corresponding secretary of the same, which shall be filled and countersigned by the proper officers, and issued on the responsibility of this society.

3. All missionaries shall be paid from the income of this society, in the manner following: (viz.) The directors of this society having reported the income, or receipts of the same, to the Parent Society, and having requested that so much of the income so reported, as they shall deem necessary to answer the engagements of this society, may be retained for that purpose, the executive committee of the Parent Society, shall, in answer to such request, and without delay, direct the treasurer of the same to issue an order to the directors of this society, to retain the whole, or such portion of the said income, as shall have been thus requested, for the purpose of paying the same as it shall become due to the missionaries appointed by this society, under commissions from the Parent Institution.

4. Should appropriations of aid be needed within the _____ to exceed the amount of the income of this society, such appropriations shall be made directly by the Parent Society, on the sole responsibility of the same; provided, however, that in all such cases, the advice and recommendation of the directors of this society shall be previously obtained.

5. This society shall be governed in its appropriations by the general principles which govern the appropriations of the Parent Society.

6. This society shall appoint no missionaries or agents out of the limits of the same.

7. Agents for the collection of funds for this society, may be appointed by the executive committee of the Parent Society, with the recommendation or consent of the directors of this auxiliary, and all agents so appointed shall report the amount of their collections, both to the auxiliary and the Parent Society; and each agent so appointed, shall receive his compensation from this society, in the same manner that the missionaries of the society receive theirs.

Reasons of the foregoing Recommendations.

The above resolutions are in accordance with the spirit of the eighth article of the constitution of the Parent Society. They have been already adopted by the New-Hampshire Missionary Society, the Vermont Domestic Missionary Society, the Massachusetts Missionary Society, the Maine Missionary Society, the Connecticut Missionary Society, and substantially by a number of other societies, as the basis of their auxiliary connexion with the A. H. M. S. In recommending the same to the adoption of societies which may hereafter become auxiliary, the executive committee of the Parent Society are influenced by the following considerations:

1. Wherever these resolutions are adopted, they will bring the influence of the Parent Society to act on its auxiliaries in the matter of raising funds, and thus a principle distinctly avowed in the formation of the national institution, will be most securely guarded, viz.: That local societies should not be superseded, nor impeded in their operations, but strengthened and stimulated. On this plan the agent of each auxiliary will also be the agent of the Parent Society, and by keeping advised of the operations and necessities of the latter, will be able to acquaint each congregation which he may address, with what the whole country is doing; and the influence of example will be fully felt, while the great national object, by being presented as one and undivided, will assume an importance as much superior to that exhibited by the separate claims of a local society, as the wants of the nation are more extensive than those of a single state or county; and it is found, that when facts are presented as the ground of appeal, Christians and patriots are every where disposed to contribute in proportion to the magnitude of the work to be accomplished by their beneficence. In this way the resources of each local society may be greatly increased by a connexion with the national institution.

2. By these stipulations, each auxiliary society is left to the independent and unembarrassed exercise of all its rights in the business of appropriating its own funds to the relief of the needy within its limits, while it secures to itself the additional advantage of directing other appropriations made by the Parent Society within the same bounds. And this is an advantage which will be very gladly yielded to auxiliary presbyteries, synods and societies, whose knowledge of the work to be done within their own limits is, in all cases, much more minute and particular than can be possessed through the medium of correspondence by the national institution.

3. These stipulations, wherever they shall be adopted, will put it out of the power of the National Society to contravene the wishes of those whose business it is to manage the affairs, and guard the purity of the churches in the different sections of our country. It can plant no missionary in stations yielded to the supervision of an auxiliary society, presbytery or synod, without the approbation of the same; and when a missionary or agent shall cease to be approved by the auxiliary, the Parent Society will be bound to recal him, or withdraw his support. Thus the National Institution claims to be the servant of the churches wherever it may be permitted to act in the benevolent work for which it has been formed and sustained. It pretends to no ecclesiastical authority. It interferes not with the discipline, nor the peculiar views of any section of the church, but desires to act through its auxiliaries, and to be directed in its operations by their united counsels. It will aid feeble congregations in the support of such ministers only as shall have been approved by the ecclesiastical bodies with which they are connected. This society has no charter, and no funded property. It has its being only in the confidence and co-operation of the Christian public; and should it ever, through unfaithfulness to its trust, cease to deserve these, its auxiliaries may withdraw them, and the National Society cease to exist.

4. The effect of this whole plan, should it become universal in the churches represented in this society, will be the same which was contemplated in the formation of the National Institution.

It will prevent the interference and cross-action of a number of independent societies, occupying portions of the same field without concert, and without agreement. The state, synodical, presbyterial, and other local societies, will be confined in their appropriations, each to its own limits, and as fast as they are able, they will supply their own destitute; while the National Society, gathering strength from the increased resources of its auxiliaries, will be the servant of all in conveying their surplus charities to the new and increasing fields of desolation in our frontier settlements. For this service, the National Society, sustained by the co-operation here recommended, will possess peculiar advantages. Its office will be the centre of intelligence on the subject of Home Missions, and the medium through which the numerous local societies may communicate with each other. And what gives life and energy to this whole system is, that the National Society, thus sustained, is enabled to employ permanent officers, and be, in effect, constantly in session. This is an advantage which can be enjoyed by no local society, but which is indispensable to the prompt and successful prosecution of the work of missions on a field so extensive and diversified as remains to be occupied in this country.

This plan is also suited to produce a uniformity of operation, and the missionaries of the auxiliaries being also the missionaries of the Parent Society, will be reported as such in our annual alphabetical list, with appropriate marks to denote by what auxiliary society they have been supported. Thus the influence of each auxiliary will be embodied, and an annual report presented, which will embrace the doings of all; the local societies will no longer be regarded as rivals of each other, but fellow labourers in the same field, and the missionaries as belonging to the same family.

AGENCIES.

In portions of the country where it is not deemed expedient to form societies on the foregoing plan, and where the friends of Home Missions prefer the organization of boards of agency to co-operate with the Parent Society, the Executive Committee of the A. H. M. S. will gladly follow the advice of their brethren on the several fields to be occupied, in regard to the appointment of such agencies, and will co-operate with them on substantially the same principles which are embraced in the foregoing stipulations with auxiliary societies. Several such agencies have already been instituted, viz: at Utica, at Geneva, at Philadelphia and Cincinnati, some of which have been in operation several years, and have served the cause with great efficiency. The Executive Committee recommend the organization of similar agencies at other central points where the field of operation may be sufficiently extensive, and where their necessity is not precluded by the existence of other organizations.

SMALLER SOCIETIES.

Within the limits of each larger society, there should be organized auxiliary societies or associations. Of these associations it is recommended that there be formed two in each town, parish, or congregation, the one composed of males, and the other of females; and that they adopt the following

RULES

For the Government of Church [or Congregational] Associations [or Societies] for Home Missions.

1. This association shall be called the [or Female] Missionary Association [or Society,] of Church, [or Congregation,] auxiliary to the American Home Missionary Society, [or the Auxiliary Society of .]

2. Every person who shall contribute annually to the funds, shall be a member.

3. *The affairs of the association shall be conducted by a first and second director, [or directress,] a secretary, a treasurer, and collectors, who shall be chosen annually, and together shall constitute a committee.

4. It shall be the duty of the committee to meet at least once in three months, to appoint assistant collectors, and transact such other business as may come before them.

5. The first director, [or directress,] and in case of his [or her] absence, the second director, [or directress,] shall preside in all meetings of the association, and shall have power to call special meetings at pleasure.

The secretary shall keep the records, and manage the correspondence.

The treasurer shall take charge of the money collected, and after deducting incidental expenses, shall pay the same to the American Home Missionary Society, [or to the Auxiliary Society of .]

It shall be the duty of the collectors to solicit and receive contributions. For this purpose they shall make a suitable division of their labours, call upon the individuals within their respective limits, take the names of persons disposed to contribute, together with the sums which they will give for the year, and shall pay the amount of their collections to the treasurer, previous to the next annual meeting of the association.

6. The association shall meet annually, on the second Monday in March of each year, when the Report shall be read, and the election of officers held; and when these rules may be altered by a vote of two thirds of the members present.

7. The Annual Report of this association shall be transmitted by the secretary, to the secretary of the American Home Missionary Society, [or the Auxiliary Society of .] immediately after the annual meeting of the association.

* Or, if it be preferred, the third article may read as follows: "The affairs of this association shall be conducted by the Elders [or deacons] of this church, who shall annually appoint, from their own number, a first and second director, a secretary, a treasurer and collectors; and these together shall constitute a committee."
